SECTION II.—RULES PRESCRIBED IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTIONS 11 AND 13, ACT VII (B.C.) OF 1864, FOR REGULATING THE MANUFACTURE, DEPOSIT, TRANSPORT, AND SALE OF SALT, AND FOR SECURING THE PAYMENT OF DUTY THEREON.

Manufacture of Salt.

1. Every application for a license to manufacture salt, under the provisions of section 7 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, shall be presented to the Collector of the district where the manufacture is intended to be carried on, who, after the applicant has executed an agreement (Form A, appendix), shall forward it to the Board of Revenue through the Commissioner of the Division, with an expression of his opinion as to whether the application should be granted or not. In the former case, after ascertaining the boundaries within which the manufacture is to be carried on and the area of the land, the Collector should consult with the District Superintendent of Police, and report the strength and cost of the preventive guard which should be entertained; in the latter full reasons for rejecting the application should be recorded. Where the license is recommended for sanction, the stamp for the license should be realized and remitted, or a certificate given of the amount being credited in the treasury accounts.

2. The Board of Revenue shall have full power to approve or to reject any such application for the manufacture of salt, and the orders of the Board shall be final.

3. Immediately upon any application for license to manufacture salt being sanctioned, the applicant shall execute an agreement (Form I, appendix), and shall thereupon receive from the Board of Revenue a license (Form 2, appendix), the currency of which shall not extend beyond one year.

4. In addition to the preventive guard to be appointed, subject to the approval of the Board, with a view to prevent smuggling and to protect the revenue, the Collector shall appoint in every case, subject to the approval and control of the Commissioner, an excise establishment, as marginally noted, for the purpose of supervising the weighment of the salt prior to removal to the warehouse. The pass officer shall be called upon to furnish such security as may be required by the Board of Revenue, and he shall nominate for the Collector's approval the mohurir to be appointed under his own responsibility. The Board of Revenue shall have full power at their discretion to modify or increase the cost and strength of the excise establishment when necessary.

	Rs.
1 Pass Officer at ...	40
1 Mohurir for each depôt ...	10
Contingencies	1
Total ...	51

5. The pay of the preventive guard and of the excise establishment shall be defrayed by the manufacturer, and shall be disbursed by the Collector, who will be held responsible that the necessary amount is paid to him, or to any one whom he may appoint to receive it, on or before the fifteenth day preceding the close of the month for which it is due. The payment of the sum fixed forms one of the conditions no which the license specified in Rule 3 is granted, and should be provided for in the agreement mentioned in the same rule, a clause being inserted to the effect that, on default of such payment within the specified time, the license may be cancelled, and all salt manufactured under the license at the place of manufacture attached and confiscated. The salt so confiscated should be sold by auction at the highest price bid above the duty, and the sale-proceeds should be applied, after paying the duty, to defray the charges on account of the guard and excise establishment and the costs incurred, the balance being made over to the defaulter. If the proceeds should not suffice to pay the duty and charges, the balance may be realized by the sale of any other salt belonging to the defaulter.

In the district of Midnapore, however, the cost of these establishments will be defrayed by Government, except in cases in which the outturn of the manufacture yields a revenue less than 20 times the cost of establishment, when the cost shall be defrayed by the manufacturer.

6. Before manufacture is allowed to commence, the land within which the actual manufacture is to be carried on must be carefully marked out by a shallow trench; all necessary arrangements must be made and concluded in regard to the appointment of the preventive guards and excise officers; and, as required by section 10, Act VII(B.C.) of 1864, a proper and secure warehouse must be provided by the manufacturer and be approved of by the Board of Revenue. The manufacturer should give six days' notice of the date on which he intends to commence manufacture, and the pay of the guard shall commence from that date. He should also notify the date of close of manufacture, and the appliances of manufacture should be either removed or destroyed; and until they are so removed or destroyed, the manufacturer will be required to pay for the guard. Suitable huts should be provided and kept in repair by the manufacturer for the use of the guard, failing which the Collector may build and repair such huts, and levy the cost by sale of the salt, or cancel the license as for a default in payment of wages.

7. The Collector should ascertain how much salt each chula or furnace can produce in a working day, and the pass officer must insist on the chulia, or mate in charge of each furnace, sending that quantity to the chatee or depôt. The day's outturn should be brought to the depôt at a fixed hour, from one hour before sunset till sunset. The pass officer should receive the salt and measure it in standard baskets or boxes supplied by the Collector, and make a note of which furnaces it comes from, so as to secure the full complement from each furnace. If any furnace falls short of the ascertained quantity, the mate of that furnace should be called to account. The standardbasket or box shall contain exactly one maund of 40 seers at 80 tolahs to the seer.

8. The pass officer shall send to the Collector daily a copy of his record showing how many baskets or boxes of salt have been received at the depôt. This record shall be kept in cheque-books similar to those used by pass officers for protection of salt on its way to the aurungs.

9. The manufacture of salt shall be closed on such date as the Board of Revenue may be pleased to prescribe in each case, the date being specified in the license of each manufacturer. All salt manufactured after that date shall be held to be salt manufactured without a license, and the provisions of Sections 5 and 6, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, shall apply to such salt and to its manufacturer. The license also shall be liable to be cancelled.

10. Within one month from the date of the closing of his manufacture, every licensed manufacturer of salt shall notify to the Collector, for the information of the Board of Revenue, the quantity of salt manufactured by him during the season. Should the manufacturer, without sufficient cause, fail to give this information within the prescribed period, or should he wilfully furnish incorrect information, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs 500; in the latter case all salt in excess of the quantity notified by him shall be held to be contraband, and shall be liable to seizure and confiscation as such. The license also shall be liable to be cancelled.

Deposit of Salt.

11. The Board of Revenue may appoint the Collector of the district, or other officer specially selected for the purpose, to exercise a general control and supervision over all warehouses provided by manufacturers of salt under the requirements of section 10 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864. For each warehouse the Collector shall appoint, subject to the approval and control of the Commissioner, an excise establishment as marginally noted: the cost of such establishment to be paid by the manufacturer. The Darogah shall be called on to furnish security of such amount as may be required by the Board of Revenue, and all the provisions of Rule 5, with regard to the payment of the salary of the establishments therein provided for, with regard to the duties and responsibilities of the Collector, and with regard to the realization of arrears of salary, shall be applicable in the case of establishments appointed under this rule. The Board of Revenue shall have full power at their discretion to modify the scale of establishment when there are two or more warehouses in the same or adjacent places. No warehouse shall be approved unless on measurement it be found capable of containing at least 10,000 maunds of salt.

	Rs.
1 Darogah at ...	40
2 Peons at Rs. 5 each ...	10
Contingencies ...	1
Total ...	51

12. All salt manufactured under excise license which may remain unstored at the salt-work fifteen days after the date fixed in the license for the closing of the manufacture shall, unless the storage thereof shall have been unavoidably prevented, be destroyed by the officers appointed under Rule 4.

13. Every warehouse, when approved of by the Board of Revenue, shall be regularly licensed, and every manufacturer shall forthwith cause to be painted, or otherwise exhibited in a conspicuous part of the exterior of such warehouse, the number of the license, the year in which it was granted, and the words "Licensed Warehouse" in the vernacular language and character of the district. Before a warehouse is built, the proposed site should be approved by the Collector of the district. Suitable huts should be provided and kept in repair by the manufacturer for the use of the warehouse establishment, failing which the Collector may build and repair such huts and levy the cost by sale of the salt or cancel the golah license as for a default in payment of wages. The Commissioner of the Division may, from time to time, cause any licensed warehouse to be inspected by the Collector of the district or other officer appointed under Rule 11, and should it appear that from want of repair or from any other cause such warehouse has become an unfit receptacle for the storage of salt, may require the manufacturer to repair or otherwise render it fit for that purpose, and in the event of his failing so to do, may cancel the license of such warehouse. In the absence of special orders directing an inspection, District Collectors are required to visit each warehouse at least twice in the course of a year, or to depute an Assistant or Deputy Collector for the purpose. The results of such inspections should be reported to the Board through the Commissioner. The Commissioner will report to the Board only when a golah is so much out of repair as to render cancelment of license necessary.

14. When a manufacturer desires to remove any salt from his salt-works for the purpose of storing it, he shall cause it to be weighed and packed for transport in the presence of the officer who may have been appointed to this duty under Rule 4. When ready for despatch, such officer shall carefully impress the salt all over, when packed in bulk, with a wooden stamp (adul) supplied for the purpose; but when put up into bags, the mouth of every bag shall be closed with sealing-wax, and a seal, with a clear and distinct device, affixed thereto, in not less than two places, and the aforesaid officer shall also grant a pass to protect the salt during transit.

15. The pass (Form 3, appendix) shall specify the name of the manufacturer, the number of his license, the route by which the salt is to be transported, the weight of the salt, and the date of despatch. It shall also be numbered and signed by the officer granting it.

16. A separate pass shall be granted for every despatch of salt; but if it be despatched by means of coolies or bullocks, one pass shall be sufficient for every gang of coolies or drove of bullocks; and in such case, in addition to the particulars stated in Rule 15, the pass shall specify the number of coolies or bullocks employed in carrying the salt, as well as the number of baskets, bags, or packs used. A gang of coolies shall be taken to mean any number of coolies not exceeding fifty, and a drove of bullocks any number not exceeding twenty-five. A responsible Churrundar shall accompany each despatch, who should sign all three foils of the Pass Officer's pass, thus:—

"Received the above salt in full.

(Sd.)

Dated Churrundar."

17. A copy of every pass granted under the foregoing rules shall be forwarded by the officer granting it to the Collector of the district or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11.

18. The arrival at any licensed warehouse of salt despatched from the salt-works shall at once be reported to the officer in charge of the warehouse, who shall, without delay, examine its condition, the state of the stamps or seals, as the case may be, and the pass covering the salt. The pass shall then be forwarded in original, duly effaced, and with an endorsement mentioning whether permission to store the salt has been granted or not, to the Collector of the district or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11, and a copy shall be retained for record by the officer in charge of the ware-house.

19. On the police informing the officer in charge of a warehouse that they suspect that a despatch of salt has been tampered with en route from the salt-works, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall put aside all bags reported as suspicious by the police until orders are passed in the case.

20. If the officer in charge of the warehouse be satisfied that the rules laid down above have been in no way infringed, he shall thereupon permit the manufacturer to store the salt in the warehouse.

21. If, however, on examination it be found that the despatch of salt has been tampered with, or that the quantity of salt is likely to be more than one per cent. less than the quantity specified in the pass, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall be empowered to seize and weigh the entire despatch of salt. If the deficiency in weight exceeds the above limit, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall record the explanation of the manufacturer, or his duly accredited servant in charge thereof, and shall report the case to the Collector of the district, or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11, who shall transmit the papers, with his opinion on the case, for the orders of the Board of Revenue, who may direct confiscation of the entire despatch as contraband. The Board may also, if they see fit, at once cancel the manufacturer's license. The manufacturer shall further be liable for the amount of duty that would be leviable on the deficiency in excess of one per cent.

22. On obtaining the permission of the officer in charge of the warehouse, the salt shall be stored therein by the servants, and at the expense of the manufacturer, in the presence of such officer. If the correctness of the pass protecting the salt is admitted by the officer in charge of the warehouse, he shall enter the weight of the salt as therein stated in the daily store account which he is required to keep.

23. Every licensed warehouse shall be secured by two padlocks supplied by the manufacturer on approval by the officer in charge thereof, the key of one lock being retained by the person owning the salt, or by some person on his behalf, and the key of the second lock by the officer in charge of the warehouse.

24. When a warehouse shall have been stored with salt and before any sales can be permitted, the manufacturer, owner or mortgagee of the salt shall enter into a bond (Form 4, appendix) for payment of the amount of duty, as well as other charges leviable thereon; and he shall further bind himself to discharge, without objection, any duty that may be adjudged against him by the Commissioner of the Division on account of any excess or penalty duty in consequence of any deficiency (beyond the usual allowance of 2½ per cent as wastage) of salt found in his warehouse at the time of clearance.

25. No bond shall be taken for a period exceeding three years; but on expiry of that period, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, a renewed bond may be executed for a further term of two years. Applications for the renewal of bonds about to expire shall be presented to the Board of Revenue at least two months previous to their expiry

26. No salt shall on any account be removed from a licensed warehouse before the permission of the Commissioner of the Division has been accorded to commence sales, and any act in violation thereof shall subject the manufacturer, owner or mortgagee of the same to a penalty of Rs. 500, and the salt thus removed shall be seized and confiscated: provided that nothing in this rule shall be held to prevent Government proceeding, if it see fit, under section 16 of the Act.

27. The salt of the manufacture of each year and that under each license shall, if possible, be separately stored, and every act in violation of this rule shall subject the whole of the salt within the warehouse to seizure and confiscation.

Transport and Sale of Salt.

28. In addition to the special rowannahs prescribed by section 19 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, rowannahs shall be of two kinds—

1*st*.—The wholesale rowannah required to protect all salt removed immediately from warehouses or ships.

2*nd*.—The retail rowannah required for the protection of salt, being a portion of an original despatch covered by a wholesale or special rowannah, but separated therefrom for purposes of sale or otherwise.

29. Retail rowannahs shall further be sub-divided into two kinds:—

1*st*.—The atrafee rowannah required to protect salt which it may be intended to convey beyond the limits of the police-station within which it may at the time be stored.

2*nd*.—The charchittee required to protect salt which it may be intended to retain for sale within the limits of the police-station within which it may at the time be stored.

3*rd*.—In addition to the above two kinds of retail rowannah, a third kind of retail rowannah to be called sub-char chittee, shall be current in the district of Backergunge. This sub-charchittee, like the retail rowannah No. 2, shall protect salt which it may be intended to retain for sale within the limits of the police-station within which it may at the time be stored.

30. Wholesale rowannahs shall be granted only by the Board of Revenue, or such District Collectors as may be authorized to issue the same, on application being presented on stamped paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the Board, and on the payment of certain fees specified in the schedule hereto annexed. The rowannah (Forms 5 and 6, appendix) shall specify—

1*st*.—The quantity of salt to be transported under its protection;

2*nd*.—The description of salt;

3*rd*.—The place whence the salt is deliverable;

4*th*.—The mode of conveyance;

5*th*.—The destination of the salt; and

6*th*—The route by which the salt shall be conveyed.

All special and wholesale rowannahs taken out for the removal of salt, either from boardship, or from bonded golahs under Government, or from private golahs in the excepted limits of Calcutta, shall have a currency of not more than six months. Such rowannahs as are taken out for the protection of salt destined for places not within the limits notified under section 12 of the Act, and which have to be surrendered before passing out of the said limits at the last police-station within those limits, shall on no occasion be current for more than fifteen days if the pass station at which the rowannah has to be delivered up is Bally; or for more than one month in any other case.

The holder of a wholesale rowannah the currency of which is about to expire, may apply to the Board of Revenue, or to the District Collector by whom the rowannah was issued, on stamped paper of the value of one rupee, for a renewed rowannah, which shall be granted on sufficient cause being shown, and on the salt being identified satisfactorily. Collectors should submit weekly to the Commissioner a list of the renewed rowannahs; and should keep a register of all rowannahs they issue.

The holder of a rowannah for the transport of salt from the bonded golahs or from shipboard into the protected limits vid the Chitpore pass station will be at liberty to choose any of the following routes:—

(1)—By the river Hooghly by boat.

(2)—By boat to the Ruthtollah Ghât pass station, and thence by the Port Commissioners' tramway and by rail.

The route chosen must be declared when the rowannah is taken out, and the Customs Officer on board the ship from which the salt is delivered will make out the boat-notes according to the route chosen. If the holder of the rowannah wishes to alter the route, he can do so by applying to the Board as provided in Rule 31.

31. If any person who shall have become possessed of a wholesale rowannah shall desire to make any alteration in the terms specified therein, permissible under these rules, he may, by application to the Board of Revenue, or to the District Collector, if authorized to grant the original rowannah, on stamped paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the said Board, and on payment of the fees specified in the schedules hereto annexed, obtain an exchange rowannah (Form 7, appendix), which shall, for all the purposes of the Act and of these rules, be considered to be a wholesale rowannah.

32. Blank forms of retail rowannahs of all kinds shall be obtainable from the Collector of the district, or from the Deputy Collector in charge of the sub-division within which the salt is stored at the time of application, provided such officer shall have been empowered by the Collector to grant such rowannahs.

At places situated at a long distance from the Collectorate or the sub-divisional office, the Collector is further empowered to entrust the distribution of the forms, duly signed and sealed, to the police in charge of the Division within the limits of which the salt is stored at the time for sale.

A retail rowannah shall specify—

1*st*.—The quantity and description of salt covered by it;
2*nd*.—The time for which it is current;
3*rd*.—The number and date of the rowannah from which the salt was obtained;
4*th*.—The destination of the salt;
5*th*.—The route by which the salt shall be carried;
6*th*.—The mode of conveyance; and
7*th*.—The name of the consignee or purchaser.

The salt covered by the atrafee rowannah (Form 8, appendix) and charchittee (Form 9, appendix) shall in no case exceed one hundred maunds.

The salt covered by the sub-charchittee (Form 10, appendix) in Backergunge shall in no case exceed five maunds.

The currency of the atrafee rowannah and the charchittee shall in no case exceed six months.

The currency of the sub-charchittee in Backergunge shall in no case exceed one month.

33. A fee of four annas shall be levied on every retail rowannah No. 1.*

34. Wholesale rowannah-holders are hereby empowered to issue to furriahs, or retail vendors, retail rowannahs of all descriptions specified in Rule 29; and holders of retail rowannahs No. 1 are similarly empowered to issue retail rowannahs No. 2 to furriahs or retail vendors; and in Backergunge, holders of retail rowannahs No. 2 are likewise similarly empowered to issue retail rowannahs No. 3 to other furriahs or retail vendors.

Any rowannahdar selling more than five seers of salt to any person shall be bound to furnish the purchaser with such protective documents as may be required.

35. Special rowannahs granted under section 19 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864 shall, as nearly as possible, resemble wholesale rowannahs, and the rules regarding wholesale rowannahs shall also apply to them. Salt conveyed into the limits notified under section 12 of the Act from ships or warehouses in Calcutta and Howrah will require to be protected by a special rowannah (Form 6, vide clause 30).

36. In addition to those mentioned in Rule 30, the following particulars shall be entered in all special rowannahs (Form 11, appendix) for the removal of salt from private golahs in Calcutta:—

1*st*.—The names of the manjees in whose boats the salt has been loaded;
2*nd*.—The license numbers of such boats; and
3*rd*.—The date or dates on which salt was loaded into the boats.

36. (a) Every application for a "certificate" (Form 12, appendix) for landing salt from shipboard, or for removing it from the bonded golahs into the excepted limits of Calcutta and Howrah, must in future be made to the Collector of Customs instead of to the Board of Revenue, and any person attempting to land salt within such limits without having taken out such certificate will be liable to the penalties provided under the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878.

(b) In granting a rowannah for salt which is to be conveyed out of the excepted limits of Calcutta into protected limits, the Board will require the applicant for the rowannah to give the full particulars of the certificate under which it was landed in Calcutta.

* A atfee rowannah.

(c) If the holder of a rowannah issued by the Board of Revenue for salt to be taken from shipboard out of the excepted limits desires to land the whole or any portion of such salt within the excepted limits, he must apply for the Board's orders to cancel the original rowannah. On his application being granted, he will, on payment of the usual fees, be furnished with a letter of advice to the Collector of Customs for the issue of a "certificate" in respect of the whole or such portion of the salt, as he desires to land within the excepted limits of Calcutta, and, if necessary, with an "exchange rowannah" in respect of the balance to be taken beyond the excepted limits.

37. Within twenty-four hours after the completion of deliveries of salt from boardship upon rowannahs, the holders thereof must present them at the Board's office for the purpose of having the endorsements made on them by the preventive officers examined. This rule will not prevent salt merchants removing their salt-laden boats from the ship's side to safe and convenient places in the river under the boat-notes previously granted by the preventive officers. Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this rule shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 100.

38. Every wholesale and every retail rowannah shall always be kept with the salt to which it refers, and on demand by any police officer above the rank of constable shall be forthwith produced for examination. If the rowannah be not forthcoming, the salt shall be seized and proceedings taken under section 16 of the Act. If the rowannah be produced after the seizure of the salt, the matter shall be reported for the orders of the Board.

39. If any person holding a rowannah shall fail to comply with the provisions of section 22 of the Act, such person shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500. When the salt specified in a rowannah is disposed of within the limits laid down under section 12 of the Act, the rowannahdar is hereby required to deliver up his protective document as directed by the law, within seven days of the date of the sale of the last parcel of salt covered by such document. Omission to do so will be held to constitute a breach of the provisions of section 22 of the Act.

40. Every person in charge of salt in transit within the limits notified under section 12 of the Act shall be bound to stop at every police pass station upon the line of route laid down in his rowannah, whether wholesale or retail, and shall present his rowannah to the chief officer at such station for endorsement, and shall, if required, allow his salt to be examined. Failure to comply with this rule will render such person liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500; and if it shall appear to the officer trying the case that the omission was made with a fraudulent intent, he shall direct the salt to be confiscated.

41. The proprietor of any salt, the rowannah of which shall not be endorsed in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500, and if it shall appear to the officer trying the case that the omission was made with fraudulent intent, he shall direct the salt to be confiscated: provided that the person in charge of the salt, referred to in Rule 40, and the proprietor of the salt, referred to in this rule, shall not both be fined in respect of the same omission.

42. If the police in charge of the last pass station on any route have reason to suspect that a boat laden with salt is passing the station without stopping to give up the rowannah, they shall follow the boat, and on overtaking it, if the parties are known, the police should apply to the Magistrate for a summons against them under section 204 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act X of 1882). If, however, the police have reason to believe that the accused are about to abscond, they should request the Magistrate to issue a warrant instead of a summons in the first instance, as provided in section 90. If the parties are unknown, the police should act under the provisions of section 57 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and detain them in order to ascertain their names and address. If the names and address given are believed to be correct, summons should be applied for as indicated above; if the names and address given are believed to be false, the parties should be forwarded to the Magistrate in the manner prescribed in section 57 above referred to.

43. The names of police pass stations at which it will be necessary for proprietors of salt to have their salt and passes examined and endorsed shall be notified from time to time in the Calcutta and Exchange Gazettes.

44. On a despatch of salt covered by a wholesale or atrafee rowannah arriving at the warehouse or shop of any salt trader situated in any place within the limits notified in section 12 of the Act, the proprietor shall, within twenty-four hours, notify its arrival in writing to the Collector of the district, specifying in such notice the description, number, and date of the rowannah, the quantity and description of salt covered by it, and the place whence the salt was obtained. Omission or neglect to comply with this rule shall render such trader liable to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 10 for each offence.

45. Every salt trader carrying on business within the limits, notified under section 12 of the Act shall, on the 1st of every month submit to the Sub-divisional Officer within whose jurisdiction he resides or to the nearest Abkaree Darogah, or nearest police-station or outpost for transmission to the Sub-divisional Officer, a signed statement specifying the quantity of salt sold under each wholesale or atrafee rowannah in his hands during the previous month, as well as the quantity of salt remaining in store under each such document on the last day of such month. Omission or neglect to comply with this rule shall subject such trader to a fine of Rs. 20 for each offence. The Sub-divisional Officer will forward the returns to the Collector with his remarks.

A register showing the sales of salt by each wholesale and retail trader in each month should be kept by the Sub-divisional Officer in the following form:—

Month.	Name of vendor and locality.	Wholesale sale.	Retail sale.

46. The Board of Revenue shall, from time to time, prescribe forms for the agreements, applications, bonds, licenses, rowannahs, and other documents required under the above rules.

Proviso.—When more than one rowannah is taken out by the same purchaser for salt on board the same ship, the person taking out the rowannahs shall only pay the same sum for all the rowannahs as he would have done had he taken out a single rowannah for the amount covered by all of them.

SECTION III.—PASS STATIONS.

The following is a list of the pass stations, which have been notified in accordance with clause 43 of the preceding section, and at which rowannahs or passes protecting salt in transit, will be examined and endorsed :—

SECTION IV.—RULES REGARDING STATISTICS OF CONSUMPTION OF SALT IN DISTRICTS SITUATED WITHIN CHOWKEY LIMITS.

1. As salt is capable of being smuggled into, or manufactured in almost every district within the limits subject to Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, and the rules published by the Bengal Government, it is especially necessary, next to the supervision within those limits of the transport of salt for trade in the interior, to watch carefully the consumption of licit salt, in order to detect at once the existence of an illicit supply.

The smuggler or the illicit manufacturer need not go far to find a ready market for his untaxed salt, but the sale and consumption of such salt would immediately affect the transactions of the legitimate trader.

2. Under clauses 44 and 45 of the preceding section, all traders in salt holding wholesale or atrafee rowannahs are required to inform district officers of all importations of salt, and to furnish them with monthly returns, showing the quantity of their stocks and the amount of salt sold. An intelligent comparison of the figures in these returns with those of previous months, and relatively with those received from other quarters of the same district, after making proper allowance, if necessary, for any differences in the number of population, should at once show if the revenue has been defrauded or not, and the quarter in which it is probable the smuggling or illicit manufacture has been carried on.

3. Returns are only required from holders of wholesale and atrafee rowannahs. It has been held sufficient for all useful purposes to assume that all char—sold salt has passed into consumption, but though returns for any statistical purposes are not necessary from petty vendors holding charchittees, the proceedings of all such vendors are required to be recorded on their protective documents under the provisions of sections 20 and 21 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, and are at all times open to the inspection of the police. Holders of charchittees are required, as are other traders, to give up their protective documents under section 22 of the law, when the last parcel of the salt covered by it has been disposed of.

4. In order to furnish district officers with the necessary information to enable them to check the proceedings of wholesale rowannahdars, to exact reports of the arrival of salt within their district under clause 44 of the preceding section, and to punish all breaches of clause 45, advices of wholesale rowannahs granted in Calcutta are forwarded by the Board to the Collector of the district for which the rowannah is taken out. Similarly district officers should require wholesale rowannahdars to submit, with their monthly returns, copies of all atrafee rowannahs granted by them. Those referring to salt transported to other districts within chowkey limits should be immediately on receipt transmitted to the Collector of the district in which the rowannah has currency.

5. At the instance of the Board of Revenue, the Inspector-General of Police has issued orders to the officers of police in charge of the several pass-stations to furnish details of rowannahs endorsed by them to the police through whose districts the salt may have to pass to its destination.

6. Returns are to be required from the holders of wholesale and atrafee rowannahs in the Board's Miscellaneous Form No. 11 (Form 13, appendix). Copies of these forms in the vernacular should be obtained from the Superintendent of Stationery, and should be supplied to the above-named traders.

7. To insure uniformity of practice, and to obviate the possibility of any misapprehension and confusion in the comparison and examination of returns, and in drawing up the quarterly statements of the consumption of salt required by the Board of Revenue, the following directions should be strictly followed :—

Wholesale Rowannahdars.

Wholesale rowannahs issued by district officers.

8. On the issue of every wholesale rowannah by a district officer, he will enter the particulars of the same in a register (in Form 14 of the Appendix), if for his own district, but if for another district, he will forward copy to the Collector of the district to which the rowannah is addressed.

Wholesale rowannahs granted by the Board of Revenue.

Similarly, he will enter in the same register the particulars of every wholesale rowannah issued by the Board.

Entry of arrival of salt and receipt of notice.

9. On receiving the intimation of arrival of the salt at its destination required by clause 44, the district officer will enter the date of arrival and date of receipt of notice of the same.

Procedure if notice of arrival be not received.

10. If the intimation required by clause 44 be not received within one month of the date of issue of the rowannah as notified to the Collector, he shall cause enquiry to be made whether the salt has arrived at its destination, and such enquiry should be repeated monthly till it does arrive. Default on the part of the rowannah-holder to report arrival of the salt according to clause 44 should always be met with fine.

Procedure on receipt of monthly return of sale.

11. On receipt of the monthly return of sales from wholesale and atrafee rowannahdars (Board's Miscellaneous Form No. 11, with its enclosed copies of atrafee rowannahs), the district officer shall register the total amount of salt sold, and the date of receipt of the return, a separate page in the Register being set apart for the returns received from within the precincts of each police-station within the district.

Procedure on non-receipt.

12. If the return of sales for any month with its enclosures be not received by the 10th of the next succeeding month, the district officer shall summon the wholesale rowannahdar to show cause why he should not be fined under clause 45.

Procedure on lapse of any wholesale rowannah.

13. On expiry of the term of any wholesale rowannah, or on the receipt at an earlier date of returns of sale covering the whole amount of salt for which the rowannah may have been granted, the word "Closed" shall be written across the remaining monthly columns of the register showing that no further returns are necessary.

Procedure on receipt of expired wholesale rowannah.

14. On the receipt of an expired wholesale rowannah returned under section 22 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, the date of return shall be entered in the register.

Procedure on non-receipt of expired rowannah.

15. If the expired wholesale rowannah be not received within seven days of the date of its expiry, the district officer shall summon the rowannahdar to show cause why he should not be fined under clause 39 of Section II.

Atrafee Rowannahdars.

16. On receipt from any wholesale rowannahdar of the copies of atrafee rowannahs granted by him, which copies should accompany his monthly return (Board's Miscellaneous Form No. 11), all copies of atrafee rowannahs entered in column 6 of the form should be at once transmitted to the Collector of the district in which the rowannahs have currency.

Procedure on receipt of copies of atrafee rowannahs included in column 6.

17. Details of all copies of atrafee rowannahs included in column 5 should be entered in the register of atrafee rowannahs (in Form 15 of the appendix). Similarly, every district officer on receipt from the officer of another district of copies of atrafee rowannahs granted by wholesale rowannahdars of another district, but having currency in his own, shall register the same in his register of atrafee rowannahs, and proceed as if the said copies had been furnished to him by a wholesale rowannahdar of his own district.

Procedure on receipt of copies of atrafee rowannahs included in column 5.

18. On receipt of the notice of the arrival of salt covered by an atrafee rowannah at its destination required by clause 44, the district officer shall register the fact of its arrival and the date of receipt of notice.

Procedure on receipt of notice of arrival of salt.

19 If the intimation required by clause 44 be not received within one month of the date of issue of the rowannah as notified to the Collector, he shall cause enquiry to be made whether the salt has arrived at its destination, and such enquiry should be repeated monthly till it does arrive. Default on the part of the rowannah-holders to report arrival of the salt according to clause 44 should always be met with fine.

Procedure if notice of arrival be not received.

20. On receipt of the monthly return of sales from atrafee rowannahdars, the district officer shall register the total amount of salt sold and the date of receipt of returns.

Procedure on receipt of monthly return of sales.

21. If the return of sales for any month be not received from any atrafee rowannahdar by the tenth day of the next succeeding month, the district officer shall summon the atrafee rowannahdar to show cause why he should not be fined under clause 45.

Procedure on non-receipt.

22. On the expiry of the term of any atrafee rowannah, or on the receipt at an earlier date of returns of sale covering the whole amount of salt for which the atrafee rowannah may have been granted, the word "Closed" shall be written across the remaining monthly columns of the register showing that no further returns are necessary.

Procedure on expiry of any atrafee rowannah.

23. On the receipt of an expired atrafee rowannah returned under section 22 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, the district officer shall enter the date of its return in the register.

Procedure on receipt of an expired atrafee rowannah.

24. If an expired atrafee rowannah be not received within seven days of its expiry, the district officer shall summon the atrafee rowannahdar to show cause why he should not be fined under clause 39.

General.

25. The registers are to be rewritten at the close of each official year, omitting the entries of all rowannahs of which the term has expired, and which have been duly delivered up under section 22 of the Act.

26. On the receipt of the monthly returns of wholesale rowannahdars, with the enclosed copies of atrafee rowannahs, the district officer shall file them, preserving a separate bundle for each wholesale rowannah for each month. To each bundle shall be added the returns for the same month of the atrafee rowannahdars who have been supplied under the same wholesale rowannah. Thus the record of all transactions, wholesale and retail, primary and secondary, under one wholesale rowannah for each month, will be collected into a single bundle by the middle of the succeeding month To this will be added a fly-leaf showing the registered number of the wholesale rowannah and the name of the month.

27. Thus the returns of salt consumed during any quarter may always be found by taking each monthly bundle and adding together all the entries of columns 7 and 8 of the return submitted by wholesale rowannahdars, and column 5 of that furnished by atrafee rowannahdars, and then adding together the sum of the totals of all the monthly bundles.

28. All the atrafee rowannahs received under section 17 of these rules from other districts, as they will be independent of all wholesale rowannahs current in the district, must be gathered into a single monthly bundle, to which will be added a fly-leaf bearing the name of the month and the words "Atrafee Rowannahs from other Districts." Returns of sales under such rowannahs will be filed with the same bundle.

29. Salt is only said to "pass into consumption" when it is sold direct to consumers, or sold under charchittees, that is, sold for resale within the limits of the police-station within which it is stored. It must therefore be distinctly understood that the issues from bonded golahs can never be any criterion of the consumption of salt in a district, as these issues include salt intended for exportation to other districts, as well as that retained in store by wholesale rowannahdars.

30. If on a comparison of the quarterly sales it is observed that there has been a falling off in the quantity of salt sold for consumption, the district officer should immediately ascertain from a careful examination of his returns, the quarter of his district in which such decreased sales have occurred, and should immediately communicate with the District Superintendent of Police on the subject. When submitting their quarterly returns to the Board, district officers should give full details of the action they may have taken under the above directions, and of the causes of decreased sale when such occur.

SECTION V.—RULES REGARDING THE CREDITING OF FINES AND DISBURSEMENTS OF REWARDS, ACT VII (B.C.) OF 1864.

1. All fines and penalties levied by magisterial officers from offenders against the salt law and the rules published by the Government are to be credited under the head "Law and Justice," in accordance with the orders of the Government of India, Financial Department, No. 2139, dated the 11th August 1879.

2. The Board attach great importance to the prompt payment of all rewards to informers and seizing officers in salt cases. Rewards should, therefore, be immediately paid from the treasury or sub-treasury, as the case may be, and debited to the Salt Department. The delay which must often occur in realising the fines and penalties imposed, and before the sanction of the Board can be accorded under section 39 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864 to the sale of confiscated salt, will thus be obviated.

3. When salt is confiscated, the police should be directed to take charge of the same until the expiration of three months from the date of the final order, when application should be made to the Board for sanction to the sale, and to the credit of the proceeds to the head "Law and Justice." Any small quantities, however, of confiscated salt less than ten maunds in weight should be sold at once, as it is liable to loss by wastage. As in the case of fines, the proceeds of such sales should be immediately credited to the head "Law and Justice."

4. Confiscated salt should not be sold for less than the duty; and if the place of sale is within rowannah limits, purchasers should be directed to apply to the Collector for the necessary protective documents, in order to enable them to remove the salt if in excess of five seers. In the event of no offer being made sufficiently high to cover the Government duty, the salt, if not exceeding one maund, should be destroyed; if a larger quantity, the Board's orders should be applied for.

5. Except with the special sanction of the Board, the rewards adjudged in salt cases will not exceed the amount of fine imposed, plus the value of the salt confiscated in each case. This value will ordinarily be the price (exclusive of duty) for which the confiscated salt is sold. Should the sale, however, be postponed (under rule 3 above), or the salt destroyed (under rule 4), the value will be estimated by the officer adjudging the reward at a price not exceeding the rate of Government duty.

6. Provided, however, that—

(1) No larger amount than Rs. 100 may be disbursed in any one case before the expiration of the period of appeal, except with the special sanction of the Board, and

(2) In cases in which the fine imposed is not realised, no larger amount than Rs. 100 may be disbursed on account of such fine without the special sanction of the Board.

7. Subject to the restrictions contained in the two preceding rules, Commissioners are authorised to sanction rewards up to the full amount of fine and the value of the salt confiscated in each case, and district officers are authorized to sanction rewards not exceeding

Rs. 20 in each case. When a larger reward than Rs. 20 is deemed expedient, district officers should report the case for the orders of the Commissioner.

8. Magistrates trying cases of illegal manufacture, possession, or transport of salt under sections 5 and 16 to 19 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, are authorised to grant rewards not exceeding the amount of the fine imposed, plus the estimated value of any seizure made, and not exceeding Rs 20 in any one case, to any person or persons who may have contributed to the conviction of the offender. The amount of such reward will not be disbursed from the fine when collected, or from the sale proceeds, but should be at once paid from the sudder or subdivisional treasury, as the case may be, on an order signed by the Magistrate trying the case. The fine and sale proceeds, when realised (in whole or part), will be credited in the treasury in the usual manner. Magistrates granting rewards under this rule should be careful to see that the order for payment is made over in each case to the payee, with directions to present it for encashment at the treasury before he leaves the Court.

9. The above rule applies only to the payment of rewards to private persons and to excise officers, and not to the payment of rewards to police officers. Rewards to police officers should be adjudged in the usual manner by the Collector, and should be disbursed to the District Superintendent of Police for distribution on monthly bills prepared by that officer, as is done in the case of payment of excise rewards. All police officers up to, and inclusive of, the grade of inspectors may participate in the reward.

10. District officers should request all magisterial officers within their districts to send for their perusal all the papers of cases connected with offences against the salt laws immediately such cases are disposed of, together with any recommendations such officers may have to offer as to the payment of any special rewards which may appear to them to be deserved.

11 No time should be lost by the district officer in perusing the record, and in passing such orders as the case may appear to require. Should he consider that the case deserves a reward which it is not within his competency to grant, an immediate reference should be made to the Commissioner for sanction.

12. District officers should show, in the appropriate columns of their half-yearly returns, the sums disbursed during the half-year as rewards, and the sums credited in the treasury on account of fines and forfeitures during the same period.

13. From the papers before them and the information supplied by magisterial officers, collectors are required to draw up and keep a register of salt prosecutions (Form 16 of Appendix). Immediately on receipt of the papers alluded to in Rule 10, the first ten columns, or as many of them as possible, should be filled in, and it will be the duty of the district officer to see that no cause for any delay in the payment of rewards is allowed to exist.

SECTION VI.—PROTECTIVE DOCUMENTS.

1. Wholesale rowannahs for the protection of salt cleared in the district of Chittagong are supplied for the convenience of local traders to the Collector of the district. Application for blank forms should be made to the Board's Office, as all such documents require to be duly numbered and impressed with the seal of the Board's Office. Before issue to traders, the Collector should be careful to levy the fees prescribed at the foot of the Government Notification.

2. Printed forms of the several descriptions of documents noted in the margin should be obtained from the Superintendent of Stationery, a sufficient stock being constantly kept in hand. Atrafee rowannahs, charchittees, and sub-charchittees, otherwise designated retail rowannahs, are the protective documents referred to in Rule 29. Atrafee rowannahs should bear an office number and the Collector's seals and signature before issue. It will be sufficient for all charchittees and sub-charchittees to bear the signature of the sheristadar and the seal of the Collectorate in addition to the register number. Charchittees, and sub-charchittees, should be issued gratis, but a fee of 4 annas should be levied under Rule 33 on all atrafee rowannahs. Deputy Collectors of subdivisions must be supplied by Collectors with the above forms according to their requirements.

Atrafee rowannahs; charchittee rowannahs; sub-charchittee rowannahs; challans.

SECTION VII.—STATEMENTS AND RETURNS.

1. Quarterly returns showing the consumption of salt in each district, and yearly returns showing the number and result of prosecutions instituted for offences against the Salt Law and Rules, are to be drawn up in the annexed Forms XXIV (Form 17, Appendix) and XXV (Form 18, Appendix). These returns should be forwarded by the Collectors of the districts marginally noted to their respective Divisional Commissioners not later than fifteen days after the close of each quarter and year, so as to enable Commissioners to prepare and submit their reports to the Board before the end of the same month. Copies of these returns should also be furnished to the Board and the District Superintendents of Police.

This return is due fifteen days after the close of the month under report, and should be submitted through the Commissioner.

3. The Collectors of the districts marginally noted, in which warehousing ports have been established under section 14, Act VIII of 1878, are required to furnish half-monthly returns in the annexed Form A (Form 20, Appendix), showing the amount of private salt received into and cleared from bond. These returns also should be submitted through the Commissioner's Office.

4. The Collectors of districts mentioned in Rule 1 are also required to submit direct to the Board quarterly statements in the Form No. XXVI (Form 21, Appendix), showing the receipts and issues of all protective documents.

SECTION VIII.—RULES RELATING TO THE RECEPTION AND CLEARANCE OF SALT SUBSIDIARY TO THOSE CONTAINED IN ACT VIII OF 1878.

Rules for Weighment and Admission of Salt into Warehouses, public or private, under the Customs Law.

1. On receipt of an application under section 91, Act VIII of 1878, for the admission of salt into a public or private warehouse, and after the due execution of a bond under the provisions of section 92, Act VIII of 1878, the Collector of Customs shall make such arrangements as he may deem necessary for the proper weighment of salt during its discharge from the vessel, for the purpose of being conveyed to the appointed licensed warehouse.

Collector to make arrangements for weighment of salt.

2. The weighment shall be conducted in the presence of the preventive officer on board and on his responsibility by weighmen to whom licenses shall have been issued under rules notified by the Board of Revenue with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, and the bonder shall defray all costs of weighment.

Weighment charges.

3. No salt for which the full duty has not been previously paid shall be taken from any vessel, save in a lighter provided with hatches, which are capable of being securely fastened down; and it shall be the duty of the preventive officer on board to satisfy himself that such lighter is in serviceable condition before permitting such salt to be placed therein.

Description of boat to be used.

4. As soon as the bonder or his agent or servant shall notify to the preventive officer that he desires to proceed with any boat-load of salt, he shall obtain a boat-note, in which the name of the importing vessel and of the bonder, the quantity of salt contained therein, and the warehouse wherein it is to be deposited shall be specified. The salt shall thereupon be carefully impressed with a stamp specially provided for this purpose, and the hatches shall be closed and sealed by, or in the presence of, the preventive officer. The lighter shall then be allowed to proceed in charge of a native officer or peon deputed for the purpose by the Custom-house authorities, accompanied by an agent on the part of the bonder.

Procedure on despatch.

5. The boat shall be anchored, if possible, at the steps of the ghât leading to the warehouse in which the salt is to be stored, otherwise at the moorings nearest to such ghât. It shall on no account be permitted by the native Custom-house officer or peon on board to anchor at the outward moorings.

Place of anchorage.

Procedure on arrival.

6. Notice of the arrival of such salt shall at once be given by the Custom house officer to the Government Superintendent in the case of salt to be bonded in a public warehouse, or, if the salt is to be bonded in a private licensed warehouse, to the Inspector or Superintendent of licensed warehouses, who shall thereupon note the date and hour of arrival, bringing any unreasonable delay to the notice of the Collector of Customs, and depute a proper officer to examine and compare the boat-note delivered by the preventive officer to the bonder, his servant, or agent, and the cargo of salt, and to superintend its removal to, and storage in, the appointed warehouse.

Duty of peon and bonder's agent.

7. The bonder's agent and a native Custom-house officer or peon shall remain on board of the boat in charge, until the seals and hatches are examined and all the cargo landed and stored.

Responsibilities of bonder and Superintendent.

8. The bonder will be held responsible for any departure from these rules on the part of his agent, and the Superintendent or Inspector of the warehouse shall take notice of any dereliction of duty on the part of the native Custom-house officer or peon.

Bonder to defray all charges.

9. All expenses connected with the removal and storage of the salt shall be borne by the bonder, who shall also pay to the Collector such fees as he may fix for the services of the officer or peon in charge of the salt from the time of its discharge from the vessel's side to the completion of its storage in the warehouse

Procedure when salt has been tampered with.

10. If the officer appointed by the Superintendent or Inspector of the Government or private licensed warehouse shall have reason to believe that the salt has in any way been tampered with during its transit by river, he shall at once report the circumstance to the Superintendent or Inspector, who, with the permission of the Collector, shall direct the salt to be reweighed, and such reweighment shall be made at the expense of Government.

Penalty when salt is deficient.

11. If there be found any unexplained deficiency in the salt on board the cargo-boat as compared with the quantity specified in the boat-note, the whole of the salt contained in such boat shall be confiscated, and the bond under which the salt is in course of being stored shall be cancelled.

Deficiency satisfactorily explained to be written off.

12. When a deficiency so found is satisfactorily explained and no suspicion of fraud exists, the bonder should apply to have the amount written off from the bond under the orders of the Collector of Customs. The Superintendent will then be authorised to deduct the amount from the total under the bond.

Salt under different bonds to be stored separately.

13. Salt relating to different bonds shall be stored separately and distinctly. Any admixture of salt specified in different bonds shall render those bonds liable to cancelment, and the holders to immediate payment of the full duty payable thereon.

Calculation of duty on delivery from public warehouse.

14. On salt bonded in a warehouse under the exclusive control of a Government warehouse-keeper, the duty shall be calculated on the quantity actually delivered from such warehouse.

Calculation of duty on delivery from private warehouse.

15. On salt bonded in a private licensed warehouse, the duty shall be calculated on the quantity delivered on weighment from the side of the ship in which it was imported, less an allowance on account of wastage, which shall not in ordinary cases exceed 2½ per cent. on the quantity bonded.

Increased allowance for wastage may be allowed.

16. In any special case the Board of Revenue, as Chief Customs Authority of the Presidency, is competent to direct that an increased allowance for wastage shall be granted in accordance with the provision of section 122, Act VIII of 1878.

But not if any suspicion of fraud exists.

17. If the Collector of Customs has any reason to believe that any fraud has been perpetrated by the bonder or owner of the salt, or any person in his employ, he shall refuse to make any allowance on account of wastage, and shall demand the full duty payable on the entire quantity received into bond.

Rate of golah rent.

18. In the case of public warehouses, the Board of Revenue shall fix from time to time the amount of rent to be paid by the bonder per 1,000 maunds of salt. Ordinarily no golah should be made available unless the quantity of salt to be bonded is equal to two-thirds of the storage which the golah is capable of containing; but when accommodation in golahs of suitable dimensions is not available, the rent to be demanded should be calculated on the quantity of salt, which would amount to two-thirds of the storage capacity of the building, whatever the actual quantity of salt bonded may really be.

SECTION IX.—RULES FOR THE CLEARANCE OF SALT FROM BONDED WAREHOUSES, PUBLIC OR PRIVATE.

Procedure on delivery from bond.

1. All deliveries of salt bonded in a public or private warehouse under the provisions of Act VIII of 1878 shall be supervised, as required by section 99 of the above Act, by a Customs officer and a native officer styled a Ghât Mohurir. These officers will be deputed on application to the officer in charge of the Custom-house.

Charges to be paid by bonder.

2. The expenses incident to their employment shall be borne by the bonder at the rate of Rs. 5 for a Customs officer and 12 annas for a native officer per diem at Calcutta, and Rs. 4 for a Customs officer and eight annas for a native officer per diem at Chittagong. These officers will be paid daily. If required so to do, the bonder or applicant for their services, shall pay into the hands of the officer in charge of the Custom-house a sum sufficient to meet the expense of employing such officers.

Working hours.

3. The present working hours at the Sulkea Government Golahs will continue to be observed with regard to all deliveries, whether from public or private warehouses, viz. between 6 A.M. and 2 P.M. from the 1st March to the 31st October and between 7 A.M. and 3 P.M. from 1st November to 29th February.

Bonders to provide their own labour and tools.

4. Scales and weights will be provided by Government, but bonders are required to make their own arrangements for cutting and removing their salt from the warehouses, as well as to supply their own tools for cutting the salt, such as sabools, kodalies, &c.*

Duty of Customs officer.

5. There will be one Customs officer at each scale; and his duty will be to keep on tally sheets provided for the purpose at the expense of Government, a correct tally of the bags as they are weighed and taken off the scale by the bonder's people, as well as to see that each bag contains neither more nor less than the prescribed quantity of salt, viz., two maunds. He will be held personally liable for any excess or deficiency that may be discovered at the check scales presided over by the golah officers.

Responsibility of Superintendent.

6. The Superintendent will be held responsible for making such arrangements as will ensure the efficient working of the check scales. At least 10 per cent. of the bags issued from the golahs should pass through these scales.

When disputes arise.

7. Should any dispute arise between the Customs officer and the bonder or purchaser of the salt under delivery, the former will stop the weighment, and at once refer the matter in dispute to the Superintendent for orders.

When irregularities occur.

8. The Customs officer will be particularly careful to bring every irregularity that he may become cognizant of to the notice of the Superintendent without delay, and will be held responsible for failure in doing so.

Check to be exercised by Ghât Mohurir.

9. There will be one Ghât Mohurir for each scale. He will be posted at the proper discretion of the Inspector either at the ghât when salt is being passed into boats, or on the roadway when it is being removed in carts. In either case, he will not be allowed to hold any communication whatever with the Customs officer posted within a golah, except through the Inspector, until after the day's work is over, when his tally will be compared with that kept by the Customs officer, and, if found to agree, signed by the Inspector.

Duty of Ghât Mohurir.

10. The Ghât Mohurir's duty will be to keep a similar tally to that of the Customs officer, but in Bengali. He will also keep a tally by means of counters supplied by the Department. One such counter will be made over to him by each cooly as he passes him with a bag, and will represent one

* Under the existing practice, a contractor supplies tools and labor for the purpose at fixed rates.

bag or two maunds of salt. After the rowannah quantity has been delivered, these counters will be compared with his written tally, as well as with that of the Customs officer, for the purpose stated in Rule 8.

Check to be exercised by Superintendent.

11. When discrepancies in the accounts cannot be reconciled, and whenever the Superintendent has reason to believe that the quantity of salt conveyed to the boat or cart is not correctly represented in the accounts, he shall hold a re-weighment. The expense of such re-weighment shall be borne by Government.

Duty of Superintendent before salt is removed.

12. Whenever the bonder or purchaser is desirous of removing his boats or carts from the premises, the Superintendent will satisfy himself on every point before granting the usual protective documents. He will, before granting a pass, at all times satisfy himself, even where the accounts agree, that the boat-load or cart-load represents the exact quantity entered in the rowannah.

13. The following extra charges will be levied from bonders in addition to those payable on ordinary working days in connection with the reception into and delivery from bond on Sundays and holidays other than New Year's Day, Good Friday, the Queen's Birthday, and Christmas Day:—

	Rs.
Fee to Superintendent	5

The above fees are payable for each scale worked for discharge from the golahs and for each golah opened to receive salt landed into the golahs from boats.

For work on board a ship discharging to the golahs on Sundays—

	Rs.
Fee to Superintendent	5
„ to Inspector on duty ...	3
„ to weighing officer	5
Total ...	13

The above fees are payable for each scale worked for the discharge of salt to the golahs.

Rate of overtime fees.

14. The following shall be the rate of overtime fees to be levied from bonders for landing and discharging salt after the regulation hours, as prescribed in Rule 3 of this section:—

For landing salt per golah.

	Per hour. Rs. A. P.
Fee to Inspector	0 8 0

Charges for extra hours on Sundays and holidays.

15. The fees prescribed by Rule 13, are to be levied in respect of work done on Sundays and holidays, between 6 A.M. and 2 P.M. from 1st March to 31st October, and between 7 A.M. and 3 P.M. from 1st November to 29th February; for work beyond 2 P.M. or 3 P.M., as the case may be, the additional overtime fees authorised by Rule 14 will be levied.

16. If it is required to discharge salt into bond on New Year's Day, Good Friday, the Queen's Birthday, or Christmas Day, a requisition must be made to that effect on the previous day, accompanied by a special extra fee of Rs. 100 to cover all such work done on board ship and at the golahs in respect of the salt ships in port. The golahs will be opened if required, but only for the reception of salt. This fee is to be in addition to the ordinary fees leviable for holiday and overtime work specified in the preceding Rules 13, 14, and 15, and will be distributed between the Superintendent and his subordinates at the golahs in such proportion as the Collector of Customs, subject to the order of the Board of Revenue, shall determine.

It must be clearly understood that this special extra fee is altogether separate from and independent of the fee of Rs. 100 which is levied as a Custom House fee for working on board ship on these specified holidays, and which will continue to be levied and distributed as at present.

SECTION X.—RULES RELATING TO THE DELIVERY OF SALT FROM BOARD SHIPS.

1. The present working hours are from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. Leave to work extra hours is only granted when the Collector sees sufficient grounds to permit it.

2. Partial deliveries are prohibited in so far as each boat-load is concerned. When the loading of a boat is commenced, it must be finished before the loading of another boat is commenced. If a boat's loading is commenced during extra hours, it must be completed without any interruption, whether the loading s completed in regular or extra hours.

3. If delivery on a rowannah has not been completed by sunset or if by any unforeseen circumstance it should become necessary to interrupt delivery, the boat partially loaded shall receive a boat-note in the following form, and shall remain alongside the discharging vessel subject to seizure in the event of her trying to leave the ship's side:—

FORM OF THE BOAT-NOTE.

Interrupted delivery.

Rowannah No. in favour of

Manjee
Mds. delivered
Mds. to be completed to-morrow morning.

Preventive Officer.

4. A rowannah will be issued to cover one boat only and application should be made accordingly, the amount of salt required to be put into the boat and consequently also shown in the rowannah being calculated beforehand. Delivery of salt will then be given to each boat as it comes alongside without reference to turn, provided the rowannah covering it is on board.

5. The pages of all tally-books shall be numbered and signed at the head by the Superintendent of the Preventive Service; and as soon as each page is filled, the preventive officers shall, before commencing a fresh page, require the Commander of the vessel or Chief Officer to sign at the foot of the page which has been written up.

6. On the completion of deliveries of salt from board-ship upon rowannahs, the holders thereof must present them to the Board's office for the purpose of having the endorsements made on them by the preventive officers examined. This rule will not prevent salt merchants removing their salt-laden boats from the ship's side to safe and convenient places in the river under the boat-notes previously granted by the preventive officers. Preventive officers will invariably, when they deliver a completed rowannah to a merchant or to his gomastah, warn him to present his rowannah at the Board's office.

7. No salt may be landed from ship-board or removed from the bonded golahs into the excepted limits of Calcutta and Howrah unless protected by a "certificate" (Form 12, Appendix) granted by the Collector of Customs (see section II, Rule 36A). Within 24 hours after the delivery of salt from board-ship under a certificate, the holder thereof must present it at the office of the Collector of Customs for the purpose of having the endorsement made on it by the preventive officer examined, after which it will be returned to the holder in order that the salt covered by it may be landed.

8. The currency of each certificate will expire 48 hours from the time that delivery of the salt is completed, and any certificate which has not been finally returned, under the following rule (No. 9), to the office of Collector of Customs within 48 hours from the time of delivery of the salt, must be presented within that time for renewal by the Collector.

9. Within 48 hours after the landing within excepted limits of salt removed upon a certificate from board-ship or from the bonded golahs, the certificate must be returned to the office of the Collector of Customs with an endorsement by the holder showing the time and place of landing and the place of storage.

10. Any failure to present a certificate at the Collector's office, as directed in Rules 7, 8 and 9, within the time specified in each rule, will be punishable with a fine of Rs. 500 under section 167, clause 1 of the Sea Customs Act.

SECTION XI.—RULES FOR THE CLEARANCE OF DUTY-FREE TARRED SALT FROM THE SULKEAH GOLAHS.

1. When it is intended to render salt in bond unfit for human consumption by admixture with tar, not less than twenty-four hours' notice of such intention must be given to the Superintendent of the Sulkea Salt Golahs.

2. The operation of mixing the tar and salt, in the proportion of one seer of the former to one maund of the latter, shall be supervised by a special officer, who will be deputed by the Superintendent of the Golahs at the expense, not exceeding Rs. 5 per diem, of the applicant for his services.

3. The Superintendent of Golahs will be responsible that not less than the prescribed quantity of tar is used.

4. Before granting the usual protective documents for the removal of the tarred salt from the golahs, the Superintendent will satisfy himself by a personal inspection that the process of mixing the tar with the salt has been thoroughly performed.

5. Before granting final delivery, the Superintendent will also require the owner of the tarred salt to furnish a written guarantee that it is intended solely for use in the manufacture of glazed stoneware, and that every possible precaution shall be taken to prevent the article from being stolen or restored to a condition fit for human consumption.

6. Any proved case of duty-free tarred salt having been restored, or attempted to be restored, to a condition fit for human consumption will disqualify the owner of the manufactory whence the impure article was obtained to be a custodian or consumer of such salt in future, and render the remainder of his stock of duty-free tarred salt liable to confiscation.

7. The owner of a manufactory, where duty-free tarred salt is allowed to be stored and consumed, shall keep a book showing the daily expenditure of such salt, for what purpose expended, and the stock remaining in store at the close of each day; and the book and stock shall be accessible at any time between sunrise and sunset to such officer as may be appointed for the purpose.

8. All duty-free tarred salt shall be stored in bags containing two maunds each.

SECTION XII.—RULES FOR THE SAFE CUSTODY AND PROPER USE OF, AND FOR OBTAINING A DRAWBACK OF DUTY ON, THE SALT USED IN THE MANUFACTURE OF SOAP, ALKALI, OR HYDROCHLORIC ACID IN BENGAL.

1. SECTION XIII.—MISCELLANEOUS RULES.

1. Whenever an application is made by any one to the Board of Revenue in the Salt Department to transact business on behalf of another person in connection with salt rowannahs, the applicant may be required to produce a written and stamped authority from his employer; and if he cannot produce it, the Board may refuse to transact such business with him.

If any person, therefore, shall possess or transport within the law limits, under a rowannah, a quantity of salt less than that specified in such rowannah, the entire quantity shall, if such deficiency be found on weighment to exceed five per cent. on the quantity so specified, be held to be contraband, and as such shall be seized and confiscated. Any person possessing or transporting such salt shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in section 16 of the Act.

3. Officers in charge of police-stations are required to grant receipts in a form printed for the purpose for all rowannahs delivered to them * on the expiration of their currency, on completion of the sale of salt, or on the salt covered by them being taken beyond the salt law limits.

* Under section 22, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, and rule 41, section II of the Salt Manual.

After the salt has been landed, the bonder will be required to execute one bond covering the total amount, and the other bonds will be cancelled.

5. Salt landed in Calcutta under section 83 of the Sea Customs Act VIII of 1878 will be sent to the Sulkea Golahs for custody, and it will be carefully noted in the salt receipt or certificate issued by the Custom House at the time of clearing it that the salt has been so landed and is not bonded salt.

CALCUTTA, the 30th June 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 27TH OF JUNE 1891.

THE meteorological conditions which obtained over the province during the previous week were an almost complete absence of rain except over parts of East and North Bengal, cloud proportion lower than usual, pressure rather above the normal, together with abnormally high temperature, which was also accompanied by high humidity over the greater part of the province. In the centre and south of the Bay a rather strong monsoon current was blowing, and had indeed been reported for a considerable period, but owing apparently to a slight whirl or wind circulation which existed off the Arakan coast, the monsoon winds could not advance direct up towards the head of the Bay, but were being deflected in an easterly direction over Burma. These conditions remained practically unaltered both in Bengal and over the Bay (except that pressure became somewhat lower) up till the 25th June, when the circulation of winds existing off the Arakan coast disappeared, and it became possible for the monsoon current to advance northwards up the Bay towards Bengal instead of being steadily deflected towards the east of the Bay. Up to the close of the week, however, the monsoon winds had not quite reached the head of the Bay, and the rains had not broken generally in Bengal, and thus the whole province, except North and small parts of East Bengal, remained practically rainless, though in North Bengal the falls began to get decidedly heavier than they had been.

The changes of meteorological conditions from day to day have been small and of little importance. On June 21st pressure was falling slowly and temperature was increasing, while rainfall was practically confined to the districts in and near the hills of North Bengal. One or two stations on this day reported very heavy rain, Cooch Behar having received 5·35 inches and Matabhanga 3·93 inches. On the 22nd pressure had risen by small amounts, while temperature was rising in all districts except Behar. Winds became rather less strongly westerly than they were, and generally winds varied from southerly to easterly. Rather heavy rain was again reported from the hills in North Bengal, though there was practically none elsewhere. The heaviest fall on this day was 5·11 inches at Matabhanga. On the 23rd and 24th pressure and temperature had generally fallen by small amounts, and on these two days rainfall became a little more general in North Bengal and over parts of East Bengal, and falls of about 3 inches were reported at Matabhanga, Mickligunge, Kurigram, Rungpore, and Jamalpore On the 25th and 26th pressure was rising by small amounts, while temperature was falling rather rapidly, and on the 27th the rise of pressure was confined to Behar and it was falling elsewhere, while temperature had continued to fall pretty steadily. Winds on this date were also southerly in the south-western districts, south-easterly in the south-eastern districts, and generally easterly elsewhere; that is, of almost normal monsoon direction. The rainfall of the last three days of the week was again rather more general in North Bengal, but the falls were usually not very heavy. Rather numerous local showers also occurred on the 27th in South-West Bengal.

In the Bay, as stated previously, conditions became more favourable for the advance of the monsoon current from the centre of the Bay into the northern part and towards Bengal from the 25th instant, and wind directions and the distribution of pressure also in Bengal at the close of the week were decidedly favourable for the advance of the monsoon rains over Bengal generally.

Pressure.—The mean pressure for the week has been distinctly in defect of the normal, the defect generally averaging about two or three-hundredths of an inch. The defects have been fairly equally distributed in all districts except South Behar, where an average defect of five-hundredths of an inch is registered.

Temperature—Was excessive during the first half of the week, though it gradually fell in the second half. This excess was largest at the western stations and in the day temperatures, and thus for some days at the Behar stations maximum temperatures were about 15° above the normal. The excess was perhaps largest on the 22nd, 23rd and 24th, and thus on the morning of the 24th Dehree reported a maximum temperature of 110·9,° or 18·1° above the normal, and Chybassa 110·8,° or 17·1° above the normal.

The mean temperature of the province for the week has been about 4° above the normal, and this excess has been fairly equally distributed in all districts except North Bengal, where an excess of only 1·3° is registered, and in South Behar, where the excess has been no less than 6·4.° In Assam the excess has only equalled 1·6.°

Rainfall.—In North Bengal an average fall of 3·01 inches has been received, which is equal to about three-fourths the normal fall, but in all other divisions the falls have averaged less than an inch, and have hence been very largely below the normal. The fall in North Behar has only averaged a third of the normal, in South-West and East Bengal the average fall is one-seventh of the normal, in South Behar one-ninth, in Chutia Nagpur one twenty-fifth, and in Orissa only one-hundredth of the usual fall for the week. For practical purposes, therefore, rainfall has been almost absent over nearly six-sevenths of the province. Even in North Bengal, where the rainfall has on the whole been fairly large, the districts of Pubna, Maldah, and Dinagepur have received very little rain; while, on the other hand, the Julpigoree and Cooch Behar districts have received an average of between 8 and 9 inches, or a fall slightly in excess of the normal. The station of Sitamurhi in the Mozufferpur district of North Behar has been a district of unusual precipitation, and has received a fall largely in excess of the normal for the week, though other stations in the same district have been rainless.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 27th of June 1891 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

RESOLUTION ON THE INLAND EMIGRATION REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1890.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—INLAND EMIGRATION.

Darjeeling, the 29th June 1891.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, on Inland Emigration for the year 1890.

Administrative.

During the year under report new rules have been added to those already existing under both Act I of 1882 and Act I (B.C.) of 1889, providing for proper notice of despatch of coolies being given beforehand to the Railway authorities, for special accommodation either in third class carriages or in suitable wagons, for provision of food and water on the journey and treatment of any cholera cases that may occur. It was also declared by rule that all coolies despatched direct from the up-country recruiting districts should be sent viâ the Hughli-Naihati route. The depôts used for free coolies in Calcutta have been declared liable to inspection by the Superintendent, and agents forwarding free coolies viâ Goalundo have been required to place them before the Medical Officer at that station for inspection before embarkation. With regard to this latter provision, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, who made a personal inspection of the emigration arrangements at Goalundo in February last, observed that no arrangements had apparently been made up to that time for carrying out the new rule which was notified on the 23rd December 1890. He desired that the rule may be carried out at once and presumes that it is now in force.

Under the provisions of Act I of 1882, penalties were also prescribed during the year for breaches of the rules laid down under that Act.

Recruitment.

2. There has been no change during the year among the licensed contractors who have remained five in number. As in the previous year, one sub-contractor was licensed, but he did not prove successful, and his operations were soon abandoned. The number of licenses granted to contractors' recruiters fell from 82 to 52, but the number of coolies recruited by them rose nevertheless, according to the figures shown, from 1,835 to 5,069, giving a rise in the average per recruiter from 22 to 97. The areas to which each of the recruiters confined his operations are not stated, but the great preponderance of registrations in the two districts of the 24-Pergunnahs and Burdwan alone (viz. 4,176 out of a total of 5,069, causes a strong presumption that large numbers of coolies find their way to the contractors otherwise than through their licensed recruiters. The figure 97, therefore, as representing the average of each recruiter's work, is probably misleading.

3. A peculiar feature of the year has been the grant of four licenses, under section 62 of Act I of 1882, permitting local agents to engage on behalf of specified employers, but without the intervention of garden-sardars This system of recruitment, which had not been tried before, is said to have worked satisfactorily and resulted in the registration of 596 emigrants. Both the application of this section of the Act and the fact of an increase in the number of garden-sardars working under local agents, although there was a decrease in the total number of sardars certificated, point to a greater indisposition on the part of the employers to let their garden-sardars work without local supervision.

4. Recruitment of female emigrants, either by female recruiters or by certificated garden-sardarnis, was, as in previous years, purely nominal.

5. Of the contractors' coolies, no less than 88 per cent. were registered in the 24-Pergunnahs district, while the garden-sardars' coolies were mostly drawn from the districts of Lohardagga, Hazaribagh and Manbhum.

Transport.

6. Emigrants recruited by contractors were as usual all forwarded to their destination viâ the Calcutta depôts and Goalundo. Of the sardari coolies 6,752, out of the 12,382 recruited, were despatched from Goalundo, showing an increase of 5,344 as against the number of sardari coolies despatched by that route in the previous year. Of these, 4,034 were despatched to Assam against 908 in 1889. The figures indicate a growing preference for the Goalundo route to the Assam valley over that viâ Dhubri. Of the total of 11,042 emigrants of both kinds sent from Goalundo, 7,629 went to Assam and 3,413 to Sylhet and Cachar.

7. The Calcutta depôts are well reported of by the Medical Inspector as regards both their conservancy and the treatment of the emigrants in them. In one depôt tank-water was, at the time the report was submitted, being still used for bathing purposes, but was about to give place to water from the municipal supply. It should be seen whether this reform has been carried out.

8. The admissions into hospital show an increase from 44 in the last year to 287, which is explained as the result of many trivial ailments being shown which had not been entered in previous years. The percentage of deaths calculated on hospital admissions, which was only 1·3 against 11·3 in the previous year, appears to show that the explanation is correct. The total number of deaths amounted to 4 only. Of the 287 admissions, 152 were due to fever, 44 to diarrhœa, 15 to dysentery, and one to cholera. The list of depôt casualties shows a decrease of desertions from 91 to 84 compared with the year 1889, and an increase of discharges from 117 to 399, of which latter number 275 were discharged at their own request.

9. With regard to the despatch of emigrants to Sylhet and Cachar, it is satisfactory to find that the employment of country-boats has now almost entirely given way to transport by steamer; only 138 emigrants were conveyed in seven country boats, while 3,275 were conveyed by steamer in 210 trips. The great breadth of the river at Goalundo makes it impossible to exercise any supervision there over country boats, if any come down the Ganges past Goalundo and thence on to Sylhet or Cachar.

10. The improvement in the return of way-bills of sardari emigrants, especially those despatched to Sylhet and Cachar, and of way-bills of contractors' coolies embarked at Goalundo, is noticed with satisfaction; but a large number of the way-bills of coolies despatched vid Dhubri are not returned from the garden of destination, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires that this matter may be carefully enquired into. The Superintendent should report to the Assam Government the names of the gardens from which way-bills are not returned.

Free emigrants.

11. The numbers of free emigration coolies are obtained by the Superintendent from the Embarkation Agent at Dhubri and the Deputy Commissioners of Cachar and Sylhet. The figures supplied for the year under report are as follows:—

Despatched from Dhubri for Assam	...	...	...	...	11,807
Arrived in Cachar	...	...	...	...	2,041
Do in Sylhet	...	...		...	7,404
			Total	...	21,252

as against 41,401 in the previous year.

The Lieutenant-Governor is not inclined to accept unreservedly the deduction drawn by the Superintendent that the system of free emigration is fast losing ground. The real grounds for the change in the relative proportions will probably be disclosed when the Assam Government publishes its report.

12. The question of leaving the duties of Embarkation Agent at Goalundo in the hands of the Sub divisional Officer of that station, who lives five miles distant and is frequently obliged to be absent on tour in the discharge of his other duties, is at present under the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor.

13. The thanks of Government are due to Surgeon-Major D. W. D Comins for the efficient manner in which he performed the duties of Superintendent of Emigration throughout the greater part of the year, and also to Brigade-Surgeon R. C. Chandra for his services as Medical Inspector of Emigrants.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE SANITARY COMMISSIONER, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1890.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—SANITATION.

Darjeeling, the 30th June 1891.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for the year 1890.

The Report has been drawn up by Dr. Gregg, who held charge of the office of Sanitary Commissioner throughout the year It was submitted on the 23rd May; but the tabular statements attached to it appear to have been completed on the 12th February, about a fortnight before the recent Census was taken. All calculations, therefore, having reference to statistics of population are based upon the obsolete figures of the Census of 1881, and must be read subject to the reservation that everywhere, except in the five districts noted in the margin, the population has increased in a ratio varying from 43·72 per cent. in Darjeeling to 0·54 per cent. in the 24-Pergunnahs, the average proportion of increase for Bengal as a whole, excluding Feudatory States, being 6·49.

District.	Decrease per cent.
Rajshahi ...	1·94
Rangpur ...	1·34
Burdwan ...	0·06
Birbhum ...	0·08
Nadiya ...	18·74

2. Births were registered during the year in 142 municipalities with an aggregate population of 2,489,687 according to the Census of 1881. The total number of births recorded was 53,633, giving a birth-rate of 21·54 per thousand as compared with 22·76 per thousand in 1889. Comparing this birth-rate with the recorded death-rate of the year, the singular result is arrived at that, while the Census shows the population of Bengal to have increased during the last ten years by more than sixty per thousand, the municipal birth statistics prove it to be decreasing at the rate of nearly three per thousand. But although the recorded birth-rate is clearly too low, an exact measure of the degree of error is not easy to find. The statistics of births in England, though hardly suited to serve as a final test of the correct birth-rate in Bengal, may fix a probable minimum limit below which the rate cannot be expected to fall. The registration of births was commenced in England in 1837, and was rendered compulsory in 1875. In 1838, the first year for which a complete record exists, the birth-rate was only 30·3 per thousand. From that year it rose by irregular steps, interrupted by occasional falls, to a maximum of 36·3 in 1876; and since then it has fallen steadily, with one trifling exception, to 30·6 in 1888.* The mean for the period of fifty-one years is 33·89. Statistics show that in Europe the birth-rate varies more or less regularly with the marriage-rate, and depends mainly upon the proportion of the population living between the ages of 20 and 40. In Bengal the marriage rate is unknown, at any rate in the precise sense in which that term is used by European statisticians; but the proportion of married persons to the total population was shown in the Census Report of 1881 to be 49·15, while the corresponding figure for the United Kingdom and France taken together was only 34. Again, not only do more marriages take place in Bengal than in Europe, but people marry younger; so that, even if women cease to be fertile somewhat sooner, the reproductive period is probably several years longer than in Europe. A considerably higher birth-rate may therefore be looked for, and the Sanitary Commissioner is probably not far wrong when he estimates the normal birth-rate for these provinces at something over 40 per thousand.

Births.

3. Out of the 142 municipalities which profess to register births, only seven* reach this standard, and only 29 show a birth-rate equalling or exceeding the birth-rate of England and Wales in 1888. These results are accepted by the Sanitary Commissioner as approximately correct; 55 municipalities, returning birth-rates varying from 29 43 to 20 03, are held to have done moderately well in the matter of birth registration; while in 58 municipalities, or 40 per cent. of the entire number concerned, the results are spoken of as very defective. In the following 19 municipalities the birth-rate is so absurdly low that it is clear not the smallest attention can have been paid to the work of registration:—

	Towns.	Ratio per 1,000 of population.
1.	Jungipur	1·57
2.	Lohardugga	2·98
3.	Chagdah	3·44
4.	Jhalakati	3 72
5.	Kandi	3 84
6.	Naloliti	3·92
7.	Barisal	5·23
8.	Sudharam	5·46
9.	Taki	5 85

16.	Barasat	9·30
17.	South Suburban	9·44
18.	Muktagacha	9·54
19.	Kulna	9 90

Excluding physiological causes tending to affect the number of births, which, though referred to by the Sanitary Commissioner, may for practical purposes be disregarded, it is obvious that the abnormally low birth-rates shown in this statement must be due to two causes—the preponderance of the male over the female population reducing the actual number of births, and defective registration reducing the number reported. By way of illustrating the operation of the former factor, the Sanitary Commissioner observes that in most of the towns which have a larger male than female population the deaths exceed the births, while in most of those where females preponderate, the births exceed the deaths. The report, however, omits to supply the statistics requisite to test this statement, which, if correct, would tell rather in favour of the relative accuracy of the birth and death statistics. It is, however, in the highest degree improbable that the disproportion of the sexes can anywhere be pronounced enough to account for the very low birth-rates referred to above. It may further be observed that, with one exception, all of these towns are situated in Bengal Proper, and most of them are known to contain a large proportion of people of the respectable and educated classes, who might have been expected to desire to have the births of their children officially recorded, and who at any rate cannot plead ignorance of their obligations under the law, or of the requirements of sound municipal administration. The Sanitary Commissioner should visit in person or by deputy some of the towns in which registration is peculiarly defective, and should endeavour, by holding a house-to-house inspection, to ascertain in a certain number of test cases whether the births of children apparently under one year at the time of his visit have actually been registered. He should at the same time ascertain and report what measures are taken to secure accurate registration, stating in whose charge this branch of the municipal work is placed, and whether any of the Commissioners personally examine the registers of births and test it by their knowledge of the residents and their families. A statement of the number of prosecutions instituted in each municipality for neglecting to report or give information of births should also be given in future reports.

Births according to sex.

4. The male births numbered 28,333 and the female births 25,300, being 111·9 male births to every 100 female births. The proportion of male to female births in the previous year was 112·6. In discussing this disparity Dr. Gregg makes no mention of the obvious probability that the record of female births is even more faulty than that of male births. He refers to the opinion held by certain European authorities that the proportion of male to female births increases as the age of the husband exceeds that of the wife, and goes on to observe that "as the difference in the relative age of husbands and wives is greater in India than in England, the proportion of male to female births should also be greater, although the actual proportion cannot yet be determined." In Europe the accepted ratio of male to female births is 106 of the former to 100 of the latter; but the excess of male births varies in different countries, and from time to time in the same country. Thus in England forty years ago the proportion of male to female births was 105·3 per cent., but now the number is only 103·9*; while in Sweden the excess of male births is 4 6 per cent., and in Russia nearly 9 per cent. Owing, however, to the greater mortality of male infants in the first year of life, to the fact that after the thirty-fifth year females die less rapidly than males, the difference in their favour increasing with age, and also to the emigration of men on a large scale, the proportion of females to males in England in 1881 was 105·5, the actual excess being 694,635. In Bengal, with a higher recorded ratio of male births and proportionately far less emigration, the figures of the last Census show in British territory an excess of females amounting to 229,380, a state of things which seems to point to the conclusion that the great excess of male births appearing in the returns is largely due to the omission to register the births of female infants. And in any case it may be doubted whether the statistics of birth registration have been collected on a large enough scale or for a sufficient length of time to serve as the basis for any valid deductions.

* Longstaff Studies in Statistics, page 249.

5. In 1890 the total number of deaths registered throughout the Lower Provinces in rural areas as well as in towns was 1,612,479 as compared with 1,597,478 in 1889, the death-rate per thousand calculated on the Census population of 1881 being 24·48 against 24·25. The mean death-rate of England and Wales for the fifty-one years 1838–1888 was 21·65, the maximum reached during that period being 25·1 in 1849, the cholera year. But in this regard no comparison can fairly be made between the life conditions of India and England, and the proper test of the Bengal death-rate must be sought in the recorded death-rates of other provinces, as shown in the following table:—

Deaths.

Provinces.	Death-rate per 1,000 of population.
	1886.	1887.	1888.	1889.	Mean of four years.
Bengal	21·99	23·46	21·94	24·25	23·16
Madras	19·7	22·6	21·4	23·5	21·6
Bombay	23·17	27·67	28·44	31·51	27·70
North-Western Provinces ...	33·27	35·86	30·08	31·11	32·58
Punjab	26·60	34·31	39 89	31·62	30·60
Central Provinces ...	33·24	32·70	28·70	43·79	34·61

N. B.—The above ratios are all calculated on the basis of the Census figures of 1881.

It is reasonable to suppose that the normal death-rate in Bengal must be somewhat higher than in the North-Western Provinces, where the climate is more healthy and the people show a finer physique; while the mean death-rate of the Central Provinces, where much attention is believed to have been given to the subject of registration, corresponds pretty closely to the rate of 33 or 34 per mille which is assumed as the probable death-rate of Bengal in the Census Report of 1881.† Applying the higher rate of 34 per thousand to the population of Bengal (excluding Calcutta, which is not under the Sanitary Commissioner, and the Chittagong Hill Tracts, where vital statistics are not registered) as recorded at the recent Census, the number of deaths in the past year would amount to 2,384,313, or 771,834 in excess of the number actually registered. The latter figure may be taken as an approximate measure of the extent to which the registration of deaths in Bengal understates the actual mortality.

† Volume I, page 65.

6. An examination of the table given in the report, comparing the rates of mortality in rural and urban areas, shows that only one district, the Sonthal Pergunnahs, returned a death-rate below 15 per thousand, while Darjeeling returned 40·08, Jalpaiguri 33·50, and Noakhally 33·24, figures which probably represent a close approximation to the truth. In the following Municipalities the recorded death-

Three years ago, in a circular addressed to Commissioners of Divisions, the Lieutenant-Governor drew attention to the fact that in 51 municipalities out of 64 for which the figures were examined, the registration of deaths during 1887 showed a serious falling off when compared with the mean of the previous five years during which registration had been conducted by the police. Since then some improvement has taken place, but hardly so much as might reasonably have been looked for, and it is evident that much still remains to be done. The Sanitary Commissioner should now take steps, through the district authorities, to bring home to the Commissioners of the municipalities mentioned above the necessity of paying more attention to this branch of their duties, and should utilise every opportunity that may offer on his tours of inspection of testing the registration in municipalities where the death-rate is unreasonably low, and of ascertaining whether proper arrangements are made for reporting deaths and maintaining the prescribed registers. The instructions given on this point in the circular of 8th July 1890, printed in Appendix V, are too vague to be of any practical use. In administrative matters of this sort, and more especially in dealing with local authorities who have no special executive experience, it is above all things necessary to enter into detail, and specify precisely what should be done, and by whom, in order to bring about a particular result. The measures prescribed in Dr. Gregg's report of his inspection of the Dinajpur Municipality seem to be well adapted to secure effective registration, and if similar suggestions were made to all municipalities in Bengal, they would doubtless be largely adopted.

Infant mortality.

7. In the Resolution on the Sanitary Commissioner's Report for 1889, attention was drawn to the statistics of infant mortality in Bengal; it was pointed out that the registration in the mofussil of the deaths of infants, particularly of female infants, was extremely defective, and the Sanitary Commissioner was asked to examine the figures in future reports, and to compare them with those of admitted accuracy in Europe. The mean death-rate in England of infants under one year of age for the ten years 1871—80 is given in the work already referred to as 177·3 per thousand, and that of children between the ages of one and five as 31·2. The corresponding figures for the past year in Bengal are 169·08 and 26·78. It has already been shown that the returns of general mortality are considerably below the truth, and it is reasonable to suppose that the statistics of infant mortality must be at least equally defective. This conclusion is further borne out by the fact that during 1889, the last year for which complete figures are available, the death-rate of infants in Calcutta was 313·4, and that of children between one and five 52·2 per thousand. After full allowance has been made for the unhealthy conditions of infant life in the Calcutta bazars, there can still be no room for doubt that the registration of infant mortality in the mofussil is very imperfect. The Sanitary Commissioner indeed admits that this is the case, but he seems to think that the duties of his Department are limited to "impressing upon the local authorities and the people themselves the importance of the subject." The Lieutenant-Governor has not much faith in the value of these general exhortations. The Sanitary Department can do more than this, and must do it if sanitary work in Bengal is to be carried on effectively. The Sanitary Officers must make it their business to look into the details of registration whenever opportunity offers, and to see how and by whom they are neglected.

Its causes.

8. Among the causes of the high infant mortality which there is reason to believe must prevail in Bengal, Dr. Gregg refers to the insanitary conditions prevalent in large towns, to the tropical climate, the prevalence of malaria, and deficient or improper clothing and food, and lays special stress on "the fact that the infants of Bengal are the produce, in an enormous number of instances, of women who are themselves but undeveloped children, whose offspring are not remarkable for stamina or for a constitutional power of resistance to the causes of disease to which they are peculiarly liable." He seems, however, to make rather too much of the influence of town life upon mortality. According to the Census of 1881 only 5·26 per cent. of the population of Bengal was returned as living in towns, while the urban population in England and Wales is 66·6 per cent., in France 31·06, and in America 22·5 per cent. It seems probable, too, that in his comparison between infant mortality in England and India, he has omitted to take sufficient account of the comparative immunity of children brought up in warm climates from bronchial ailments, such as croup, bronchitis, diphtheria, &c., which cause so many deaths among children in Europe.

Cholera.

9. During the past year 145,885 deaths from cholera were registered, showing a death-rate of 2·21 per thousand on the population of 1881, and of 2·07 on the figures of the preliminary report of the recent Census. In 1889 the deaths from this cause numbered 171,103, and the death-rate was 2·59 per thousand. The diagrams and small maps given in the report illustrate clearly the seasonal incidence of cholera throughout Bengal and in the main divisions of the province, and its distribution in relation to the rainfall and the character of the soil. The four diagrams of the seasonal incidence of cholera in Bengal proper, Behar, Orissa, and Chota Nagpur should, however, have been drawn to the same vertical scale; and the map showing the distribution of cholera by registering stations is too large for convenient reference. The highest death-rates from cholera occurred in Faridpur (8·40), Chumparun (5·99), Bhagulpur (5·18), and Dacca (4·31), but nowhere did the rate of mortality rise as high as in 1889, when Puri returned a death-rate of 21·01 per thousand, while Balasore showed 13·74, Purneah 9·60, and Cuttack 8·29. No particulars are given of the outbreak in Faridpur or Dacca, and comparatively little is said about the increase of the disease in the districts of Bhagulpur and Chumparun. In the station of Bhagulpur the supply of filtered water is believed to have reduced the mortality from cholera, and it is stated that improvements are being carried out under the orders of the Board of Revenue in the town of Bettiah, where most of the cholera deaths registered in Chumparun seem to have occurred. It is curious to observe that the mortality from cholera during December (27,849) was the highest recorded in that month during the last seventeen years, with the single exception of 1876, when it reached 46,534 December is not usually a bad month for cholera, and the large number of deaths recorded is attributed by the Sanitary Commissioner to the unusual floods having "left the soil moist and unabsorbent longer than usual."

Small-pox.

10. The number of deaths from small-pox rose from 8,665 in 1889 to 12,619 in the year under review. Puri, Chumparun, Midnapur, and Patna show the highest rates of mortality, and in each of these cases the outbreak is attributed to the practice of inoculation. It is claimed for the Eastern Bengal Circle, where the small-pox mortality of the year was low, that, notwithstanding some local opposition, the people must have been well protected by vaccination; but the recent outbreak at Chittagong, which showed that in a large proportion of cases vaccination had been imperfectly performed, throws grave doubt upon the correctness of this view.

Fever.

11. The deaths from fever during 1890 numbered 1,155,569 as compared with 1,101,524 in 1889, representing a death-rate of 17·54 per thousand on the population recorded in 1881, or of 10·45 on the preliminary returns of the recent Census, against 16·72 or 15·68 in the previous year. The fourteen districts noted in the margin showed the highest death-rate. In the deltaic districts of Noakhali, Jessore, Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Khulna, Pubna, Rungpur, and Bogra the chronic prevalence of fever is put down to the water-logged condition of the country and to the existence of stagnant pools and marshes in the low levels between the river channels. The unhealthiness of Julpaiguri is due to the malarial belt of country known as the Terai and the Duars; the fever in Darjeeling was really influenza; while in Gya and Shahabad the local officers attribute the prevalence of malaria to the influence of canal irrigation. In the case of Hazaribagh and Monghyr, both believed to be healthy districts in ordinary years, no explanation of the high fever mortality is offered. In the Resolution on the report of 1889, is was observed that the province of Orissa was remarkable for the comparative absence of fever, and that the district of Puri, in other respects the most unhealthy district of Bengal, showed the smallest fever mortality. Dr. Gregg now explains that in the hilly country in the north of the district, and the sandy tract which drains towards the sea and the Chilka lake, the natural drainage is rapid, and the mortality from fever small. The low death-rate recorded in these rural circles counterbalances the high mortality (21·10 per thousand) registered in Puri town, and reduces the general rate for the district.

Julpaiguri	31·39
Darjeeling	29·33
Noakhali	27·07
Jessore	26·29
Rajshahi . .	25·55

Khulna	24·40
Pubna	23·59

Sanitation in Municipalities.

12. The following statement shows the total expenditure incurred by Municipalities on sanitary purposes during the past year:—

Head of Expenditure.	Total expenditure.		Difference of 1890.
	1890.	1889.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs	Rs.	Rs.
On conservancy, including latrine ...	3,28,199	3,27,372	827	.....
„ conservancy establishment	3,51,081	3,38,588	12,493	.....
„ drainage	83,502	83,643	.....	141
„ water-supply	1,43,379	1,28,162	15,217	.....
„ disposal of dead	12,705	13,708	.....	1,003
„ market and slaughter-houses ..	17,697	9,525	8,172	... ..
„ vaccination	17,061	22,026	.....	4,965
„ treatment of the sick	2,27,054	2,21,728	5,326	.....
„ other sanitary work	1,60,412	1,36,279	24,133	.....
Total ...	13,41,090	12,81,031	60,059	.. ...

The progress shown is, on the whole, satisfactory; but the large reduction in expenditure on vaccination indicates a tendency on the part of Municipal authorities to neglect one of the most important duties entrusted to them. Statistics show that the deaths from small-pox in the urban areas of Bengal, where vaccination is compulsory, rose to 1,268 in 1890, while the mortality from the same cause during 1889 was 653, the mean mortality for the five years 1885-89 being 601, and it is a reasonable inference that this sudden increase was to some extent due to the relaxation of necessary precautions to which the table of expenditure bears witness. Effective measures must now be taken to guard against the continuance of this state of things. No municipal budget should be sanctioned which provides for a decrease in expenditure on vaccination, and Commissioners of Divisions will be instructed to enforce the observance of this rule.

13. In paragraph 57 of the report a statement is given which apparently purports to show the proportion of expenditure on sanitary purposes devoted to original sanitary works and sanitary works of a recurring nature, and the ratio of the total expenditure on sanitary purposes to the total expenditure on municipal purposes. The headings of the fourth, fifth and sixth columns are, however, so obscurely worded that the Lieutenant-Governor has had some difficulty in making out what proportions they were intended to show, and the value of the sixth column as a test of sanitary progress is impaired by the fact that the statistics on which it is based include expenditure on the construction and repair of roads, which cannot properly be treated as expenditure on sanitary purposes. The same criticism applies to the summary of sanitary works carried out by Municipalities, District or Local Boards, and private individuals, which is given in Appendix III. An analysis of the statement describing the sources of water-supply given in paragraph 64 shows that of the 145 municipalities in existence during the year, sixty-nine derived their drinking-water mainly from rivers and fifty-two from tanks or wells. Only six municipalities—Burdwan, Bhagulpur, Dacca, Darjeeling, Cossipur-Chitpur and Kurseong—could be said to have a supply of really pure water.

Rural sanitation.

14. The Sanitary Commissioner states that little or no progress has as yet been made by District Boards in the direction of rural sanitation, because, as was observed in the Resolution on last year's report, they possess no funds for the purpose, and have no power to impose local taxation for sanitary purposes. It appears, however, from the summary of sanitary works contained in Appendix III of the Report, that during the past year District and Local Boards spent Rs. 43,762 on sinking wells, excavating and clearing tanks, and improving drainage channels. The above sum includes an advance of Rs. 4,200 granted in Midnapur under the Land Improvement Loans Act to private individuals for the excavation of tanks and the construction of bunds or high level reservoirs; but it does not include the expenditure incurred on the completion of the Rungpore drainage scheme. In addition to this, no less than Rs. 2,65,785 was laid out by private individuals on the excavation of tanks, the provision of improved water and similar sanitary improvements. Among these works of private benevolence, special mention should be made of the large tank with six masonry ghâts excavated by Rani Man Mohini Devi of Puttia, Rajshahi, at a cost of Rs. 30,000, and the generous offer of the same lady to lay out from Rs. 10,000 to Rs. 12,000 a year, for a period of four or five years, on constructing wells in the district; of the donation of Rs. 1,12,500 made by Raja Surja Kant Acharjya of Muktagacha in Mymensingh, towards water-works for the head quarters station; and of the contribution of Rs. 11,466 promised, and in part paid, by the Maharaja of Darbhanga for clearing the Sivaganga and improving the drainage of Deoghur. With reference to the last-mentioned project, the Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Pergunnahs states that the plans, "though made over a year ago, are still lying somewhere unapproved by the authorities, and the gift under its terms may be withdrawn." The Sanitary Commissioner should enquire into this statement and ascertain what has been done in the matter, and to what causes the delay complained of is due.

The Sanitary Board.

15. The Sanitary Board, consisting of Sir Henry Harrison, member of the Board of Revenue, as President, Colonel McNeile, Chief Engineer and Secretary to Government in the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department, and Dr. Gregg, the Sanitary Commissioner, held three formal meetings during the year. The most important subjects which came under their consideration were the drainage and water-supply of the town of Howrah, the drainage of the municipalities on the east bank of the Hooghly, and the drainage of the towns of Serampore and Puri. A complete scheme for the drainage of Puri, which has long been a source of serious danger to the health of the town, has been sanctioned by Government since the close of the year. A scheme was also drawn up for Serampore, and adopted by the Municipal Commissioners. Government has sanctioned the loan of Rs. 30,000 required to carry out the project, and it is understood that work will be commenced as soon as the necessary land has been acquired and made over. The question of the drainage of Howrah is still under consideration. Besides these large projects, the Board considered and approved during the year several minor schemes for improving the drainage of North Dum-Dum, Maniktola, Cossipur-Chitpur, Balli, and Utterpara municipalities, but in none of these, except Utterpara, was any real progress made. Dr. Gregg complains of the "extraordinary apathy displayed by most municipalities in their own interests;" but it seems to the Lieutenant-Governor that this complaint cannot reasonably be made until the Sanitary Board has been longer in existence, and has had time to make its influence felt. In the Secretary of State's despatch of the 22nd August 1880, it is contemplated that the Provincial Sanitary Board should not only advise the Government and local authorities upon sanitary measures, but should also be the executive agency through which the Government would act in the Sanitary Department. The Lieutenant-Governor understands this to mean, not that the Board is expected actually to carry out particular sanitary projects, but that it will take the initiative in drawing up the outlines of the schemes to be prepared by the local authorities, and will supervise their execution by those authorities. Sir Charles Elliott holds that the Board will have performed its duties adequately if it takes up the most important municipalities in turn, and by degrees prepares, or causes to be prepared, schemes for their water-supply and drainage. Considering its constitution, it can hardly be expected to do more, and in any case the execution of its projects will lag far behind the conception. Rural areas cannot be dealt with on these lines, and the Lieutenant-Governor has too much apprehension of the difficulty of laying down rules for such various conditions as exist in the Province, and of enforcing any rules without an undue and impossible interference with the liberty of the people, to desire that the Sanitary Board should, as matters now stand, attempt to deal in any way with the population living outside of municipal areas.

16. The Sanitary Commissioner inspected 48 municipalities during the year, on ten of which he wrote inspection reports containing much that is sensible and practical. With a single exception, upon which separate orders will be passed, Dr. Gregg speaks in favourable terms of the good work done by the officers of his Department. The tabular statement given in paragraph 69 of the Report shows that a creditable amount of inspection was done by most of the Deputy Sanitary Commissioners and Deputy Superintendents of Vaccination. Four Deputy Superintendents, however, failed to reach the standard of inspection prescribed by the Government of India in reviewing the report of 1889.

The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to acknowledge the diligence which Dr. Gregg has displayed in the administration of his Department. The thanks of Government are also due to Dr. Waddell, Deputy Sanitary Commissioner of the Darjeeling Circle, for the good work done by him during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE POLICE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR THE YEAR 1890.

POLICE.

The Annual Reports of the Chief Presidency Magistrate and the Presidency Magistrate of the Northern Division on the Criminal Administration of their Courts for the year 1890.

The Reports for the year 1889 and the orders of Government thereon.

Reported cases.—The following table shows the number of cognizable and non-cognizable cases reported in the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta during 1890 and the preceding year:—

	Town.		Suburbs.		Total.
	1889.	1890.	1889..	1890.	1889.	1890.
Cognizable	25,787	26,858	7,277	8,173	33 064	35,031
Non-cognizable	24,510	22,015	2.809	4,496	27,319	26,511
Total ...	50,297	48,8 7	10 086	12,669	60,383	61,542

The increase in cognizable cases in both the Town and Suburbs occurred mainly under the heads of Stage Carriage Act, Public and Local Nuisances, and Cruelty to Animals. The decrease in non-cognizable cases in the Town was chiefly in offences against the Conservancy Acts. The increase in non-cognizable cases in the suburbs was in the same class of offences.

2. Arrests and convictions.—The following table compares the number of persons arrested in cognizable cases and summoned in non-cognizable cases, and the number of persons convicted in the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta for the year 1890 and the preceding year :—

	Persons arrested or summoned.						Persons convicted.
	Town.		Suburbs.		Total.		Town.		Suburbs.		Total.
	1889.	1890.	1889.	1890.	1889.	1890.	1889.	1890.	1889.	1890.	1889.	1890.
In cognizable cases	34,282	36,101	7,987	8,698	42,269	44,099	31,881	33,736	7,558	8,173	39,439	41,910
In non-cognizable cases	11,891	11,585	2,602	3,558	14,493	15,143	7,943	6,874	1,621	2,566	9,564	9,440
Total ...	46,173	47,686	10,589	12,256	56,762	60,142	39,824	40,612	9,179	10,738	49,003	51,350

The percentage of convictions for cognizable offences remained the same in 1890 as in the previous year, namely 93, and for non-cognizable offences it fell from 66·21 to 62·33.

3. Races and creeds.—Out of a total population of 433,219 in the Town, 10,158 persons were convicted of offences under the Indian Penal Code. Of these 6,060 were Hindus, 3,625 Mahomedans, and 445 Christians. No Brahmos, Parsees or Sikhs, who number in all 843 persons, were convicted during the year. The percentages of the different races were as follow:—

Mahomedans	2·9
Hindus	2·1
Christians	1·6
Buddhists and Jains	1·04
Jews	1·01

Out of a total population of 251,430 in the Suburbs, 1,339 were convicted under the Indian Penal Code. The convictions of Hindus were 697, and of Mahomedans 621. Twenty Christians were convicted against nine in 1889. The percentages of the different races were as follow:—

Mahomedans	·6
Hindus	·5
Christians	·5

4. False cases.—There were only 43 cases declared false out of a total of 48,873 cases reported in the Town, and only 18 out of 12,669 reported in the Suburbs. In 1889 the numbers were 60 and 24 respectively in the Town and the Suburbs. The extreme paucity of and the decrease in the number of cases declared false have not been sufficiently explained. Out of 21 prosecutions instituted in the Town for false complaints, only 8 ended in conviction, in 3 of which the complainants were sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from three to four months, and in 5 cases fines were inflicted. In 2 cases the complainants absconded and in 5 the defendants were discharged. The remaining 6 cases were struck off, as the parties failed to take out processes. In 10 other cases compensation was awarded under section 552 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to the aggrieved parties. No case was instituted by any court suo motu. In the Suburbs prosecutions were instituted in only 13 cases, one of which was committed to the Sessions, and resulted in a sentence of six months' imprisonment. In one case three complainants were fined, and in 4 cases the complainants were imprisoned for short terms ranging from 15 days to one month. In 7 cases the defendants were discharged.

5. Property stolen and recovered.—The value of property stolen in the Town and Suburbs was estimated at Rs. 1,53,957 against Rs. 1,51,267 in 1889, and that of property recovered Rs. 89,019 against Rs. 69,199 in 1889. The percentage of property recovered rose from 49·02 to 56·94 in the Town, and from 35·06 to 66·34 in the Suburbs.

6. Ratio of cognizable crime to population.—The ratio of proved cognizable crime, and of convictions in all cases, to population was as follows:—

	Area in square miles.	Population.	Percentage of crime prosecuted to conviction to population.	Persons convicted to population.
Town	7·8	433,219	5·4	9·4
Suburbs	23	251,439	3	4·3

7. Cognizable crime in the Town.—The following statement shows the number of cognizable cases returned as true within the Town during the past two years:—

Crime.	1889.	1890.
Abetment of offence not committed	1	.....
Class I—Offences against the State	32	51
„ II—Serious offences against the person ...	186	175
„ III—Serious offences against person and property ...	189	143
„ IV—Minor offences against the person	53	59
„ V—Minor offences against person and property ...	2,309	2,144
„ VI—Other offences not specified above	6,891	7,906
Special and Local Laws—
Miscellaneous offences in the street	10,059	9,806
Cruelty to animals	2,922	3,339
Offences under Port Acts	2,286	2,342
Other offences	807	867
Total ...	25,735	26,832

In classes III and V the decrease occurred mainly in cases of burglaries and thefts.

There was an increase in offences relating to Coin and Stamps. The number of cases reported was 15 against 5 in 1889. Thirteen cases were tried summarily by the Magistrate, 11 persons being convicted and 1 discharged; and 2 cases were committed to the Sessions, in which 5 persons were sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from two to seven years.

There were only 3 cases of murder against 4 in 1889. In one of these cases the accused suspecting his wife of infidelity cut her throat. He was sentenced to be hanged, but on appeal this sentence was commuted to one of transportation for life. In another case an elderly woman was found murdered in her employer's house. Very great violence had been used, and a neck-chain had been stolen. Suspicion fell upon a neighbour who sometimes visited the house, as a gold chain, like that worn by the deceased, was found buried in his room, and there were wounds on his arm and fingers for which he could not account, and regarding which he made false statements. The case was pending at the close of the year, but at the February Sessions the accused was discharged. In the remaining case a prostitute was found lying strangled on her bed, and gold and silver ornaments worth about Rs. 104 had been carried off. It is reported that all efforts to trace the murderer have failed. There was one other case in which a Hindu charged with murder in Mozufferpur was arrested by the Calcutta Police and was transferred to the mofussil.

Cases of culpable homicide rose from a five years' average of 1 to 4. In one of these cases a number of Cabuli traders belonging to the tribes of Khyrotis and Suleiman Kheyls came into conflict and fell to blows using sticks and stones freely. One of the men died in hospital from fracture of the skull. Men of both parties were committed for trial and 5 of them were convicted.

8. Attempt at murder.—There were 3 cases of attempts to murder against 4 for the average of the previous five years. In 2 of these cases the accused were sentenced to 3 and 5 years' rigorous imprisonment respectively. In the third case the accused was acquitted. The description of the facts given by the Commissioner of Police throws doubt on the propriety of the acquittal. It is said that the accused visited a prostitute at night, and seizing her by the throat while asleep nearly throttled her and robbed her of gold ornaments, value Rs. 313; that immediate alarm was raised, and he was pursued along the roof and was arrested in possession of the ornaments in the basement of the adjoining house, crouching down behind the entrance door; and that the Police Surgeon deposed to finding finger marks on the woman's throat.

Cases of grievous hurt rose from 17 in 1889 to 27, the average of the five preceding years being 27. Eight out of the 27 cases were private prosecutions in which the police were not employed; 45 persons appeared before the courts, of whom 13 were convicted, 3 were otherwise disposed of, 13 were awaiting trial at the close of the year, and 16 were discharged It is stated that these cases are generally settled out of court. No European seamen were charged with this offence. There were 40 cases of hurt by dangerous weapon against 33 in 1889.

There was only one case of kidnapping with theft, though the Commissioner of Police reports that during the year 551 children wearing ornaments went astray in the Town and Suburbs, and were restored to their parents with the ornaments intact.

There were five cases of rash and negligent acts causing death or grievous hurt against an equal number in 1889. The prosecution and conviction of a Hindu for causing the death of his immature child-wife has led to an important change in the criminal law.

There was only 1 case of robbery with hurt in 1890, and 1 case of highway robbery (against 6 in 1889). The number of other robberies fell from 10 in 1889 to 2.

True cases of burglary and lurking house-trespass fell from 179 to 154, and the number of convictions from 119 to 94. The percentage of property recovered, however, rose from 32·15 to 54·48. This shows an improvement in dealing with this offence. Cases of thefts also fell from 1,855 to 1,549, and the number of convictions from 981 to 901. It is stated that the decrease in the number of cases during the year occurred chiefly in petty house thefts in the second division of the Town. The percentage of cases detected was 53·06 against 48·94 in 1889, and that of property recovered was 56·43.

There were 318 cases of criminal breach of trust against 261 in 1889. One of these cases, in which the late cashier of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China was acquitted, excited much attention. Fourteen cases of criminal breach of trust committed by drivers of carts were successfully prosecuted, but the offenders were all tried summarily by the Magistrates and punished for theft. The Commissioner of Police observes that no class of offence is planned or carried out with more deliberation, and that detection in these cases is difficult. He suggests that all cases where there is evidence of premeditation should be committed to the Sessions for trial. Out of 583 persons charged under the Gambling Act, 564 or 96 per cent. were convicted. In one case the keeper of a gaming-house was sentenced to imprisonment without the option of a fine. Under the Stage Carriage Act there were 2,629 cases and 2,469 convictions against 2,079 cases and 2,032 convictions in the preceding year. The increase in the number of prosecutions occurred mainly for cases of loitering for hire off stand and driving without neck-tickets. Offences under the Police Act (street offences) fell from 10,059 to 9,806 in 1890, and out of 12,297 persons placed before the Magistrate, 12,189 or 99·12 per cent. were convicted. There was an increase of 56 cases under the Ports Act as compared with the previous year. There was an increase of 280 in the cases under Act I (B.C.) of 1869, prosecutions in which were generally instituted on action taken by the officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Out of 4,820 persons arrested during the year, 4,717 or over 97 per cent. were convicted. Act XI of 1890 has recently been extended to Calcutta, and it is hoped that additional acts of cruelty made punishable in that Act will result in more effectual prevention of the inhuman torture of animals. His Honour regrets to observe that the cognizable riots and unlawful assemblies in the Town rose from 12 to 21.

9. Cognizable crime in the Suburbs.—The following is a comparative statement of cognizable cases returned as true in the Suburbs during the past two years:—

	1889.	1890.
Class I Offences against the State	15	18
„ II—Offences against the person	76	56
„ III Serious offences against person and property	151	122
„ IV—Minor offences against the person ...	41	32
„ V—Minor offences against property ...	680	587
„ VI—Other offences not specified above ...	651	743
Special and local laws—
Cruelty to animals	3,156	3,975
Miscellaneous offences in the street ...	2,484	2,071
Other offences	22	612
Total ...	7,255	8,155

There were 7 cases of offences relating to Coin. In three cases 3 persons were convicted by the Magistrate; two cases were committed to the Sessions, and the offenders were sentenced one to three years' and the other to five years' rigorous imprisonment. One case was pending at the close of the year, and in the remaining case the accused was not placed on trial for want of evidence.

There were three cases of murder against an equal number in the previous year. In two cases the offenders were transported for life. In the third case the charge against the accused was withdrawn in the Court of Sessions. There were two cases of culpable homicide against three in 1889. In one case the accused was sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment, and in the other to five years. There were only seven cases of grievous hurt against 16 in the preceding year. In five cases 8 persons were convicted, 3 of whom were policemen who were sentenced by the Sessions Court, 1 to three years and 2 to two years' rigorous imprisonment. Cases of hurt by dangerous weapons fell from 19 in 1889 to 8. Of these five were withdrawn in Court, and in the remaining three cases the accused were convicted. There were six cases of kidnapping against 11 in 1889. In four of these cases the offenders were convicted, one of whom was sentenced by the Sessions Court to seven years' transportation.

While there was a decrease in the number of burglaries in 1890, the proportion of cases detected and persons convicted was higher than in 1889 or in any of the four preceding years. The percentage of property recovered was 52·80 against 26·30 in 1889. The ratio of cases detected and persons convicted under the head of theft shows an improvement on the results of the previous year. The percentage of property recovered also compares favourably with that for the preceding year.

10. Non-cognizable crime in the Town.—The following table shows the cases under chief heads of non-cognizable crime for the Town reported as true:—

	1889.	1890.
Conservancy Act IV (B.C.) of 1876	19,577	16,820
Criminal force; sections 352, 355 and 358, Indian Penal Code	2,119	2,106
Intimidation and assault; sections 504, 506, 510, Indian Penal Code	528	748
Hurt; section 323, Indian Penal Code ...	598	678
Rioting, unlawful assembly and affray; sections 149, 154, 156 and 160, Indian Penal Code ...	230	264

There was a decrease in the total number of cases from 24,510 to 22,015. The decrease occurred almost wholly in conservancy cases. There was an increase in cases of causing hurt and of rioting, unlawful assembly and affray. There were 16 cases of forgery against 4 in 1889. Convictions were obtained in four cases. In one of these the managing clerk of a local firm obtained large advances from the Bank of Bengal and the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, involving serious loss to both Banks by means of forged opium passes. As the forged documents bore the names of officials in the Board of Revenue, the prosecution was conducted by Government. In the case of the Hongkong Bank the accused having been sentenced to eight years' imprisonment, it was decided not to proceed with the other case. Cases of extortion fell from 15 to 10. In one case committed to the Sessions, two offenders were sentenced to seven and three years' rigorous imprisonment respectively. No member of the force was convicted during the year of this offence. Cases of rioting, hurt, criminal force, intimidation, and assault increased chiefly in the Northern Division of the Town. The Presidency Magistrate of that Division has not noticed the subject.

11. Non-cognizable crime in the Suburbs.—The following table shows the cases under the same heads as in the last paragraph of non-cognizable crime reported as true in the Suburbs:—

	18	1890.
Conservancy Act	1,114	2,529
Criminal force	827	914
Intimidation and assault	54	80
Hurt	388	347
Rioting, unlawful assembly, affray	Nil.	Nil.

There was a total increase of 1,687 in non-cognizable cases as compared with the preceding year, which occurred mainly in conservancy prosecutions. These more than doubled, but no reason is assigned. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with surprise that no cases of non-cognizable rioting, &c., are reported from the Suburbs for either 1889 or 1890.

12. Suicides.—The number of cases in the Town and Suburbs was 85 against 83 in 1889. Thirty-seven per cent. of the cases were caused by hanging and 31 per cent. by opium poisoning. Over 70 per cent. of the suicides occurred among the Hindus.

13. Accidental deaths.—There were 301 deaths in 1890 against 292 in 1889. Thirty-six were caused by falls from trees and buildings, 30 by carriages and horses. There were 4 deaths from snake-bite. Out of 121 drivers of public and private carriages prosecuted for rash and furious driving, 101 were convicted.

14. Arms Act.—The importation of firearms decreased from 2,655 pieces in 1889 to 2,449 in 1890, but there was an increase of 207 in the number of firearms purchased by Calcutta Merchants in this country during the year. The imports of percussion caps fell from 23,384,000 in 1889 to 19,013,000 in 1890, and this decrease is stated to be due to the fact that the surplus stock in hand at the commencement of the year was much more than it was at the commencement of 1889. Out of 2,449 firearms imported during 1890, 2,017 were imported by European firms. The number of firearms sold during 1890 was 2,852 against 2,720. These figures include guns of native manufacture imported into the Town of Calcutta from Monghyr. The number so imported was 980 against 957 in 1889. There were 5 prosecutions under the Act against 7 in the previous year. Six persons were convicted, all for petty offences.

15. European Vagrancy Act.—Thirty-five vagrants were admitted into the Workhouse under section 5 of the Act. Two persons were deported, 1 to London and the other to Madras, 16 were shipped away as seamen, 11 were provided with employment of various kinds, and 5 were released. Ten other persons of European extraction, who were not admitted into the Workhouse, entered into agreement under section 17 of the Act and were deported from India.

16. Alms-house.—Out of 66 seamen who found refuge in the Alms-house during the year, employment on ships was found for 51.

17. Fire Brigade Act.—Thirteen large fires occurred in the Town and River, 26 in the Suburbs, and 8 at Howrah, at all of which steam fire-engines rendered effective assistance. Thirteen other small fires were also reported to have occurred at which manual engines attended. The loss of property was estimated at Rs. 4,66,480 against Rs. 1,38,490 in 1889. The most serious fire in the Town occurred at Jorabagan, in which property worth Rs. 93,000 was destroyed, and that in the Suburbs occurred at the Bengal Hydraulic Jute Press at Chitpóre. The loss in this case was said to be Rs. 2,70,000.

18. Strength of the Police Force.—The actual strength of the Police employed in the Town and Suburbs is shown below:—

	Town Police.	Suburban Police.	Detective Department.	Government Guard.	Fort Police.	Lock-up Guard.	Salt Pass Establishment.	River Police.	Additional Constables.	Total.
Superintendents	4	2	1	.....	.....	.....	.....	1	...	8

Total ...	1,473	693	11	357	21	10	32	181	203	2,980

The ratio of this force was to population 1 to 239·39 inhabitants, and to area was 1 to ·010 square miles.

The percentage of casualties in the Force was 11·32 against 9·74 in the previous year; 14 members of the Force were punished judicially during the year against 15 in 1889. 72 men were dismissed against 56 in 1889, 3 men deserted, 144 resigned or were discharged, with or without pension, and 33 died, the rate of mortality being 11·5 per mille. Altogether 15 officers and 25 constables were reduced, 17 officers and 43 constables were suspended, 28 officers and 210 constables were fined. The number of vacancies of all kinds was 324 against 288 in 1889.

The Commissioner of Police suggests the necessity of improving the position of the native policemen immediately above the grade of constable, though he has not yet made any special recommendation on behalf of this portion of the force. This matter will come under the Lieutenant-Governor's consideration together with the recommendations of the Police Committee.

19. Cost of the Police.—The total cost of the Town and Suburban Police was Rs. 6,14,634, the budget grant for 1890-91 being Rs. 6,17,000. The sanctioned strength was reduced by 51 constables from the 1st April 1890.

20. Hotels, liquor shops, &c.—Four hundred and seventy-five certificates were granted for hotels, shops for the sale of excisable articles, and native eating houses in the Town, and 197 in the Suburbs against 268 and 52 respectively in 1889. The fees realized amounted to Rs. 1,032 against Rs. 822 in the Town, and to Rs. 448 against 235 in the Suburbs. The increase in fees is chiefly accounted for by the fact that licenses for liquor shops which were granted in 1887 under the triennial system were renewed during 1890.

21. Property found and restored.—Property to the value of Rs. 4,787 was picked up and brought to the Police Office, and over 69 per cent. of the amount was restored to the owners.

22. Old offenders.—Two hundred and eighty-nine old offenders were convicted in the Town against 278 in 1889. Of these, 76 had been convicted more than three times against 80 in the previous year. In the Suburbs the corresponding figures were 94 and 14 against 83 and 16. Eighty-one notorious offenders were photographed on their release from jail and their names registered by the Detective Department.

23. Judicial Work.—The number of cases instituted in the Northern Division was 15,056, and in the Southern Division 13,809 against 14,053 and 13,415 respectively in 1889. The number of cases disposed of by the Honorary Magistrates was 18,516 against 21,149 in the previous year. Of 36,806 persons appearing before the Courts of the Presidency Magistrates of the Northern and Southern Divisions, 34,274 were convicted and 2,363 acquitted or discharged. The percentage of conviction in cognizable cases was 96·5 in the Court of the Northern Division Magistrate, 96·1 in the Court of the Chief Magistrate, 77·6 in the Bench Courts, and 52·1, 57, and 60·7 respectively in non-cognizable cases (excluding conservancy prosecutions). The total amount of fines imposed by Benches was Rs. 5,112 against Rs. 6,265 in the previous year. Of this amount Rs. 4,630 was realised, and out of this sum Rs. 479 was awarded as compensation. Eleven cases only were declared by Honorary Magistrates false, frivolous, vexatious or groundlessly instituted, and compensation awarded in those cases amounted to Rs. 91 in all. Under the amended section 250 of the Criminal Procedure Code, which allows compensation to be given in warrant cases as well as in summons cases, it is expected that compensation will be awarded in many more cases

Against the orders of the Chief Presidency Magistrate, 34 ordinary appeals were preferred with result that 1 conviction only was set aside; the High Court was moved in revision in 5 cases, but only once successfully. 51 ordinary appeals were made against the orders of the Northern Division Presidency Magistrate, all without success; 12 motions were made to the High Court with the result that 2 were successful. There were 12 ordinary appeals against the decisions of Honorary Magistrates, all of which were rejected except 1; there were 3 motions to the High Court, but all were without success. These results speak well for the soundness of the decisions given by the Magistrates.

24. Adjournments.—The total number of cases adjourned was 308 against 422 in 1889. Of the 308 cases adjourned, 119 were before the Northern Division Court and 147 before the Chief Magistrate and 42 before the Benches. The number of adjournments does not seem unreasonable. The Commissioner of Police observes that, if arrangements are insisted on for hearing cases which are ready for disposal as nearly as can be de die in diem, the business of the Courts will be disposed of more satisfactorily to all parties, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the Chief Presidency Magistrate will insist upon this procedure which has already received the approval of Government.

25. Benches.—The Chief Presidency Magistrate observes that the Honorary Magistrates as a body continue to evince the interest they have always taken in the discharge of the work. The only unsatisfactory features that call for notice are—

(1) the absence of some of the Honorary Magistrates from the Court without notice and sometimes on insufficient notice; and

(2) the rising of the Courts presided over by Honorary Magistrates in a few instances without finishing the day's file before the hour prescribed by the rules for such rising.

The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that no such neglect of the important public interests committed to their care will be reported in any future year.

Out of 96 Honorary Magistrates, 13 attended 20 times or more. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction the good services which these gentlemen have rendered to the administration of justice. Thirty-six Honorary Magistrates attended less than ten times during the year, besides 8 who never attended at all. Some of these were either absent from the Town for a portion of the year, or were appointed late in the year. Some of those who never attended at all were in Europe.

26. Personnel of the Force.—Mr. J. Lambert held the office of Commissioner, and Mr. A. B. Barnard that of Deputy Commissioner, throughout the year. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due to both these officers for their efficient administration of the Department during the year. The names of the subordinate officers favourably mentioned have been noted.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for information and communication to the Presidency Magistrates, and to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

OBSERVATIONS.—With their endorsements quoted above the Managers have submitted the reviews of the transactions of the Fine Fund of the railways under the control of the Government of Bengal for the official year 1890-91, and these show that both on the Eastern Bengal and Nalhati State Railways the amount of fines realised during the year is less than that realised during 1889-90.

RESOLUTION.—The Lieutenant-Governor views with satisfaction the results of the working of the fund during the year under review, and His Honour is glad to find that, while there has been a decrease in the amount realised from fines, larger amounts have been contributed from the resources of the funds towards entertainments, schools, and the institute, in which the employés of the Railway are much interested.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Government of India, in the Public Works Department, and to the Managers of the Eastern Bengal and Nalhati State Railways, for information, and that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers are the normal means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 4th of July 1891.

Explanation.—..... indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

Calcutta, the 7th July 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 4TH OF JULY 1891.

Up to the close of the previous week rainfall had been for a considerable period, almost entirely absent except in North Bengal and Assam and to a smaller extent over East Bengal. The unfavourable conditions in the Bay of Bengal for the advance of the monsoon current northwards over Bengal, which had existed since about the first week in June, had however disappeared from the 25th instant, and it was pointed out in last week's report that conditions had at the close of the week become decidedly favourable for the commencement of the rains in Bengal. The wave of moisture-laden winds had indeed probably advanced partly over the province on the morning of the 27th, for during that day and the following night rain in many instances accompanied by slightly stormy weather set in over Orissa and South-West and East Bengal, so that on the morning of the 28th fairly heavy rain was reported from these districts, nine stations reporting falls of two inches and upwards, while nearly twenty stations received from one to two inches. This advance of monsoon winds was accompanied on the morning of the 28th by a fall of pressure of about a twentieth of an inch, while temperature had fallen very rapidly over the southern districts where rain had fallen. Winds on this day remained rather strongly easterly over the whole province, and they appeared to carry the rain-bearing current further inland, for on the morning of the 29th, rain was reported generally over the whole province, and at some stations particularly heavy falls were received. Thus a fall of six and-a-half inches was registered at Jungipore in the Moorshedabad district, and falls of about five inches at Lalgola (Moorshedabad district), Harrishpore (Noakholly district), and Bagaha (Chumparun district); falls of two inches were also reported from about ten stations. On the 29th the pressure changes and the pressure distribution were a little irregular, but temperature continued to fall rather rapidly. Winds also became a little irregular, and westerly winds began to set in at the western stations. Moderate to heavy rain was again received in almost all districts, and on the morning of the 30th the following heavy falls were reported—Barrh (Patna district) 5·42 inches, Saugor Island 5 32 inches, and Krishnaghur 2·85 inches. Pressure on the 30th had risen over the whole province, but the variations of temperature were small, and winds remained practically unchanged. On the morning of July 1st the rainfall reported was by no means so general as it had been in Orissa, South-West and East Bengal and Chutia Nagpur, though it continued fairly general in Behar and North Bengal In the Bay of Bengal also conditions had changed and indicated that the monsoon current was again being deflected towards Burma, and that it was long prevented from passing northwards over Bengal, for there was a distinct whirl or circulation of winds off the Arakan coast, and this appears to have determined a slight and partial break in the rains which lasted for about two or three days. The meteorological changes in Bengal on the 1st were that pressure was falling by about 0·03", while temperature had risen by about 2° owing probably to the decrease in the rainfall. On the 2nd the slight break in the rains continued in the southern districts, and the whirl off the Arakan coast still existed, though it was scarcely so definite as it was on the 1st. Pressure continued to fall over the whole province of Bengal, while again temperature had risen by about 1° or 2°. On the morning of the 3rd the rain showers reported in the southern districts were still rather few in number, though fairly heavy and general rain was reported in Behar and North Bengal. On this day, however, the whirl off the Arakan coast had entirely disappeared, and conditions in the Bay once more became favourable for the advance of the monsoon winds generally over Bengal. Pressure on the 3rd continued to fall in the east and centre of the province, though in the western districts there was an increase, while temperature had generally risen. The monsoon current appears then to have again advanced over Bengal, for on the morning of the 4th rain had become general over South-West and East Bengal and over considerable parts of Chutia Nagpur, though in Orissa rainfall was more local, while Behar and North Bengal continued to receive moderate to heavy rain. The temperature changes on the 4th were irregular, but pressure in Bengal had risen moderately, but rather unequally, and there was on this day a distinct tendency for the production of a small barometric depression over the central districts as represented by such stations as Furreedpore and Berhampore, round which there was also a rather irregular though quite perceptible cyclonic circulation of winds. Thus at the close of the week the general conditions over the province were distinctly favourable for moderate to heavy rainfall, and for the inrush of a considerable volume of the moisture-laden monsoon winds.

The meteorological conditions for the week have, therefore been very important, as the monsoon rains have now set in. The date of their commencement may be said to have been June 27th over the southern half of the province and the 28th in Behar and Chutia Nagpur.

Pressure—Has been below the normal almost throughout the week, and the mean pressure has been rather largely in defect. The average deficiency is equal to no less than seven or eight-hundredths of an inch, and at some stations it almost equals a tenth of an inch. In Assam the mean pressure is also in defect of the normal by 0·082 inch.

Temperature—Has been nearly normal for the period, and the mean temperature of the province for the week is only a tenth of a degree lower than usual. In South-West Bengal the average temperature has been absolutely normal, in East and North Bengal it has been a few tenths of a degree in excess, and in Behar a few tenths of a degree in defect. In Assam the mean temperature for the week has been 0·5° in excess.

Rainfall.—Rain has fallen on an average number of three or four days in each division of the province, and indeed the number of rainy days has been almost equal to the normal. The general rainfall for the week has, however, in five out of the seven divisions, been less than the normal, the two divisions in which slight excess falls have been received being South-West Bengal and South Behar. The defect in North Bengal has been very small, and equals only about 5 per cent. of the normal, in North Behar the defect is moderate, and equals about 20 per cent., but in Orissa and East Bengal the defects have been decidedly large, and they equal about 40 per cent. The average rainfall in North Bengal has equalled nearly four inches, and that in South-West Bengal, North and South Behar, and Chutia Nagpur has equalled about three inches. The falls in East Bengal have been little more than two inches, or an inch and-a-half less than the normal amount, while in Orissa the fall has been less than an inch and-a-half, or an inch in defect of the normal.

The falls in Assam have also been heavy, and at Sibsagar 7·83 inches is reported, at Dhubri 4·19 inches, and at Silchar 2·92 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 4th of July 1891 :—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·5° higher; and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h. 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

Report on the Vital Statistics in twenty-seven of the principal towns of Bengal for the Quarter ending 31st March 1891.

BIRTHS.

THE total births registered in twenty-seven of the principal towns of Bengal during the three months ending with March 1891 numbered 6,112, being less than in the preceding quarter by 872, but greater than the average of five previous corresponding periods (1886—90) by 718, and correspond to an annual rate of 23·88 per 1,000 of the aggregate population of those towns, which is 1,072,359. This rate is 2·68 higher than the mean rate of the corresponding quarter of the past five years, 1886—90, and is also higher than the rate of the corresponding period of any of the past five years with which comparison is instituted, vide the figures below—

	Quarter ending 31st March of—
	1886.	1887.	1888.	1889.	1890.	Quarterly average of five years, 1886—90.	1891.
Ratio of births per 1,000 of the population per annum	20·92	20 39	20·32	23·16	21·44	21·20	23·88

Of the total births, 3,387 were males and 3,025 females, or, in other words, they occurred in the relative proportion 111 of the former to 100 of the latter. Although, on the whole, there were more boys born than girls, yet in nine towns, viz, Hughli and Chinsurah, Utterpara, Ranaghat, Santipore, Jessore, Naraingani, Mozufferpore, Chupra and Poori, the female births exceeded the male births.

The births registered in each of the twenty-seven principal towns during the first quarter of 1891, 1890, and the average of the five years, 1886—90, correspond to the following rates per 1,000 of the population of those towns :—

Dacca	17·56	16·80	16·60	TOTAL ..	23·88	21 44	21 44

It will be seen that the highest birth-rate during the quarter under notice was recorded in Rampore Beauleah, where it amounted to 44·44 per mille per annum, and the lowest in Patna City, where it was only 12·48. Only in Rampore Beauleah (44·44) and Comillah (41·72) did the statistics of birth registration exceed the supposed standard of 40 per mille per annum. In only four out of the twenty-seven principal towns of Bengal, viz., Monghyr (39·60), Naraingani (37·56), Serampore (34·56), and Durbhanga (31·76), did the birth-rate exceed 30 per 1,000 : in the other towns in the list birth registration must be pronounced to have been more or less defective, and manifestly so with regard to the registration in Patna City (12·48), Ranaghat (13·80), Chittagong (15·), Krishnagar (16·56), Jessore (17·40), Dacca (17·56), Midnapore (18·44), and Bhagulpore (18·80), where the statistics are so imperfectly recorded that the ratio was less than 20 per 1,000 of population.

DEATHS.

The total number of deaths registered in the twenty-seven principal towns of Bengal during the quarter ending 31st March 1891 amounted to 7,242, being greater than in the preceding quarter and the average of five previous corresponding periods by 334 and 1,497, respectively, and correspond to an annual rate of 27· per 1,000 of the aggregate population of those towns. This rate is 5·60 higher than the mean rate of the corresponding period of the past five years, 1886—90, and is also higher than the recorded mortality of the corresponding quarter of any of the past five years with which comparison is instituted, vide the figures below—

	Quarter ending 31st March of—

Ratio of deaths per 1,000 of the population per annum	29·21	21·64	20·36	20·28	22 46	21·40	28·00

Of the total deaths 3,931 (ratio 28·21 per mille per annum) occurred among the male and 3,311 (ratio 25·64) among the female population, or proportionally 110 males died for every 100 females, calculated on the proportion such mortality bears to the total male and female population.

The loss by deaths from the different classes of the community was greater among the Christians (28·72 per 1,000 per annum) than among either Hindus (27·60) or Mahomedans (25·64), while the Budhists (3·92) suffered the least.

The deaths registered in each of the twenty-seven principal towns during the first quarter of 1891, 1890, and the average of the five years, 1886—90, correspond to the following rates per 1,000 of the population of those towns:—

Midnapore attained the highest death-rate during the quarter under report—57·68 per mille—and the lowest death-rate was recorded in Arrah, 12·12. The high death-rate in Midnapore was due to an excessive mortality from small pox, more than one-third of the total deaths having occurred from that disease. The total mortality of the twenty-seven principal towns during the first quarter of 1891 is higher than the total rates of the two past periods with which it is compared. Eliminating Midnapore, Serampore stands next with the death-rate 53·56, followed by Poori 49·84, Chittagong 40·24, Gya 41·00, Jessore 41·88, and Narainganj 40·44. The death rates in fifteen towns ranged between 39·24 and 19·16, and in the remaining five others they were below 18·08 and above 12·12. Registration seems to be still defective in Arrah 12·12, Santipore 13·84, Patna City 14·08, Chupra 16·48 and Bhagulpore 18·08, no improvement in this respect being perceptible in any of these places.

The following table shows the registered mortality of the quarter under review from the several registered death-causes compared with that of the preceding quarter, the figures of the corresponding quarter of 1890 and the average of the corresponding quarter of the previous five years, 1886—90:—

	Ratio per 1,000 of population.
	Cholera.	Small-pox.	Fever.	Dysentery and diarrhœa.	Injury.	All other causes.
Quarter ending 31st March 1891	4·32	1·76	10·40	2·00	·40	7·08
Do. do. 31st December 1890	3·16	·32	11·76	3·40	·40	6·08
Do. do. 31st March 1890	2·64	·72	9·09	3·09	·48	6·32
Quarterly average of five years, 1886—90	2·32	·20	8·84	2·12	·40	6·48

The above statement, compared with the figures of the past periods, shows a noticeable increase in the mortality of the first quarter of 1891 under the heads cholera and small-pox. Compared, however, with the fourth quarter of 1890 there is a diminution in the mortality of the first quarter of 1891 under the head fever, but in comparison with that of the corresponding quarter of 1890 and the average of five previous corresponding periods 1886—90, there is a noticeable increase in the mortality from this cause.

The total deaths from cholera numbered 1,164 (ratio 4·32 per mille per annum) against 848 (ratio 3·16) in the preceding quarter. The death-rate from cholera was highest in Naraingunj, where it was 14·32 per mille per annum, then in Ranaghat 13·80, Jessore 13·64, Midnapore 12·24, Krishnagar 10·48, Serampore 10·40, Hughli and Chinsurah 9·32, Burdwan 8·44, Howrah 8·40, Utterpara 7·96, Poori 7·72, Comillah 7·68, Gya 7·08, Rampore Beauleah 7·04, Santipore 3·88, Bali 3·76, Dacca 3·52, and Chittagong 2·52. Two towns, Darjiling and Chupra, were absolutely free from the disease.

Small-pox caused 178 deaths (ratio 1·76) against 89 (ratio ·32) in the quarter before. Chittagong and Midnapore returned by far the greatest number, the death-rates in these two towns being 25·48 and 21·08 per mille per annum, respectively, and next to them was Gya, 2·24. In Chittagong 141 deaths from small-pox were registered out of a total of 256, and in Midnapore 177 out of a total of 184. In eleven towns, viz., Hughli and Chinsurah, Utterpara, Bali, Krishnagar, Ranaghat, Santipore, Rampore Beauleah, Darjiling, Naraingunj, Comillah and Purneah the disease was entirely absent.

Fever carried off 2,793 persons (ratio 10·40), and the deaths from dysentery and diarrhœa numbered 794 (ratio 2·96) against 3,125 (ratio 11·76), and 907 (3·40), respectively, in the preceding quarter. All the towns returned deaths from both causes, but the greatest mortality-rates from fever were recorded in Gya 24·48, Darjiling 22·20, Jessore 22·12, and Rampore Beauleah 20·80. Serampore returned the highest death-rate from dysentery and diarrhœa 11·41, followed by Poori 9·68.

Injury caused 108 deaths (ratio ·40) against 112 (ratio ·40) in the preceding quarter, and the deaths from all other causes numbered 1,905 (ratio 7·08) against 1,827 (ratio 6·88) in the preceding quarter. Poori returned the highest death-rate from the unspecified diseases coming under the head "All other causes," viz., 14·20 per 1,000. Serampore stands next with 13·88, followed by Naraingunj 13·36, Midnapore 12·36, Comillah 11·24, Monghyr 10·96, and Utterpara 10·88.

With regard to age, infants (under one year) as usual perished in the largest number, 167·80 per 1,000 of population; next come old persons (60 years and upwards) with a death-rate of 76·68 per 1,000. The lowest death-rate occurred between the ages of 10 and 15 years (12·16).

Detailed information regarding the vital statistics of the twenty-seven principal towns of Bengal during the quarter under review will be found in the statement appended.

Rule I.—The master of every in-coming vessel, on board of which there is either among the passengers or crew any case of cholera, small-pox, measles, or other epidemic disease common in India, or of diptheria, or scarlatina, or if two or more deaths from unknown or suspicious causes have occurred on the voyage, shall report such case or cases to the pilot or other boarding officer at the first opportunity, and shall hoist a signal, which shall be during the day Flag R of the Commercial Code at the main, and during night two white lights, one over the other, at the fore, and the pilot or other boarding officer shall at once report the occurrence of the disease or death to the Port Officer.

Rule II.—The Port Officer on receiving information that a vessel having small-pox on board has reached Juldiha shall at once communicate the information to the Health Officer of the Port and the District Superintendent of Police, with a view to obtain the services of vaccinators with a supply of lymph in sufficient time to commence the necessary vaccine operation immediately after the ship's arrival, and to obtain the assistance of the police for removing cases of small-pox on the ship's arrival to hospital.

Rule III.—The District Superintendent of Police, as early as possible after receipt of this information, shall instruct the Port Police Constable to place himself in communication with the Health Officer of the Port to receive such instruction as that officer may consider to be necessary for the efficient operation of these rules, and for the removal of the sick to hospital.

TEXT-BOOKS IN MIDDLE SCHOOLS.

THE subjoined list of text-books, authorised for use in middle schools of which the vernacular is Bengali, is published for general information.

From the date of publication, middle schools of every class, whether maintained or aided by Government, by District Boards, or by Municipalities, or competing for Government scholarships, are restricted to the use of the books included in this list.

Managers of schools will be at liberty to choose out of the list any books that they may prefer for use in the various classes of their schools, subject only to the following conditions:—

(a) The text-books prescribed by this office for the middle scholarship examinations of 1892 and 1893 must be read in the first classes of middle schools for those years respectively.

(b) The separate orders prescribing special text books in sanitary teaching for the different scholarship examinations are still in force.

With these exceptions, the selection of text-books from the authorised list, in every subject of every class, is henceforward left to the unrestricted choice of school managers.

For those subjects in which the two courses correspond, text-books for the first two classes of upper primary schools may be selected from those sanctioned in the list for the third and fourth classes of middle schools.

Authorised lists of text-books in Hindi and Urdu will be published hereafter. The list of text-books in Uriya has already been published.

Evidence of health and character must bear date not earlier than 1st May 1892. Applications for leave to alter or add to the list of subjects named will not be entertained unless received on or before the 5th July 1892.

The choice thus given, however, will be subject to any other arrangement which the Secretary of State or the Government of India may deem necessary.

(ii) Should any appointments have to be made in excess of the 32 notified in the Regulations, they will be added to such group or groups as to the Secretary of State may seem proper.

Application for permission to exchange appointments must be made to the Secretary of State within one month after the date of choice made under paragraph I, and in no case will an exchange be permitted unless it is, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, desirable in the public interest that it should be made.*

(iv) The giving or receiving directly or indirectly any money or other valuable consideration for an exchange will be deemed to vacate the selection and appointment of the Candidates interested.

(v) Selected Candidates will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their Certificate of Qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct.

(ix) All Candidates obtaining Certificates will be also required to enter into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to agree to such Regulations for the provision of pensions for their families as may be approved by the Secretary of State for India in Council. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1.

(x) Candidates rejected at the Final Examination of 1893 will in no case be allowed to present themselves for re-examination.

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

SYLLABUS

Showing the extent of the Examination in certain subjects at the Open Competition for admission into the Indian Civil Service in 1892.

THE Regulations governing the Open Competition for admission into the Indian Civil Service have been framed with a view to the principle regarded by Lord Macaulay's Committee, in 1854, as essential, viz., that the object of the competition should be to secure for the Indian Civil Service officers who "have received the best, the most liberal, the most finished education that their native country affords." The scheme of examination has accordingly been made to embrace most of the subjects of the Honour Schools in the Universities of Great Britain and Ireland. In administering the scheme, the Civil Service Commissioners, concurring with Lord Macaulay's Committee in the opinion "that no Candidate who may fail should, to whatever calling he may betake himself, have any reason to regret the time and labour which he has spent in preparing himself to be examined," desire to avoid all disturbance of the general course of University studies, and to render it possible, with due regard for the principle of Open Competition, for those who have graduated with honours at the Universities to attend the Examination for the Indian Civil Service with good prospects of success. The appended Syllabus shows in outline the intentions of the Commissioners with regard to the extent and character of the examination in those subjects which seem to require further definition. The scope of the examination in the subjects not mentioned in the Syllabus is sufficiently defined in the scheme published in the Regulations themselves. The Examiners will be instructed to keep the Standard in each subject up to the level of the highest course of study pursued in the Universities.

English Composition.—An Essay to be written on one of several subjects specified by the Civil Service Commissioners on their Examination Paper.

English Language and Literature.—The Examination will be in two parts. In the one the Candidates will be expected to show a general acquaintance with the course of English Literature, as represented (mainly) by the following writers in verse and prose, between the reign of Edward III and the accession of Queen Victoria:

Verse—Chaucer, Langland, Spenser, Shakespeare, Milton, Dryden, Pope, Gray, Collins, Johnson, Goldsmith, Crabbe, Cowper, Campbell, Wordsworth, Scott, Byron, Coleridge, Shelley, Keats.

Prose—Bacon, Sir Thomas Browne, Milton, Swift, Defoe, Addison, Johnson, Burke, Scott, Southey.

A minute knowledge of the works of these authors will not be looked for in this part of the Examination, which will, however, test how far the candidates have studied the chief productions of the greatest English writers in themselves, and are acquainted with the leading characteristics of their thought and style, and with the place which each of them occupies in the history of English literature. Candidates will also be expected to show that they have studied in these authors the history of the English language in respect of its vocabulary, syntax, and prosody.

The other part of the Examination will relate to one of the periods named below, which will follow each other, year by year, in the order indicated :—

1.	A.D. 1340 to A.D. 1600
(1892)	[Chaucer to Spenser]
2.	A.D. 1600 to A.D. 1700
(1893)	[Shakespeare to Dryden]
3.	A.D. 1700 to A.D. 1800
(1894)	[Pope to Cowper]
4.	A.D. 1800 to A.D. 1832
(1895)	[Nineteenth Century writers to the death of Scott]

The Examination in this part will require from Candidates a more minute acquaintance with the history of the English language and literature, as illustrated in the chief works produced in each period, and will be based to a considerable extent, but by no means exclusively, on certain books specified each year by the Commissioners.* The names placed under the dates are intended to suggest the general character of the literary development of the period, and, consequently, the natural limits of the Examination. All the works of Shakespeare, for example, will be regarded as falling within the second period; all the works of Swift within the third; all the works of Scott and Wordsworth within the last.

French Language and Literature.—Translation from French into English and from English into French; Critical questions on the French Language and Literature.

German Language and Literature.—As in French.

Latin Language and Literature.—Translation from Latin into English; Composition in Prose and Verse (in the place of the latter may be taken, by those who prefer it, a paper of critical questions on the style of the Latin orators and poets, based on Cicero, De Oratore, and Quintilian, Institutiones Oratoriæ, Lib. x.); Critical questions on the Latin Language and Literature.

Greek Language and Literature.—Translation from Greek into English; Composition in Prose and Verse [in the place of the latter may be taken, by those who prefer it, a paper of critical questions on the style of the Greek orators and poets, based on Aristotle's Rhetoric (Book iii) and Poetic]; Critical questions on the Greek Language and Literature.

Sanskrit Language and Literature.—Translation from Sanskrit into English and from English into Sanskrit; History of Sanskrit Literature (including knowledge of such Indian History as bears upon the subject); Sanskrit Grammar; Vedic Philology.

Arabic Language and Literature.—Translations as in Sanskrit; History of Arabic Literature; Arabic Grammar; Arabic Prosody.

English History.—General questions on English History from A.D. 800 to A.D. 1848; Questions on the Constitutional History of England from A.D. 800 to A.D. 1848.

Questions covering the whole period named will be set, but Candidates will be allowed to attempt only a limited number of them.

General Modern History.—Candidates may, at their choice, be examined in any one of the following periods :—

1. From the accession of Charlemagne to the Third Crusade.
   [A.D. 800 to A.D. 1193.]
2. From the Third Crusade to the Diet of Worms.
   [A.D. 1193 to A.D. 1521.]

* The books for 1892 are—
Chaucer: Prologue to the Canterbury Tales; The Flower and the Leaf; The Assembly of Foules Minor Poems.
Langland: Vision of Piers Plowman.
Spenser: Faery Queen, Books I, II; Shepherd's Kalendar.
Sir John Mandeville's Travels.
Sir Thomas More's Utopia.

3. From the Diet of Worms to the end of the reign of Louis XIV.
[A.D. 1521 to A.D. 1715.]
4. From the accession of Louis XV to the French Revolution of 1848.
[A.D. 1715 to A.D. 1848.]
Periods 3 and 4 will include Indian History.

Greek History.—Questions on the General History of Greece to the death of Alexander; questions on the Constitutional History of Greece during the same period.

Roman History.—Questions on the General History of Rome to the death of Vespasian; questions on the Constitutional History of Rome during the same period.

In Greek and Roman History Candidates will be expected to show a knowledge of the original authorities. Questions covering the whole period named will be set, but Candidates will be allowed to attempt only a limited number of them.

Mathematics.—Pure Mathematics: Algebra, Geometry (Euclid and Geometrical Conic Sections), Plane Trigonometry, Plane Analitical Geometry (less advanced portions) Differential Calculus (Elementary), Integral Calculus (Elementary).

Applied Mathematics: Statics, Dynamics of a Particle, Hydrostatics, Geometrical Optics, all treated without the aid of the Differential or Integral Calculus Applied Mathematics: Statics, including Attractions, Dynamics of a Particle, Rigid Dynamics, Hydromechanics, Geometrical and Physical Optics, Geometrical and Physical Astronomy, excluding the Planetary Theory.

Political Economy and Economic History.—Candidates will be expected to possess a knowledge of economic theory as treated in the larger text books; also a knowledge of the existing economic conditions and of statistical methods as applied to economic inquiries, together with a general knowledge of the history of industry, land tenure, and economic legislation in the United Kingdom.

Logic and Mental Philosophy (Ancient and Modern).—Logic will include both Deductive and Inductive Logic.

THE TRIBES AND CASTES OF BENGAL.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 9th July 1891.

RESOLUTION.

READ again—

The Resolution in the Financial Department, dated 30th April 1885, on the subject of the appointment of Mr. H. H. Risley, C.S., to conduct an enquiry into the Castes and Occupations of the people of Bengal.

Read—

Letter dated 12th December 1890, from Mr. H. H. Risley, C.S., submitting the outlines of a scheme for the continuation of Ethnographic Researches in Bengal, and for their extension to other parts of India.

Letter dated 28th February 1891, from Mr. H. H. Risley, C.S., intimating the approaching completion of the printing of his work.

Endorsement No. 441, dated 12th June 1891, from the Home Department of the Government of India, forwarding copy of a despatch from the Secretary of State regarding the distribution of two volumes of Mr. Risley's books.

In the Resolution of the 30th April 1885, cited in the preamble, it was stated (1) that the Government of India, at the instance of the Census Commissioner in 1882, had suggested that steps should be taken towards the collection of more precise information regarding the Castes and Occupations of the people of India; (2) that Mr. H. H. Risley, C.S., had been selected, to be deputed for two years, to prosecute the Ethnographic researches contemplated; (3) that the Lieutenant-Governor, apart from the scientific results, anticipated substantial administrative benefits from these enquiries; (4) that a series of questions would be published and circulated; and (5) that every District Officer would be requested to nominate one or more of his subordinates, who might be qualified and willing to assist, in addition to their ordinary work, in collecting information for their respective districts or sub-divisions. Subsequently his deputation on special duty was extended to the 31st March 1888, with the approval of the Secretary of State for India.

2. The two volumes now under review contain the Ethnographic Glossary of all the castes, tribes, sub-castes and sections of which a substantial number of representatives is found in Bengal, with an introductory essay on Caste in relation to Marriage. To assist Mr. Risley in carrying out this work, there was already a considerable literature available in the shape of old reports, journals and transactions of learned societies; in addition to this, the unpublished notes of the late Dr. James Wise on the tribes, castes, and occupations of Eastern Bengal, covering some 400 pages of print, with a quantity of manuscript material, were placed at Mr. Risley's disposal; he had also the new information specially collected from the 188 correspondents named in Appendix IV to Volume II of the Glossary.

3. The Ethnographic Glossary is a mine of valuable information; but it is no detraction to the industry or the ability of its compiler to say that a complete knowledge of the caste system of India will not be obtained from its study alone. The greatest and purest castes of India, the Brahmins and Rajputs, are (with the one exception of the Maithila Brahmins of Behar) exotics in Bengal, and it is only in Upper India, the country of their origin, that a full understanding of their main permanent sub-divisions, and of the mutual relations of those sub-divisions, can be obtained; nevertheless much learned information is here contained respecting those clans or individuals of those castes who have emigrated into Bengal, and whose descendants have established local sub-castes with local customs of their own. But it is with regard to the numerous lower castes which have sprung up in Bengal, and to the representatives of the aboriginal races who have more or less come under Hinduising influences, that the information in these volumes is fullest and most abundant. Regarding such tribes and castes it certainly contains the most complete account that has hitherto been put on official record.

4. Of the value of the Ethnographic Glossary (as a dictionary of the castes and their occupations) to the Administration there can be no doubt. The more Government officers know about the religious and social customs of the people of their districts, the better able they will be to deal with either the possible social problems of the future, or with the practical questions arising in their ordinary work, such as the relations of different castes to the land, their privileges in respect of rent, their relations to trade, their status in civil society, their internal organization, their rules as to marriage and divorce, and as to the giving and receiving of famine-relief. Much influence for good over the people can be obtained by both Executive and Judicial officers by acquiring, and having a reputation for possessing, an intimate knowledge of the circumstances and surroundings of their actual life. It has long been the policy of Government to recognise that the acquisition of such knowledge is to be commended and encouraged, and His Honour trusts that the settlement operations in progress will conduce in a similar way to the enlargement of our acquaintance with the economic conditions of the people and the facts of rural life. All administrative and executive officers should make constant reference to this portion of Mr. Risley's work for their own immediate advantage, and with a view to its correction, where necessary, and amplification.

5. In his introductory essay to the Ethnographic Glossary, Mr. Risley has touched on a number of questions of the highest interest in connection with the castes and customs of the people, and on all that he has touched he has thrown the light of his literary skill, his scholarship, wide reading and Indian experience. The subject which has principally attracted his attention is the origin of the rules of exogamy, which he attributes to a sort of natural selection, that is, to the discovery that close interbreeding leads to physical weakness. In this conclusion he will find few to disagree with him; but he is perhaps inclined to think of the introduction of these rules as a matter of too remote antiquity: at any rate the rule of endogamy preceded that of exogamy. It was first the custom of the tribe or caste to marry wholly within its own limits; then, finding the results disastrous, each tribe sub-divided itself into sections which were not allowed to intermarry, and in course of time these sub-divisions became more and more intricate. Thus the Brahmins divided themselves into their ten great classes—the five Northern (Gaur) and the five Southern (Dravér), while the Rajputs split up into the "36 Royal Races." These again divided themselves into "Gotras" or sects named after a Rishi or a Muni, who was supposed to be the spiritual father of the ancestor of the Gotra, and within these sects intermarriage was prohibited. The lower castes, actuated by the passion for ceremonial purity (a solvent principle which explains many of the difficulties with which Mr. Risley * deals), sub-divided themselves similarly into Gotras, which they named sometimes after localities (commonly called Gaon-Gotras) sometimes after ancestral nick-names and after the names of animals, which also Mr. Risley conceives to have been not totems in the strict sense, but nick-names of the ancestors or eponymi of the Gotras. These and other questions on which Mr. Risley has offered valuable observations, such as the origin of totemism, the effect of marriage customs on female infanticide, widow and infant marriage, the law and influence of hypergamy, find an appropriate place in this essay. His treatment of these subjects will doubtless attract the attention they deserve, but it would be out of place for Government to enter into any criticism of them.

6. It was at one time intended that the volumes of castes and occupations should be circulated to District Officers in connection with the operations of the Census of February 1891, with a view to diminishing the number of "unknown" entries which appeared in the caste tables of 1881. It has, however, been decided to let the people speak for themselves, and that confusion and complications will best be avoided by not furnishing the Ethnographic Glossary to the officers at present engaged in the compilation of the Census statistics before the abstraction and tabulation of the figures are completed in district offices. It will, however, be used in the final compilation to be made by the Superintendent of Census Operations at Calcutta, and the latter's classification will be returned for criticism to the District Officers. The eventual result will, it is hoped, show a marked improvement over any previous enumeration and sub-division of the castes in Bengal.

7. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that Bengal is the only province in which any sustained attempt has been made to carry out the wishes of the Government of India with respect to the investigation of castes and occupations originating from the Census of 1881. This work will, at any rate, help to meet the charge sometimes made that little or nothing is done to encourage and foster scientific enquiry in the Lower Provinces. Though His Honour cannot venture to hope that anything like the final word has yet been said on the numerous and important lines opened out for discussion in Mr. Risley's volumes, he hails with sincere satisfaction their publication after six years' preparation as constituting a most valuable contribution to the stock of knowledge, and as affording a substantial frame-work on which further enquiries can be instituted and their results incorporated. He believes firmly in the value of ventilating such questions, and in the accumulation and arrangement of information. The two volumes of the Ethnographic Glossary will now be circulated to all Commissioners, District and Sub-divisional Officers, and other persons interested, and their criticism will be invited with a view to supplement the deficiencies incidental to such an undertaking. On receipt of sufficient corrections and fresh materials, a revised edition of the Glossary will be published. It is Sir Charles Elliott's wish that all officers will communicate freely with Mr. Risley, in accordance with the invitation conveyed in the Preface of the work under consideration.

8. Soon after the commencement of his investigations, Mr. Risley proposed to supplement his enquiries into the tribes and castes of Bengal by an examination, on the methods approved by European anthropologists, of the physical characteristics of certain selected castes and tribes. As all castes are endogamous, i.e. intermarry only within their own limits, they preserve the purity of their blood in a degree which cannot exist in other nations where cross-marriages are common. If, therefore, there is truth in the theory that certain physical characteristics and proportions are persistent and hereditary, and differ in different races, Indian castes offer a field for testing this theory which cannot be equalled elsewhere. Accordingly he set himself to prepare statistics of the weight and height, the facial angle, and the specific dimensions of the head, nose, cheekbones, orbits, forehead and zygomatic arches of a hundred individuals in each of 87 castes. Fifteen of these castes belong to Bengal, five to the Chittagong Hills, eight to the Darjeeling Hills, seventeen to Chota Nagpore, ten to Behar, twenty-three to the North-Western Provinces, and nine to the Punjab. The figures comprising these tests (ten in number) for each of the 8,700 persons measured, occupied two volumes of "Anthropometric data" and are prefaced by tables showing the average figure for each of the 87 castes under each of the ten tests. Mr. Risley has not as yet indicated what conclusions can, in his opinion, be deduced from this laborious compilation, and it would be premature for the Government to express any opinion on the subject. The Lieutenant-Governor fully appreciates the fact that India offers a splendid field for the prosecution of ethnological researches, and that Bengal, with its enormous area and vast population, affords opportunities for investigation of special importance. He will therefore always gladly welcome and do all in his power, consistently with economy, to encourage anthropometric enquiries. With these few remarks he will leave this portion of Mr. Risley's work to the criticism of the learned Societies and anthropologists to whom, in compliance with the list received from the Secretary of State for India, it will now be distributed.

9. The scheme which Mr. Risley has submitted in outline for the continuation of ethnographical researches in the Lower Provinces, and for their extension to other parts of India, will now be laid before the Government of India. Its main features are—the appointment of an unpaid Director of Ethnological enquiries in each of the larger provinces, the circulation of ethnographic questions, the selection of subjects for enquiry, the preparation of monographs on castes, tribes, social groups, and different branches of custom and folklore, and their distribution to learned Societies in Europe. It may be admitted that systematic working in the direction indicated could not fail to elicit a considerable amount of valuable information, and the scheme is happily founded on an economical basis. But for its full and successful development, it would require more specialists than are likely to be found in India, and there is the ever-present objection to adding more work to the duties of District Officers already overtaxed. At the same time there would be much advantage in placing such work in the hands of one officer—of Mr. Risley himself, for instance, in Bengal—with whom voluntary contributors on the subjects indicated could freely communicate with the assurance that their views and information would receive adequate recognition.

10. It remains only for the Lieutenant-Governor to acknowledge the excellent results of Mr. Risley's labours during a period of years, on deputation, on leave, and concurrently with his ordinary duties. These volumes bear testimony to his ability, literary power, and industry, as well as to his rarer gift of philosophical and historical insight. His work in the field of Anthropology has already established his reputation with University authorities in England and learned Societies in Europe, and has gained for him the signal distinction of Honorary Member of the French Academy. In congratulating Mr. Risley on his achievements, now to be published, His Honour desires to express the hope that he will be able to find time, in the intervals of the duties of his office, to prosecute further the researches which he has done so much to advance. Sir Charles Elliott will also take this opportunity of thanking the European scholars and men of science who have helped Mr. Risley with advice and criticism,—more particularly Professor Flower, C.B., F.R.S., Director of the Natural History Branch of the British Museum; Professor Paul Topinard, of the School of Anthropology, and Secretary of the Anthropological Society of Paris, to whom the volumes of Anthropometric data are dedicated: Professor Max Müller; Dr. Tiele of Leyden; Dr. Friedrich Müller of Vienna; Herr Kart Panka of Vienna; Sir John Lubbock, Bart., M.P.; Mr. Andrew Lang; Mr. J. F. K. Hewitt (late of the Bengal Civil Service); and Professor Kollmann. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are also due to Mr. Risley's fellow-workers in India, namely, Dr. D. D. REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE BRIGADE ACT IV (B.C.) OF 1883 IN CALCUTTA DURING THE YEAR 1890-91.

No. 33J., dated Calcutta, the 1st July 1891.

From—HARRY LEE, ESQ., C.S., Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report under section 30 of Act IV (B.C) of 1883 of the jute screw and warehouses in Calcutta for the year ended 31st March 1891.

2. At the close of last year there were 97 sanctioned warehouses on the register, and 7 new warehouses were established during the year. These make up the total number to 104. Of these, the license of No. 67, Sobha Bazar Street, was cancelled during the year, as the premises were converted into a dwelling-house. A complete list of the remaining 103, arranged according to the Acts under which they were originally licensed, is appended to this report.

3. Thirteen applications were received during the year as shown below—

5. During the jute season so large a quantity of jute was imported into the town that the licensed godowns proved insufficient, and some importers stored their jute in unlicensed huts. These were in the first instance prosecuted and fined, and then, on their application, temporary licenses were granted for three months. Rupees 650 was realized in this way.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h. 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; lr, lightning reflection.

pressure has been registered. In Assam pressure has been in defect by an average amount of 0·014."

Temperature.—In the first week of June, owing to the unusual rainfall the mean temperature for the week was in defect of the normal by nearly 2°. In the second week temperature continued rather largely in defect at first, but towards its close it was rising rather rapidly, and the mean temperature of the province was still 1·1° below the normal. In the third and fourth weeks very high temperatures were reported, and in the case of the maximum temperature at several stations an excess of 17° was registered for several days, while excess amounts of about 10° were rather common, and the mean temperature of the third week was 3° in excess and of the fourth week 4° in excess in Bengal In Assam, however, temperature was below the normal in the third week and 1·6° above it in the fourth. These variations have therefore again to a great extent neutralized each other, and the mean temperature of the province of Bengal for the month has been only about 1° in excess of the normal, but the excess has been mainly confined to Orissa, South-West Bengal, and South Behar. In Assam, on the other hand, a slight defect of 0·5° has been registered.

Rainfall.—The total rainfall for the month has averaged thirteen inches in East Bengal, nine inches in North Bengal, eight inches in North Behar, about six inches in South-West Bengal and South Behar, nearly four inches in Chutia Nagpur and two and-a-half inches in Orissa. Compared with the normal amounts for the period, these falls represent a defect of six per cent in North Behar, of seventeen per cent. in South Behar, of twenty-nine per cent. in East Bengal, of thirty-nine per cent in South-West Bengal, of forty-seven per cent. in North Bengal, of fifty-three per cent. in Chutia Nagpur, and of seventy-two per cent. in Orissa. Expressed in inches of rain, the defect in each district has been as follows :—North Bengal eight, Orissa six, East Bengal five, Chutia Nagpur and South-West Bengal four, and Behar one inch. The number of rainy days in the month has also been very much smaller than usual, and in Chutia Nagpur and Orissa in particular the number of days on which rain fell was only about half the number usual at this season.

The following table gives a condensed view of the rainfall of the various divisions of Bengal in June, and in each of the previous months of the present year, as compared with the normal values for the same periods. The figures given represent the actual falls expressed as percentages of the normal falls, and it will there be seen that while the rainfall of June was extremely deficient, that of May was exceptionally large, and in the previous four months January and April were months of deficient falls, while February and March were months of excessive precipitation. So heavy, indeed, have the falls been in February, March and May, that the general average fall for the first six months of the year is in all cases, except Orissa and North Bengal, in distinct excess of the normal:—

Meteorological Divisions	January.	February.	March.	April.	May.	June.	Actual rainfall of first six months of 1891 expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period.
Orissa	11	167	424	86	134	28	87

South Behar	253	159	734	30	165	88	136
Chutia Nagpur	163	91	506	30	148	47	104

The falls for June have thus not only been very deficient generally over the whole province, but in exceptional districts rainfall has been almost absent. This is specially the case in the south of Orissa, where the Poorce and Cuttack districts have received falls which are only from ten to less than twenty per cent. of the normal falls, and the actual rainfalls only average about one inch. Extremely deficient falls are also reported from the districts of Lohardugga, Julpiguri, Chittagong, Burdwan, Balasore, Beerbhoom, Dinagepur, Rungpur, Purneah, and Singbhoom.

On the other hand, in the midst of these defects a few districts have been areas of unusually heavy precipitation, and thus falls considerably in excess of the normal values are reported from the districts of Mozufferpur, Sarun, and Patna, while falls are in slight excess in Dacca, Mymensingh, and Gya.

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of June in all districts in the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance being made for the area which each represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the weekly and monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal district rainfall as determined from the rainfall records of the past 18 years; the second column the district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in the district; the third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal as a percentage, while the fourth gives the percentage variation or the difference of column three from 100:—

Explanation.—.....indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 14th July 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 11TH OF JULY 1891.

On the last day of the previous week it was reported that a very feeble area of low pressure had commenced to form in the middle of the province near Berhampore and Furreedpore, and that the winds generally showed a distinct tendency to cyclonic circulation round this centre. Thus conditions had become decidedly favourable for moderate to heavy rainfall over the whole province. On the 5th of July, or the first day of the present week, pressure had fallen rapidly over the whole province, the fall in North Bengal and Behar equalling a tenth of an inch, while in the southern districts it was not more than three or four-hundredths of an inch. The lowest pressures on this day were reported from Rampore Beauleah, Bhagulpore, and Dinagepore, and thus the feeble low-pressure area had advanced in a northerly direction in the twenty-four hours from the 4th to the 5th. Winds continued to show a feeble cyclonic circulation with a centre near Bhagulpore. General rainfall, in many cases of large amounts, was reported over the whole province on the morning of the 5th, the rainfall being lightest and most local in Orissa; falls in excess of four inches were on this day registered at Jehanabad, Burdwan, Kotalpore, Harishpore, Dacca, Naraingunge, Kishoregunge, Gajol, and Balumat, while falls in excess of two and three inches were very numerous. On the 6th a rather large fall of pressure had taken place at Dhubri and Rungpore, while elsewhere the falls were smaller, and in some cases pressure was rising The area of low pressure was not so well defined on this day, but it appears to have advanced over the west of Assam, and the lowest pressure was reported at Dhubri. The feeble cyclonic circulation of winds had quite disappeared and south-westerly and westerly winds had set in at almost all stations, except in Assam, where winds were north-easterly. Again, on the morning of the 6th moderate to heavy rain was reported from almost every station in the province, the falls at some of the eastern and northern stations being exceptionally large; thus Satkanya (Chittagong district) reported 9·25 inches, Rangamati 6 inches, Culna 5·20 inches, and Raigunge 5·08 inches, and there were very numerous falls in excess of two and three inches. On the 7th the depression in North-East Bengal began to fill up, the rise at Dhubri and Rungpore exceeding a tenth of an inch, and the distribution of pressure became much more normal than it had been for some days, but winds, however, continued westerly and south-westerly over practically the whole province. On the 7th again general rainfall was reported in Orissa, East and North Bengal, Assam and parts of Behar, but the falls elsewhere were more local. Dhubri on this day reported 6 32 inches of rain, Bhowanigunge received 7·23 inches, Satkanya 8·44 inches, Rungpore 5·33 inches, Debigunge 5·40 inches, Ulipore 4·98 inches, and Bagdogra 4 78 inches. On the 8th the variations of pressure were small, and pressure continued generally rather largely in defect of the normal, while winds were also unchanged. Rain was received in almost the same districts as on the 7th, but the falls commenced to fall off in heaviness in all districts except East and North Bengal, where Dinhatta and Cooch Behar received between six and seven inches, Bagdogra more than five, and Satkanya a fall of no less than 14·63 inches. On the 9th the only change of importance was that pressure had fallen at the eastern stations, rather intensifying the defect over this area, and rainfall on this day became rather local, and in many cases much lighter, in all districts except North Bengal and Assam, and no exceptionally heavy falls were registered on this day. On the 10th conditions began to change more rapidly, and pressure fell in some cases in the centre and west of the province by almost a tenth of an inch. Winds therefore began to change also, and easterly winds commenced to set in at the eastern stations. On the 11th pressure had risen over the whole of Bengal, except at Saugor Island and the Orissa stations, and the lowest pressure in the province was reported at Saugor Island. A distinct cyclonic circulation of winds also set up round the north-west angle of the Bay, pointing to the existence of a slight depression over this area, and the depression, though in itself of little importance, was the centre of the wind circulation of the whole province, and winds, which on the 10th had been westerly and south-westerly over almost the whole province, became suddenly easterly and south-easterly. The amount of rainfall reported on the 10th and 11th, however, was generally small except in the districts in and near the hills of North Bengal.

In the Bay for almost the whole week the monsoon winds have been blowing decidedly strongly, the force amounting almost to a gale of wind on some days. It would, however, still appear that the wind directions continue to be rather more westerly than usual, and almost throughout the week heavy rain has been falling at the Burma stations.

Pressure—Has been unusually low almost throughout the week, and the mean pressure has been generally more than a tenth of an inch in defect. From the existence of the depression in the north of the province during a part of the week, that area has shewn pressure even more largely in defect of the normal than the remainder of the province, and thus the defect is from 0·16″ to 0·18″ at such stations as Dinagepore, Rungpore, Julpigoree, Sibsagar, and Dhubri; while, on the other hand, the defects in Orissa have been small, and at False Point and Cuttack they are less than a twentieth of an inch.

Temperature—Owing to the heavy rainfall in the early part of the week, temperature became decidedly low, and the mean temperature for the week has been in distinct defect of the normal in Orissa and South-West, East and North Bengal, though it has been in slight excess in North Behar and Chutia Nagpur. In South Behar the excess has been rather larger, and equals 2·5°. For the whole province the mean temperature for the week has been absolutely normal. In Assam a defect of 0·6° has been registered.

Rainfall—For the week has been in excess of the normal in all districts except Orissa, where the fall has been not very much larger than a third the usual amount. The excess falls have been comparatively small in Chutia Nagpur, South Behar, South-West Bengal, and North Behar, where they are less than one inch; but in East and North Bengal the falls have been about four inches in excess, or considerably more than twice the normal Falls averaging seven inches have been received during the week in East and North Bengal, about three inches have fallen in South-West Bengal, North Behar, and Chutia Nagpur, and two and a-half inches in South Behar. In Orissa, on the other hand, the falls have equalled only about one inch.

Exceptionally heavy falls have been received in the following districts:—Burdwan, Nuddea, Jessore, Khoolna, Chittagong, Chittagong Hill Tracts, Dinagepore, Rungpore, Julpigoree, and Cooch Behar; while very defective falls have been received in Pooree, Balasore, Midnapore, and Singbhoom.

In Assam, Dhubri during the week has received 13·45 inches, Sibsagar 6·81 inches, and Silchar 4·50 inches of rain.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 11th of July 1891:—

I.—The commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft arriving from Jedda, shall, before entering the harbour, indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come.

II.—Such commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.

III.—Immediately on arrival the commander shall cause the letter R of the Commercial Signal Code to be hoisted, and shall keep the said flag flying during his stay in port or until authorized by the Health Officer to haul it down. If communication with the shore is not desired, the vessel shall anchor at such place as may be pointed out by the Port authorities, having regard to the season of the year. If communication with the shore is desired, the Health Officer shall go alongside the vessel, and, after all necessary enquiries, shall direct the commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage duly appointed and notified in that behalf by the Resident, there to remain for a period of seven days from the date of arrival, or for the shorter period prescribed in Rule IV, and undergo disinfection, which should apply as well to crew, passengers, effects, and suspectible goods.

IV.—If the Health Officer of the Port has sufficient evidence that no cases of a suspicious nature have taken place on board during the voyage, and if the vessel is, besides, in good hygienic condition, the duration of the quarantine will be diminished according to the following scale:—

After eight days of voyage	...	...	Six days of quarantine.
Do. nine	ditto	...	...	Five ditto.

V.—If during the period a vessel is at the quarantine anchorage aforesaid any case or cases of cholera should occur on board, the said vessel shall remain in quarantine for a period of seven days from the date of the last case occurring, and be subject to all the prohibitions provided for in Rule III.

VI.—When any vessel has been placed in quarantine as aforesaid, the Health Officer may direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from illness, and whose services may not be required on board the vessel, to such particular spots as may from time to time be selected by the Resident as places of quarantine, there to remain for a period of seven days. If a case of cholera occurs among such passengers and crew during any such period, they shall remain in a place of quarantine for a period of fifteen days from the date of the occurrence of the last case of such illness.

VII.—Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as the Health Officer may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

VIII.—It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to all vessels in quarantine of such supplies of provisions, stores, and other articles as may be required by those on board. Rules for the Medical Inspection of Vessels at the Port of Chittagong.

Rule I.—The master of every in-coming vessel, on board of which there is either among the passengers or crew any case of cholera, small-pox, measles, or other epidemic disease common in India, or of diptheria, or scarlatina, or if two or more deaths from unknown or suspicious causes have occurred on the voyage, shall report such case or cases to the pilot or other boarding officer at the first opportunity, and shall hoist a signal, which shall be during the day Flag R of the Commercial Code at the main, and during night two white lights, one over the other, at the fore, and the pilot or other boarding officer shall at once report the occurrence of the disease or death to the Port Officer.

Rule II.—The Port Officer on receiving information that a vessel having small-pox on board has reached Juldiha shall at once communicate the information to the Health Officer of the Port and the District Superintendent of Police, with a view to obtain the services of vaccinators with a supply of lymph in sufficient time to commence the necessary vaccine operation immediately after the ship's arrival, and to obtain the assistance of the police for removing cases of small-pox on the ship's arrival to hospital.

Rule III.—The District Superintendent of Police, as early as possible after receipt of this information, shall instruct the Port Police Constable to place himself in communication with the Health Officer of the Port to receive such instruction as that officer may consider to be necessary for the efficient operation of these rules, and for the removal of the sick to hospital.

Rule IV.—The Health Officer, as early as possible after the arrival of the vessel in port, shall inspect it, and more especially its sanitary condition, shall enquire into the circumstances attending the case or cases of the said disease, shall arrange for the conveyance of all persons suffering from such disease to a hospital, unless such person, if suffering from a disease other than small-pox, or his friends, can make adequate provision elsewhere, and shall also arrange for the disposal of the dead, if any, if the friends are not able to make suitable arrangements or are unwilling to carry them out.

Rule V.—Where the disease or diseases in question, other than small-pox, is or are limited to one or two cases, the vessel shall not be prohibited from taking up the usual place of anchorage in the port, nor shall the passengers be detained on board pending the inspection of the Health Officer; but the master of the vessel shall be held responsible that no passenger suspected of having such disease is allowed to depart before this inspection.

Rule VI.—Where cases other than small-pox have been more numerous than two, or when from their occurring on a pilgrim or emigrant ship, or for other special reasons, further precaution may be deemed advisable, the vessel shall anchor at Juldiha, and none of the passengers shall be allowed to leave until the Health Officer has made his inspection.

It shall be the duty of the Health Officer of the Port to vaccinate or have vaccinated all persons who appear to require this protection and are willing to accept it, and to arrange with the police for the removal to hospital of all affected persons after their bodies have been anointed with carbolised oil or other disinfectant.

Rule VIII.—Vessels coming under these last two rules shall be thoroughly cleansed and disinfected in the manner provided by the rules made under the Indian Ports Act, 1889.

The Notification of the 1st May 1891, selecting certain candidates to be probationers of the Executive Branch of the Provincial Service.

The Notification of the 2nd June 1891, selecting one of the candidates for appointment as Sub-Deputy Collector.

When the notification of the 16th September 1890 was issued, it was contemplated that only eight Deputy Magistrate-Collectors would be required during the year 1891, and it was proposed to select them as follows:—Four solely by competition, two from the candidates who appeared at the examination and obtained not less than one-third marks, and two by promotion from the grades of Special Deputy Collectors and Sub-Deputy Collectors.

2. The examination was held on the 23rd, 24th and 26th March at the Senate House of the Calcutta University. Fifty-six candidates appeared and were examined in papers set by the following gentlemen:—

Essay	...	...	Mr. W. T. Webb, M.A., Professor, Presidency College.
Sanskrit	...	...	Babu Nilmoney Mookerjee, M.A., Professor, Presidency College.

Latin ... ... English Language and Literature. Mental and Moral Science ...	Mr. H. M. Percival, M.A., Professor, Presidency College.
Persian	Shams-ul-ulama Moulvi Ahmed, Professor, Presidency College.
Mathematics	Mr. J. H. Gilliland, B.A., Professor, Presidency College.
Physics and Chemistry ...	Mr. A. Macdonnell, M.A., Professor, Sibpore Engineering College.
Law	Mr. H. H. Risley, B.A., C.S. „ C. M. W. Brett, Barrister-at-law; C.S.

On the result of this examination the following candidates were appointed on the 1st May last to be probationers of the Executive branch of the Provincial Service on a salary of Rs. 50 per mensem, and were posted to the head-quarters of the districts mentioned opposite to their names :—

1. Babu Rajani Prasad Neogi, M.A., Mymensingh.
2. „ Jnanendra Nath Chaudhuri, M.A., B.L., Jessore.
3. „ Rakhal Mohan Banerjea, M.A., Manbhum.
4. „ Jogendra Kumar Sinha, M.A., Rajshahye.
5. Moulvi Mahomed Shamsuzzoha, B.A., Patna.
6. Babu Nayananjan Bhattacharji, M.A., Burdwan and afterwards Bankura.

3. Further experience has shown that the estimate made in September last was far below the mark. Owing to the large number of officers of the Imperial Service who have been drafted from this Province to Burmah and Assam, there are deficiencies in the cadre number of that Service especially during the leave season from March to October, and the Government of India have pointed out that when the number of members of the Imperial Service available for what are known as sub-divisional charges falls for the time being below the cadre number, the Local Government has power to second the officers on deputation by appointing Deputy Magistrate-Collectors in their places, up to the number required.

Besides the officers drafted to Burmah and Assam, several officers of the Imperial Service have lately been employed upon settlement duty in this Province, whom it is necessary to second in like manner.

Further, there have been more casualties in the ranks of the Provincial Service than were anticipated in September last.

4. Consequently the Lieutenant-Governor has found that the number of officers required for the Provincial Service to fill up the permanent and temporary vacancies this year is at least 26 instead of 8, as was anticipated ten months ago. In order to meet this deficiency, the Lieutenant-Governor appointed early in the year 17 gentlemen to be probationary Deputy Magistrate-Collectors on Rs. 200 per mensem, of whom eight were candidates who had been selected at the examination last year, and nine were Special Deputy Collectors or Sub-Deputy Collectors promoted. In addition to these, Mr. T. J. L. Lucas, B.A., and Mr. J. A. Craven, who were among the candidates selected on the result of the examination held in March last, were directly appointed to be probationary Deputy Magistrate-Collectors on Rs 200 per mensem with the view to their eventually taking the places of two of the European officers in the Sonthal Pergunnahs who are expected to retire within this year under the 55 years' rule.

5. In spite of these appointments, there are still deficiencies in the cadre number of the Provincial Service, and the Lieutenant-Governor has decided upon appointing Mr. H. A. Lane, M.A., an educational officer of approved character, to be a probationary Deputy Magistrate-Collector on Rs 200 per mensem with a view to his eventually filling up another vacancy in the Sonthal Pergunnahs in the place of an officer who will retire next year. Mr. Lane will retain his lien on his appointment in the Education Department whilst in the probationary grade. The six gentlemen named in paragraph 2, who were appointed as probationers on 1st May last, will also be at once appointed to be probationary Deputy Magistrate-Collectors on Rs. 200 per mensem. They will for the present continue at the stations where they are now posted, and will each be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the third class. As the reports concerning these six probationers received from the districts in which they have been stationed during the short time they have been on probation have been very favourable, the Lieutenant-Governor has appointed them without waiting for any further period of training. They are liable to reversion at the end of the leave season, though this is unlikely if they continue to give satisfaction. At the same time, Sir Charles Elliott thinks that in future officers selected on the result of examination should pass a longer period of probation than has been found possible this year, and in order to meet the requirements of the coming year, he has decided to appoint as probationers of the Executive branch of the Provincial Service on a salary of Rs. 50 per mensem the following gentlemen, numbered 1 to 12, who at the recent examination stood next in order of merit after the first four, and those numbered 13 to 16 from among the remainder who obtained upwards of one-third marks and appear to be otherwise qualified, viz.—

1. Babu Jogendra Kumar Ghose, M.A.
2. „ Rakhal Das Chatterjea, M.A.
3. „ Soshi Bhushan Mukherjea, B.A.
4. „ Sarat Chunder Sen Gupta, B.A.
5. „ Suresh Chunder Sinha, M.A.
6. „ Srigopal Bhattacherjea, M.A
7. „ Charu Chunder Chatterjea, M.A., B.L.
8. Babu Syam Lal Gupta, M.A.
9. „ Fakir Chunder Chatterjea, B.A.
10. „ Bhabataran Chattopadhya, B.A.
11. „ Ashutosh Banerjea, B.A.
12. „ Suresh Chunder Ball, M.A.
13. Moulvi Ashfaq Hossein, M.A.
14. Babu Satish Chunder Sen, B.A., B.L.
15. Moulvi Abul Mahmood, B.A.
16. Khondkar Fazlal Huq, B.A.

Separate orders will be passed posting these gentlemen to districts.

6. The examination for Sub-Deputy Collectorships took place at the same time as that for the Provincial Service, and 31 candidates, restricted to the following classes, as notified in paragraph 9 of the notification of the 16th September 1890, appeared—

(a) those whose names had been registered as candidates for appointment as Sub-Deputy Collectors;

(b) those registered candidates for appointment as Deputy Collectors who wished to compete in the examination for Sub-Deputy Collectorships;

(c) candidates selected from the list of applicants for registration for appointment as Sub-Deputy Collectors.

7. The result of this examination was not satisfactory. The marks obtained by almost all the candidates were low in the aggregate, and a scrutiny of the details showed no marked proficiency in any single subject After a careful consideration of the papers set at this examination and the marks obtained, the Lieutenant-Governor came to the conclusion that the only candidate who showed such proficiency as would justify his selection for appointment as a Sub-Deputy Collector was Babu Kunja Behari Gossami, B.L.; he was therefore appointed on the 2nd June last. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets his inability to appoint any of the others. As several of the candidates for Deputy Magistrate-Collectorships who had obtained upwards of one-third marks, but who have not been selected to be probationers for the Provincial Service, showed considerable proficiency, the Lieutenant-Governor has decided to select three of them to be appointed at once temporary Sub-Deputy Collectors, and eight to be probationers in training for Sub-Deputy Collectorships on Rs. 30 per mensem.

8. The three gentlemen who have accepted the offer of appointment as temporary Sub-Deputy Collectors are—

1. Babu Annada Churn Gupta, B.A.
2. Babu Lalit Charn Das Gupta, B.A.
3. Babu Ashutosh Chatterjea, M.A.

In addition to these in order to fill up two other vacancies, His Honour promotes two canungoes, the first of whom passed the Native Civil Service Examination in class II in 1874, to be temporary Sub-Deputy Collectors:—

1. Babu Rajani Kanta Mukerjea, now employed at Kandi, Murshidabad.
2. Mr. T. F. Carter, now employed at Bankipur.

The eight gentlemen selected to be probationers for Sub-Deputy Collectorships, who have accepted the offer of these posts, are—

1. Babu Kedar Nath Banerjea.
2. „ Jotindra Mohan Sinha, B.A.
3. „ Akshoy Kumar Sen, B.A.
4. „ Suresa Chunder Sarkar, M.A.
5. Babu Brajendra Nath Roy, B.A.
6. „ Grish Chunder Dutt, B.A.
7. „ Narendra Kumar Choudhury, B.L.
8. Babu Nisikanta Chattopadhya, B.A.

Orders posting these gentlemen as temporary Sub-Deputy Collectors and probationers will be issued separately.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h. 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder; ≏, dew.

In the weekly report from 21st to 27th June 1891 read "85·4" for "5·4" as the mean temperature of the 27th June 1891.

Explanation.—..... indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 21st July 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 18TH OF JULY 1891.

At the close of the previous week a very slight area of low pressure had developed near Saugor Island, and this was accompanied by a distinct though feeble cyclonic circulation of winds, while over the remainder of the province a fairly strong easterly and south-easterly wind current was reported. On the 12th a very rapid increase of pressure had taken place, the increase equalling 0·16" to 0·18" and being smallest in Orissa. The area of minimum pressure therefore retreated southward from Saugor Island to Pooree and Gopalpore, round which there was again a feeble cyclonic circulation while easterly winds were blowing over the whole of Bengal. Fairly general rain was reported on this day in Orissa and the southern parts of Chutia Nagpur, but over the remainder of the province local showers only were received. The pressure changes on the 13th were very small, and the general distribution remained unaltered, while the winds also had undergone little change; but on this day rainfall became rather more general in South-West Bengal, though the falls in East and North Bengal, in Behar, and in Chutia Nagpur remained very light and local. On the 14th a rapid fall of pressure set in which was largest in the north of the province and smallest in Orissa, so that the area of low pressure over Orissa disappeared, and the lowest pressures were reported from the normal position in the west of Behar. With this changed pressure distribution winds became more southerly over the southern part of the province, though they still remained strongly easterly at the northern stations. On this day fairly general though light rain was received in Orissa and South-West Bengal and rather less general rain in East and North Bengal, but Behar and Chutia Nagpur continued almost rainless. On the 15th pressure had again fallen rapidly over the whole province, the fall being largest at the south-eastern stations, and pressure became largely in defect, particularly at the eastern and northern stations. With this new distribution of pressure westerly winds commenced to blow over Orissa, Chutia Nagpur, and the west of Behar, partially driving back the moist easterly current which was previously blowing, and on this date the rainfall reported in Orissa, South-West Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur was light and local, but in East and North Bengal and North Behar heavier and more frequent falls were received. On the 16th pressure continued to fall in South-East and East Bengal, though it was rising elsewhere, and on this day there was a feeble but distinct low-pressure area formed, represented by such stations as Dacca, Mymensingh, Bogra, and Berhampore. The westerly and south-westerly winds on the 16th had extended over South Bengal, but to the north of the feeble depression winds were south-easterly and easterly. Conditions were hence much more favourable for rainfall, and on the 16th general and rather heavy rain was registered in South-West, East, and North Bengal, North Behar, Chutia Nagpur, and parts of South Behar, though Orissa was almost rainless. On the 17th there was a rather rapid increase of pressure, the rise being largest over the area previously occupied by the feeble depression, which hence practically filled up. Conditions, however, were still favourable for rainfall, and on the 17th general and fairly heavy rain was reported from all districts except Orissa. On the 18th, or the last day of the week, the changes of pressure were small, and the previous distribution remained practically unaltered, and the general pressure distribution was fairly normal; winds were more or less westerly in Orissa and Chutia Nagpur, but in other districts they were usually south-easterly and easterly. Again fairly general rain was reported on the 18th in South-West and North Bengal, in Behar, and in Chutia Nagpur, while the falls were less general in East Bengal, and, as before, Orissa was to a great extent rainless.

Conditions, therefore, have generally been of light monsoon character throughout the week, and fairly good rain has fallen on about three or four days out of the seven over the whole province. In most districts the falls have been moderate in amount, the only exception being in Orissa, where on the whole falls have been decidedly light and only about half the normal amounts.

Pressure—Has varied considerably during the week, though the variations have to a considerable extent neutralized each other. For the whole week, therefore, the mean pressure has not been very far removed from the normal, and the variations usually do not exceed one or two-hundredths of an inch. At the majority of stations pressure has been in defect of the normal, but at almost a fifth of the stations very slight excess pressures have been registered.

Temperature.—The variations of temperature during the week have not been very large, and they have mainly followed the variations in the amount of rainfall. In Orissa, in South-West and East Bengal, in South Behar and in Chutia Nagpur, the mean temperature for the week has been very slightly in excess of the normal, but the largest excess only equals three-tenths of a degree. In North Bengal and North Behar temperature has been in defect, the deficiency in North Bengal being very slight, though in North Behar it equals 1·1°. For the whole province of Bengal the mean temperature for the week has been almost absolutely normal. In Assam for the week a defect of 0·5° has been registered.

Rainfall.—The daily rainfall has already been referred to in detail under the general description of the weather. Fairly general rain was received in Orissa on the first three or four days of the week, but during this period the rainfall in the other divisions was lighter and more local. In South-West Bengal rainfall was most general on the 13th and 14th and from the 16th to the 18th. In East Bengal rainfall principally occurred between the 14th and 17th, and in North Bengal from the 14th to the 18th. In Behar the falls have been rather less frequent, and they have generally occurred from the 16th to the 18th, and in Chutia Nagpur many falls occurred on the 12th and from the 15th to the 18th. Speaking generally, falls have occurred on about three or on three to four days in the week in all the divisions of the province. Heavy falls have also occurred at some stations, and amounts in excess of five inches in a single day have been received at Murarai in the Beerbhoom district (5·13 inches), Fenny (6·20 inches), Cox's Bazar (5·62 inches), Cooch Behar (5·16 inches), Matabhanga (5·07 inches), Debigunge (7 13 inches), Alipore Dooar (7·70 inches), Pupri (6 inches), Jhalda (5·30 inches), and Chakradharpore in the Singbhoom district (9·46 inches). Falls in a single day in excess of three and four inches have been very numerous.

The average rainfall at the various stations in Chutia Nagpur and North Bengal has been between three and three and-a-half-inches, and in South-West and East Bengal and in Behar between about two and two and-a-half inches, while in Orissa the average fall has been rather less than one and-a-half inches. These figures represent a moderate excess above the normal rainfall in Chutia Nagpur, and an almost normal fall in North Bengal and Behar; in South-West Bengal the fall is slightly in defect, and in East Bengal more largely in defect, the deficiency equalling about a fourth of the normal fall. In Orissa the defect has again been very large, as it was in the previous week, and here the fall has been less than half the usual amount for the week.

In the case of the districts in these larger divisions, all those in Orissa, and also the 24-Pergunnahs, Howrah, Hooghly, Bankoora, Chittagong Hill Tracts, Darjeeling, Purneah, Comilla, and Dacca districts have shown rather large defects throughout the week.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 18th of July 1891:—

MEMORANDUM.

Report on the Monthly Statistics of Deaths registered in forty-five districts of Bengal for the month of April 1891.

THE total number of deaths registered in forty-five districts of Bengal during the month of April 1891 amounted to 161,980, against 138,260 in April 1890, and an average of 133,312 in the corresponding months of the previous five years (1886—90). These figures yield a death-rate of 29·52, 25·08, and 24·24 per 1,000, respectively, of the aggregate population of those districts, which is 65,859,534. The death-rate of April 1891 is 5·28 higher than the mean rate of the corresponding months of the past five years 1886—90, and is also higher than the rate of the corresponding period of any of the past five years with which comparison is instituted, vide the figures below:—

	April 1886.	April 1887.	April 1888.	April 1889.	April 1890.	Monthly average of five years 1886—90.	April 1891.
Number of deaths	114,795	125,353	130,859	157,301	138,260	133,312	161,980
Ratio per mille per annum	20 88	22·80	23·76	28·56	25·08	24 24	29 52

The death-rate during April 1891, as will be seen from the following table, is less than that during the preceding month, but greater than that during the first two months of the year:—

Months.	Number of deaths.	Ratio per mille.
January 1891	143,492	26·04
February ,, ...	137,553	24·96
March ,, ...	168,185	30·60
April ,, ...	161,980	29·52

Of the total deaths, 86,954 (31·92 per 1,000 per annum) occurred among the male population and 75,026 (ratio 27·12 per 1,000 per annum) among the female. As usual the registered results were, on the whole, greater among the male than among the female population, or relatively 118 males died to every 100 females, calculated on the proportion such mortality bears to the total male and female population.

The following table shows the highest proportions of deaths registered during the month of April 1891, arranged in order of sequence and compared with the mortality of the corresponding month of 1890:—

Districts.	Ratio per mille during— April 1891.	April 1890.	Districts.	Ratio per mille during— April 1891.	April 1890.
Julpaiguri	108 84	41·52	Nonkhali	30·48	32·64
Purneah	96 72	29·76	Backerganj	30 00	27·72
Rungpore	81·00	28 56	Pubna	29·64	27·72
Darjiling	55·20	49·56	Rajshahye	29 52	32·04
Dinajpur	49 92	25 56	Burdwan	29·28	24·24
Nuddea	46·44	18 72	Faridpore	29·04	25·80
Bogra	36·96	26·52	Serampore	28·92	27·24
Bhagulpore	35·04	45·36	Midnapore	27·96	22 68
Maldah	34·56	31 08	Jessore	27·24	29·88
Manbhum	34 56	23·76	Hughli	26 88	28·44
Bankura	33·60	26·88	Hazaribagh	25 08	30·24
Murshedabad	30·72	23·28

The maximum death-rate was recorded in Julpaiguri, 108·84 per mille per annum, and the minimum in Chumparun 12·24. Next to Julpaiguri come Purneah (96·72) and Rungpore (81·) with high death-rates. The high death-rates in these three districts are attributable to an excessive prevalence of cholera. In Julpaiguri 3,201 deaths from cholera were registered out of a total of 5,285, in Purneah 10,730 out of a total of 14,911, and in Rungpore 9,609 out of a total of 14,164. Judging by the results shown in the statement appended to this memorandum, the registration of deaths would appear to be very defective in the districts—Chumparun (12·24), Mozufferpore (13 80), Saran (16·08), Gya (17 16), Singbhum (17·64), Durbhanga (18·00), Patna (18·12), and Tipperah (18·96), where the statistics were so imperfectly recorded that the ratio was less than 20 per 1,000 of population.

The total mortality during the month under review from the several registered death-causes is compared in the following table with the mortality from those causes in the corresponding month of 1890 and the average of the previous five years 1886—90:—

	Ratio per mille during— April 1891.	April 1890.	Monthly average of five years 1886—90.
Cholera	8 04	3·00	3·84
Small-pox	·24	·36	·12
Fever	16·80	17 64	16 08
Dysentery and diarrhœa	·48	·60	·72
Injury	·24	·24	·24
Other causes	3·24	3·00	3·00

It will be seen that the death-rate of April 1891 under the head Cholera is considerably higher than in the two past periods with which it is compared, but as compared with April 1890 there is a slight diminution in the mortality of April 1891 under the head Fever.

Cholera caused 44,769 deaths (ratio 8·04 per mille per annum) against 26,773 (ratio 4·80) in the month previous. The disease was prevalent in all the districts, and was mostly felt in Purneah, Julpaiguri, and Rungpore where the mortality rates were 69·60, 65·88 and 54·96 per mille per annum respectively. The next highest rate occurred in Nuddea 24·60, then in Dinajpur 18·36, Bogra 14·16, Faridpore 10·92, Maldah 8·76, Bhagulpore 8·64, Murshedabad 8·16, Dacca 6·84, Pubna 6·48, Mymensing 5·76, Burdwan 5·16, Birbhum, Rajshahye and Darjiling 3·96 each, Backerganj 3·84, Jessore 3·60, Tipperah and Shahabad 3·48 each, Hughli 3·12 Midnapore 2·76, Manbhum 2·64, 24-Pergunnahs 2·52, Bankura and Serampore 2·16 each, and Khulna 2·04.

The deaths from small-pox numbered 1,926 (ratio ·24 per mille per annum) against 2,507 (ratio ·36) in the preceding month. The greatest sufferers were Midnapore 2·76, Cuttack 2·28, and Chittagong 1·20. Seven districts, viz., Birbhum, Rajshahye, Pubna, Darjiling, Bhagulpore, Maldah and Manbhum, enjoyed perfect immunity from the pest.

Fever proved fatal in 92,474 instances (ratio 16·80 per 1,000 of population per annum) and dysentery and diarrhœa in 3,078 (ratio ·48) against 110,802 (ratio 20·16) and 3,989 (ratio ·72), respectively, in the month before. Every district returned deaths from both ailments. The highest fever death-rate occurred in Julpaiguri 41·28 per mille per annum, and the lowest in Poori 5·04. Darjiling stands next to Julpaiguri with the highest fever death-rate of 39·60, followed by Dinajpur 29·28, Noakhali 26·28, Purneah and Manbhum 26·04 each, Maldah 24·12, Rungpore 23·40, Rajshahye 22·92, Bhagulpore 22·20, Pubna 21·96, Jessore 21·36 and Birbhum 20·16. Darjiling returned the highest death-rate from dysentery and diarrhœa 3·84, and the lowest ·02 occurred in Khulna. Next to Darjiling Howrah suffered most from dysentery and diarrhœa with a death-rate of 3·60 per mille, followed by Balasore 3·36 and Serampore 3·

Injury caused 1,930 deaths (ratio ·24 per mille per annum) against 1,384 (ratio ·24) in the previous month, and the deaths from all other causes not specified amounted to 17,803 (ratio 3·24 per mille per annum) against 22,730 (ratio 4·08) in preceding month. Poori returned the highest death-rate from the unspecified diseases coming under the head "Other causes," viz., 13·32 per mille per annum.

The death-rates among the five principal classes of the community, which comprise the population of the Bengal Provinces, viz., Mahomedans, Hindus, Other classes, Buddhists, and Christians, arranged in order from highest to lowest, compared with the mortality-rate among these classes in the corresponding month of 1890, are given in the following statement:—

	Ratio per mille during—
	April 1891.	April 1890.
Mahomedans	32·04	25·20
Hindus	28·44	25·32
Other classes	23·40	20·16
Buddhists	20·88	15·96
Christians	16·32	11·40

With regard to Age, infants (under one year), as usual, perished in the largest numbers, 179·40 per 1,000 of population per annum; next came old persons (60 years and upwards) with a death-rate of 63·48 per 1,000. The lowest death-rate occurred between the ages of 10 and under 15 years, 15·84 per 1,000.

Detailed information regarding the mortuary statistics of the forty-five districts of Bengal during the month under review will be found in the statement appended.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

Bombay Castle, the 24th July 1891.

No. 2637.—In exercise of the power conferred by Act I of 1870, the following Rules for Quarantine against Cholera have been made by the Government of Bombay with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council: they have effect from the 18th instant in the Ports of Aden, Perim, and the Somali Coast as a temporary measure:—

I.—The commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft arriving from the Arabian Coast of the Red Sea between Tor and Cape Babelmandeb shall, before entering the harbour, indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come.

II.—Such commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.

III.—Immediately on arrival the commander shall cause the letter R of the Commercial Signal Code to be hoisted, and shall keep the said flag flying during his stay in port or until authorized by the Health Officer to haul it down. If communication with the shore is not desired, the vessel shall anchor at such place as may be pointed out by the Port authorities, having regard to the season of the year. If communication with the shore is desired, the Health Officer shall go alongside the vessel, and, after all necessary enquiries, shall direct the commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage duly appointed and notified in that behalf by the Resident, there to remain for a period of seven days from the date of arrival, or for the shorter period prescribed in Rule IV, and undergo disinfection, which should apply as well to crew, passengers, effects, and suspectible goods.

IV.—If the Health Officer of the Port has sufficient evidence that no cases of a suspicious nature have taken place on board during the voyage, and if the vessel is, besides, in good hygienic condition, the duration of the quarantine will be diminished according to the following scale:—

After eight days of voyage		...	...	Six days of quarantine.
Do. nine	ditto	...	...	Five ditto.
Do. ten	ditto	...	...	Four ditto.
Do. eleven	ditto	...	...	Three ditto.
Do. twelve	ditto	...	...	Two ditto.
Do. thirteen	ditto and upwards		...	Twenty-four hours of quarantine.

V.—If during the period a vessel is at the quarantine anchorage aforesaid any case or cases of cholera should occur on board, the said vessel shall remain in quarantine for a period of seven days from the date of the last case occurring, and be subject to all the prohibitions provided for in Rule III.

VI.—When any vessel has been placed in quarantine as aforesaid, the Health Officer may direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from illness, and whose services may not be required on board the vessel, to such particular spots as may from time to time be selected by the Resident as places of quarantine, there to remain for a period of seven days. If a case of cholera occurs among such passengers and crew during any such period, they shall remain in a place of quarantine for a period of fifteen days from the date of the occurrence of the last case of such illness.

VII.—Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as the Health Officer may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

VIII.—It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to all vessels in quarantine of such supplies of provisions, stores, and other articles as may be required by those on board. Such supplies will be placed on the boats of the vessels in quarantine, to be subsequently removed by members of their crews.

IX.—All vessels arriving at Aden, Perim, and the Somali Coast, which may have communicated with vessels coming from the Arabian Coast of the Red Sea between Tor and Cape Babelmandeb shall be subjected to the same quarantine as vessels arriving at Aden, Perim, and the Somali Coast from the Arabian Coast of the Red Sea between Tor and Cape Babelmandeb.

X.—All vessels which have undergone quarantine in the manner above prescribed should have the fact clearly stated on their bills-of-health.

J. M. McNEILE, Col., R.E.,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Rules for the Medical Inspection of Vessels at the Port of Chittagong.

Rule I.—The master of every in-coming vessel, on board of which there is either among the passengers or crew any case of cholera, small-pox, measles, or other epidemic disease common in India, or of diptheria, or scarlatina, or if two or more deaths from unknown or suspicious causes have occurred on the voyage, shall report such case or cases to the pilot or other boarding officer at the first opportunity, and shall hoist a signal, which shall be during the day Flag R of the Commercial Code at the main, and during night two white lights, one over the other, at the fore, and the pilot or other boarding officer shall at once report the occurrence of the disease or death to the Port Officer.

Rule II.—The Port Officer on receiving information that a vessel having small-pox on board has reached Juldiha shall at once communicate the information to the Health Officer of the Port and the District Superintendent of Police, with a view to obtain the services of vaccinators with a supply of lymph in sufficient time to commence the necessary vaccine operation immediately after the ship's arrival, and to obtain the assistance of the police for removing cases of small-pox on the ship's arrival to hospital.

Rule III.—The District Superintendent of Police, as early as possible after receipt of this information, shall instruct the Port Police Constable to place himself in communication with the Health Officer of the Port to receive such instruction as that officer may consider to be necessary for the efficient operation of these rules, and for the removal of the sick to hospital.

Rule IV.—The Health Officer, as early as possible after the arrival of the vessel in port, shall inspect it, and more especially its sanitary condition, shall enquire into the circumstances attending the case or cases of the said disease, shall arrange for the conveyance of all persons suffering from such disease to a hospital, unless such person, if suffering from a disease other than small-pox, or his friends, can make adequate provision elsewhere, and shall also arrange for the disposal of the dead, if any, if the friends are not able to make suitable arrangements or are unwilling to carry them out.

Rule V.—Where the disease or diseases in question, other than small-pox, is or are limited to one or two cases, the vessel shall not be prohibited from taking up the usual place of anchorage in the port, nor shall the passengers be detained on board pending the inspection of the Health Officer; but the master of the vessel shall be held responsible that no passenger suspected of having such disease is allowed to depart before this inspection.

Rule VI.—Where cases other than small-pox have been more numerous than two, or when from their occurring on a pilgrim or emigrant ship, or for other special reasons, further precaution may be deemed advisable, the vessel shall anchor at Juldiha, and none of the passengers shall be allowed to leave until the Health Officer has made his inspection.

Rule VII.—In case of small-pox (even on the occurrence of one case only) the vessel shall anchor at Juldiha, and none of the passengers or crew shall be allowed to leave until the Health Officer of the Port has made his inspection and given permission. It shall be the duty of the Health Officer of the Port to vaccinate or have vaccinated all persons who appear to require this protection and are willing to accept it, and to arrange with the police for the removal to hospital of all affected persons after their bodies have been anointed with carbolised oil or other disinfectant.

Rule VIII.—Vessels coming under these last two rules shall be thoroughly cleansed and disinfected in the manner provided by the rules made under the Indian Ports Act, 1889.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 16th July 1891:

No. 10 of 1891.

A Bill to validate certain marriages solemnized under Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872.

WHEREAS provision is made in Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, for the solemnization of marriages between persons of whom both are Native Christians, but not of marriages between persons of whom one only is a Native Christian; XV of 1872.

And whereas persons licensed under section 9 of the said Act have in divers parts of British India, through ignorance of the law, permitted marriages to be solemnized in their presence under the said Part between persons of whom one is a Native Christian and the other is not a Native Christian;

And whereas it is expedient that such marriages, having been solemnized in good faith, should be validated;

It is hereby enacted as follows:

Commencement.

1. This Act shall come into force at once.

Validation of irregular marriages. XV of 1872.

3 All marriages which have already been solemnized under Part VI of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872 or which may within three months after the commencement of this Act be solemnized under that Part between persons of whom one only was or shall have been a Native Christian, shall be as good and valid in law as if such marriages had been solemnized between persons of whom both were Native Christians.

Validation of records of irregular marriages

4. Certificates of marriages which are declared by the last foregoing section to be good and valid in law and register-books, and certified copies of true and duly authenticated extracts therefrom, deposited in compliance with the law for the time being in force, in so far as the register-books and extracts relate to such marriages as aforesaid, shall be received as evidence of such marriages as if such marriages had been solemnized between persons of whom both were Native Christians.

Application of Act to marriages under Act V of 1865.

5. References in this Act to the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, shall, so far as may be requisite, be construed as applying also to the corrresponding portions of the Indian Marriage Act, 1865. XV of V of Penalty for solemnizing irregular marriages.

6. If any person licensed under section 9 of the said Act to grant certificates of marriage between Native Christians shall at any time after the passing of this Act solemnize or affect to solemnize any marriage under Part VI of the said Act or grant any such certificate as therein mentioned, knowing that one of the parties to such marriage or affected marriage was at the date of such solemnization not a Christian, he shall be liable to have his license cancelled, and in addition thereto he shall be deemed to have been guilty of an offence prohibited by section 73 of the said Act, and shall be punishable accordingly.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE objects and reasons of this Bill are set forth in its preamble. Marriages between persons who are Christians and persons who are not Christians must be solemnized under some other Part of the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, than Part VI.

Details and position of a dangerous reef.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 278 of 1891) of the following details on the dangerous reef indicated on the charts off the north-east point of Penrhyn (Tongareva or Mangorongoro) island.

The reef extends for about 5 miles seaward. For the first 2 miles from the point the sea breaks heavily on the reef, then there is a channel about 1½ miles wide, in which the lead gave no bottom at 25 fathoms, and seaward of the channel there is a rocky patch, about 2 or 3 cables in extent, on which the sea breaks heavily in places.

The exact position of this reef with regard to the island is still doubtful.

REPORT ON THE LEGAL AFFAIRS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1890-91.

RESOLUTION.

JUDICIAL.

Dated Yacht "Rhotas," the 23rd July 1891.

READ—

The Report on the Legal Affairs of the Government of Bengal for the year 1890-91.

Read also—

The Reports for the two preceding years, and the orders of Government thereon.

Out of 4 appeal cases pending before the Privy Council at the close of the year 1889-90, only one was decided, the decision being against the Durbhunga Municipality as the respondent. One case was remanded to the first court for trial. No fresh appeal was instituted before the Privy Council during 1890-91.

2. The following statement shows the result of Government litigation in all the Civil Courts during the year 1890-91 as compared with the two previous years:—

	Original cases.			Appeals. Before High Court.			Appeals. Before Lower Courts.			Total.
	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.
Decided in favour of Government	289	254	243	23	50	23	26	44	45	338	348	311
Decided against Government	136	51	65	...	1	3	19	6	7	155	58	75
Compromised, remanded or withdrawn	55	30	37	...	5	1	2	4	1	57	39	39
Percentage in favour of Government (omitting fractions)	60	83	79	100	90	88	89	89	87	79	86	81

3. Taking the litigation in the High Court only, the percentage of cases decided in favour of Government decreased from 98 to 88. No explanation is given for this decrease. Of the three cases shown as decided against Government, two were for chur lands lying on the shores of the Bay of Bengal in the district of Backergunge. The question involved in the third case was concerning the currency of the settlement with a certain estate in Cuttack. In the Lower Appellate Courts the percentage of cases decided in favour of Government was 87 as against 88 in the previous year. There was only one important case decided against Government, in which the question at issue was the liability of the Eastern Bengal State Railway for silver coins and notes alleged to have been stolen in transit. The matter is now before the High Court on second appeal. The result of Government litigation in the Courts of First Instance was not favourable, there being a falling off in the proportion of cases decided in favour of Government from 83 to 79. Of the 65 cases decided against Government, 32 were land acquisition cases, in which the Collector's awards were slightly varied by the Judges on reference. Apart from these cases, the percentage in favour of Government would be 77 against 82 in 1889-90 and 65 in 1888-89.

4. The subjoined table shows the result of the litigation in which the Court of Wards was concerned in 1890-91 as compared with the two previous years:—

	Original cases.			Appeals. Before High Court.			Appeals. Before Lower Courts.			Total.
	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.
In favour of Court of Wards	745	514	628	11	14	15	62	56	68	818	584	711
Against Court of Wards	82	49	75	4	...	6	24	13	16	110	62	97
Compromised, remanded or withdrawn	33	42	21	..	2	3	10	10	6	43	54	30
Percentage in favour of Court of Wards (omitting fractions.)	90	91	89	73	100	71	73	81	81	88	90	88

The increase in the litigation is more apparent than real. It is explained that, as there was a considerable arrear at the close of 1889-90, the courts decided a greater number of cases in 1890-91 than in the preceding year. Of the six cases in the High Court decided adversely to the Court of Wards, only one calls for notice, viz., that in which the childless widow of a Midnapur zemindar, before making the adoption of the minor, had borrowed a sum of Rs. 20,000 at 18 per cent. compound interest, with half-yearly rests. A demand of Rs. 58,652 was subsequently made against the estate, but as the widow denied that she had any knowledge of the terms of the loan, the demand was resisted by the Court of Wards. The Subordinate Judge who heard the case gave a decision for the plaintiffs, which was, on appeal, confirmed by the High Court, though as the Legal Remembrancer points out, in another case of the same nature the Court had refused to allow, as against the minor's estate, higher interest than 12 per cent., the judgment being upheld by the Privy Council (I. L. R. XVIII Cal,, 315). In 14 out of the 16 unsuccessful appeals in the Lower Appellate Courts, and in 70 out of the 75 original suits shown as decided against the Court of Wards, no reference was made to the Legal Remembrancer. It is explained that these were chiefly rent suits or settlement appeals, or suits for recovery of arrears of rent or dâk cess or bond debts. Out of the 628 original suits shown as decided in favour of the Court of Wards, upwards of 400 appear to have been instituted by the Managers on their own responsibility.

5. The following table shows the amount of Government decrees recovered during 1890-91 as compared with the two previous years:—

	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Amount under realization	67,540	55,247	61,231
Realized during the year	30,281	11,659	14,790
Percentage of recovery	44⅝	21⅛	24$\frac{5}{10}$

The realizations during the year show a slight improvement as compared with the previous year, but are still far from satisfactory. Nearly Rs. 5,000 were remitted during the year. The largest outstanding balances are due from Bankoora (Rs. 5,999), Tipperah (Rs. 4,607), Chittagong (Rs. 2,562) and Balasore (Rs. 6,935).

6. The following figures show the amount of Wards' decrees recovered during the year as compared with the two previous years :—

		1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Amount under realization	...	13,94,090	11,74,880	11,92,016
Realized during the year	...	2,68,027	2,15,720	1,54,504
Percentage of recovery	...	19¼	18¼	13

The percentage of recovery shows a serious falling off from 18¼ to 13 which will be brought to the notice of the Board of Revenue through the Revenue Department. There was a large outstanding balance at the close of the last official year on account of the Nurhan Estate in the Durbhunga district. It is said that the Manager has not submitted his annual statement, although he has been repeatedly asked for it. The Revenue Department will be requested to take such notice of his conduct as may be deemed proper. The marginally noted estates show the balances specified against each. Out of the amount due from the Burdwan Raj Estate upwards of Rs. 40,000 are barred by limitation, and will have to be written off. In a great many cases the debtors are said to have no property.

	Rs.
Burdwan Raj Estate	2,75,382
Tikait Estate	1,81,569
Dighaputia Estate (eldest ward)	51,982
Ditto do. (three younger wards)	99,113

Explanation.—..... indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 28th July 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 25TH OF JULY 1891.

At the close of the previous week ordinary monsoon weather prevailed in all districts, and light to moderate rain was general in all divisions except Orissa, where it was rather local. On the 19th, or the first day of the present week, pressure had fallen by moderate amounts over the whole province, the fall being largest in parts of South-West Bengal and in Orissa, and a feeble low-pressure area was formed over the north-west angle of the Bay with the lowest pressure at Saugor Island. Winds also showed a distinct tendency to circulate cyclonically round a centre near Saugor Island. Light rainfall only was reported on this day, and was confined almost entirely to Orissa, South-West Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur, the remainder of the province being almost rainless. On the 20th pressure had again fallen by small amounts, the fall being largest in South-West Bengal and Behar, and the area of lowest pressure had advanced to Balasore, while winds again showed a feeble cyclonic circulation round a centre between Balasore and Midnapore. Again the rainfall, which was only light to moderate in amount, was practically confined to the area affected by the slight depression, that is, to Orissa, South-West Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur, the remainder of the province being almost rainless. On the 21st pressure had risen moderately over the whole province, the increase being largest over the area previously occupied by the feeble depression in South-West Bengal, which with its attendant feeble cyclonic circulation of winds had practically disappeared on this day. Again on the 21st light showers only were reported in parts of South-West, East and North Bengal, and in Chutia Nagpur, while the remainder of the province was practically rainless. On the 22nd pressure had fallen at Calcutta, Saugor Island, and a few other stations, while over the province generally pressure was rising, and thus pressure was in defect of the normal over parts of South-West Bengal and Orissa by 0·03″ to 0·05,″ while over the greater part of the province it was in excess. The low-pressure area near the north-west angle of the Bay had therefore on this day again reproduced itself, and winds as before commenced to show a tendency to cyclonic circulation round this area, though the wind force was light. On the 22nd moderate rain was reported in Assam and at some of the stations in North Bengal, while light and local rain had fallen in South Bengal, but elsewhere it was almost rainless. On the 23rd pressure had risen by moderate amounts in all districts except part of the south-west of the province. Pressure therefore remained below the normal in South-West Bengal, particularly over the area represented by Balasore, Midnapore, Saugor Island, and False Point, and the low pressure over this area was a little more marked than on the previous day. The cyclonic wind circulation in connection with the low-pressure area continued, but winds were still light. Rainfall on this day was a little irregular, and it was general in Assam and in South-West, East and North Bengal, while a few scattered showers only fell in Orissa and Behar; Chutia Nagpur being almost rainless. On the 24th pressure had fallen by about one or two-hundredths of an inch, and the feeble low-pressure area in South-West Bengal and over the north-west angle of the Bay became, if anything, a little more marked than it had been. The feeble cyclonic circulation of winds continued, the centre of the circulation on the 24th being between Calcutta, Midnapore, and Saugor Island; but winds were still only light to moderate in force. General rain was reported from all districts except parts of Orissa and Behar, and conditions on the 24th appeared to be more favourable generally for rainfall. On the morning of the 25th very rapid meteorological changes had occurred. The feeble depression over South-West Bengal and part of the north-west angle of the Bay, accompanied by the distinct cyclonic circulation of winds which had existed for the whole of the week except on the 21st, developed suddenly and rather rapidly, and on the 25th a very definite and rather influential barometric depression had been produced, the centre of which was over the Sunderbuns to the east of Saugor Island. The fall of pressure at Saugor Island and Calcutta equalled about 0·13,″ and the very low pressure of 29·35″ was reported from Saugor Island, which was no less than 0·172″ below the normal. The cyclonic circulation of winds had become very complete, and the wind directions over the greater part of the province were included in this circulation, while wind velocities ran up very rapidly, and strong winds were reported on the morning of the 25th at many stations, while over the northern part of the Bay on this day very squally weather and very strong winds obtained. In consequence of the existence of this storm and of the bad weather in the Bay, the "Cautionary" storm signals were hoisted at the signal stations in the river and in the port of Calcutta. Rainfall on the 25th was reported generally over the whole province, and at some stations, particularly in Orissa, where most stations registered falls in excess of two and three inches, decidedly heavy falls were received. Conditions therefore were very decidedly disturbed at the end of the week, and with the inland advance of the small storm in a north-westerly direction, such as usually happens at this season of the year, conditions would become favourable for general and rather heavy rain over the province. For the week under review, however, the general conditions have only been of light monsoon character except perhaps in Orissa, where heavy rain fell at the end of the week.

Pressure—Has been low almost throughout the week over the south-western districts of the province, and at such stations as Saugor Island, Balasore, Midnapore, and False Point, the mean pressure has been in defect of the normal by about 0·06″ to 0·07.″

From this centre of comparatively low pressure, the defects gradually decrease in amount towards the north and east of the province, and at the northern stations the mean pressure has been almost normal, while at some in North Bengal even a slight excess has been registered. For the whole province of Bengal the defect has equalled about 0·02″ or 0·03.″ In Assam a mean defect of 0·013″ has been registered.

Temperature.—Owing to the comparative lightness of the rainfall, the mean temperature of the province of Bengal has been nearly a degree in excess of the normal. The largest excess temperatures have been registered in Chutia Nagpur and South Behar, where they equal from one and-a-half to two degrees; while, on the other hand, in Orissa temperature has been almost normal. In Assam a defect of 0·3° has been registered.

Rainfall—Has been received on from three to four days in the week in Orissa, Chutia Nagpur, and South-West and East Bengal, and on about two days over the remainder of the province. On the whole, rainfall has been distinctly less frequent than it should have been in normal years by perhaps about one-fourth of the usual number of days. The falls have also in all districts except Orissa been lighter than usual, and the only district which has received a fall in excess of the normal amount has been Orissa. In this district the average rainfall for the week has equalled 4·05 inches, which is about 26 per cent. in excess of the normal. It will, however, be remembered that up to this time the defects in Orissa have been extremely large, and from the 15th of May up to the date of this report the rainfall in Orissa has been about 9 inches in defect of the normal, or the actual fall has been little more than three-fifths the usual amount. The average divisional falls in South-West, East and North Bengal, in South Behar, and in Chutia Nagpur, have been from one to about one and-a-half inches, representing defects of from one to two inches; so that the falls generally have been considerably less than half the normal amounts. The defect in North Behar, however, is still larger than this, for the average fall is only 0·45 inch, or about one-sixth of the usual amount. The rainfall of the week has been therefore on the whole very largely below the normal amount, though, on the other hand, the number of rainy days has been in moderate defect only; so that the defect is mainly due to the unusual lightness of the showers rather than to the absence of showers.

Taking up the case of the smaller districts, the following districts have received largely defective rainfalls:—Beerbhoom and West Burdwan, Moorshedabad, Chittagong, Chittagong Hill Tracts, Backergunge, Furreedpore, Dacca, Mymensingh, Bogra, Pubna, Dinagepore, Purneah, Mozufferpore, Durbhanga, Sarun, Chumparun, Shahabad, and Patna; while North Bhagulpore, as represented by such stations as Soopool, Protapgunge, and Muddapore, has been almost rainless.

In Assam during the week Silchar has received 3·03 inches, Sibsagar 1·82 inches, and Dhubri only 0·26 inch of rain.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h. 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.
